MAYOR ANNOUNCES "SAVE OUR SENIORS" HOUSING INITIATIVE

Mayor Thomas M. Menino announced the Save Our Seniors Housing Initiative on December 11, a joint program involving the City of Boston and the Rental Housing Association. The program is meant to control costs for some elderly tenants who will be affected by the abolishment of rent control by setting aside affordable housing units for those who meet criteria. Mayor Menino considers today the kickoff for the Initiative and hopes that additional property owners will agree to participate in the months ahead.

Property owners have agreed to set aside 168 units during the period January 1, to April 30, 1996, for senior citizens in various areas of the city: 8 units in Allston/Brighton, 23 in Fenway/Back Bay, 15 in the South End, 5 in Chinatown/Downtown, 12 in East Boston, 2 in South Boston, 13 in Charlestown, 9 in Roxbury, 2 in Mattapan, 10 in Jamaica Plain, 24 in Dorchester and 45 in Hyde Park/West Roxbury.

Eligible applicants for this program are elderly families earning 80 percent or less of median income, who are currently living in 1-3-family buildings, 4-12-unit owner-occupied buildings, or condominiums, who are displaced by the phase-in of M.G.L. Chapter 282. Elderly families will make initial application for referral to the Mayor's Housing Advisor. Such initial application shall list gross family income, family size, present address, type of building, and a neighborhood preference.

The Mayor's Housing Advisor will provide the applicant(s) with a certificate of relocation due to public action, and determine if the applicant meets the preliminary criteria. If the criteria is met, then the Mayor's Housing Advisor will forward the application to the Rental Housing Association's housing office which will contact the applicant and provide the applicant with the name and address of available housing in the specific neighborhood. The applicant will then be responsible to make application, meet criteria, and qualify for the housing. Potential applicants can call for more information: 635-4001.

Mayor Menino said, "This program will provide a measure of security for some of our seniors. What the Rental Housing Association has provided is a guarantee that there will be units available for evicted senior citizens who have exhausted other financial options. I'd like to thank the Association for helping us with this program and my hope is that other landlords will be signing on to help this in the months and years ahead."

John Coppola, president of the Rental Housing Association, told reporters, "We consider the Save Our Seniors initiative part of the solution to the rent control crisis. We are also impressed with the Mayor and with his Administration for how they have addressed this issue: proactively."

The Rental Housing Association has 700 members. The group represents property owners throughout Eastern Massachusetts.

On January 1, 1996, Chapter 282 of the Massachusetts General Laws will be implemented, abolishing rent control for residents who reside in 1-3-unit buildings and those in owner-occupied, 4-12-unit buildings.

CITY OF BOSTON ANNOUNCES LOWER TAX RATES

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has announced that the City of Boston's property tax rates for Fiscal Year 1996 have been certified by the Massachusetts Department of Revenue. For residential property, the new tax rate is $13.78 per $1,000 of assessed valuation; for commercial, industrial and personal property, the new rate is $42.59 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. The residential tax rate is eight cents lower than last year's $13.86, while the commercial rate is seven cents lower than last year's $42.66.

Owner-occupants of residential property will again benefit from Residential Exemption. For FY 1996, the exemption value is $30,342 and represents an actual dollar savings $418.11 - $15.50 more than last year. The average tax bill for an owner-occupied home in Boston in FY 1996 is $1,531, an increase of $38 over last year. The new tax rates, Residential Exemption value, the amount of any Personal Exemption a homeowner-occupant received, and the FY 1996 assessed value of each parcel of property will be indicated on the FY 1996 Third Quarter tax bill, to be issued by the Collector-Treasurer at the end of December and payable by February 1. A special insert detailing abatements, exemptions and filing deadlines accompanies this bill.

The total assessed value of taxable property in the City of Boston in FY 1996 is $29.4 billion, an increase of $1.3 billion or 4.5 percent over last year's $28.1 billion. The moderate growth in Boston's tax base follows the complete revaluation of properties conducted in FY 1995, which indicated a similar increase in the tax base and ended what had been three consecutive years of declining FY 1996 assessments are based on fair cash value — the price that a willing buyer will pay to a willing seller when neither party is under compulsion to make the transaction — and have an assessment date January, 1995.

For FY 1996, the tax levy — total amount of revenue derived from the property tax — is $719.5 million, an increase of $29.5 million over FY 1995. The levy increase reflects the growth that is allowed under the strictures of Proposition 1/2. The Mayor viewed the tax bill information as "good news for City," reflecting a continuation of steady growth evidenced last year. "Boston continues to be a great place to live and work." The increase in value is, according

Chief Financial Officer John C. Simmons, "a good indicator of home owner confidence in the City and stability in the local economy." He added that the Menino administration, is "working to ensure both the vitality of our neighborhoods and the city's fiscal strength."

BOSTON COMPANY REACHES OUT WITH $25,000 FOR READING

Mayor Menino receives check for BCH literacy effort

Mayor Thomas M. Menino, on December 12, accepted a $25,000 donation from Mellon Trust/The Boston Company to fund the "Reach Out and Read" program at Boston City Hospital — a Read Boston initiative.

Reach Out and Read is a BCH literacy effort providing volunteer reading, child development and books for parents and children. The program is designed to use the doctor's visit to spark an interest in books and reading among families whose children are at-risk for reading failure.

Mayor Menino said, "There are no limits on when, where and how you begin to prepare a child for reading. This BCH program has great success. I want to thank Mellon Trust/The Boston Company for answering our call to action with such strong support for Reach Out and Read and other literacy efforts that they have adopted. Read Boston is a long-term commitment by our city government, businesses and educators to Boston families, making sure that our children gain the necessary reading skills."

Margaret B. Harrison, vice president for community reinvestment at Mellon Trust/The Boston Company, presented the donation to Mayor Menino. "Mellon Trust/The Boston Company is honored to provide funding for this important literacy program. Our hope is that this donation will help pave the way for a greater number of inner-city children to access the educational opportunities they deserve."

Mellon Trust/The Boston Company's support for Reach Out and Read will provide over a year's supply of children's books for BCH and The Boston HealthNet's community health centers. The donation is part of the company's campaign to support educational initiatives such as Education Pays in Boston schools, Urban Scholars at U. Mass/Boston and the PIC's (Private Industry Council) jobs programs. Employees of Mellon Trust/The Boston Company are also volunteering as readers for the Reach Out and Read and other Read Boston programs.

One of the most alarming statistics about inner city children is that more than 25 percent experience significant reading delays and subsequent school problems. These children are also at increased risk of school failure, with the attendant challenges of low self esteem, teen parenthood, delinquency and substance abuse. Research has shown that children from socially disadvantaged homes are at high risk for reading failure. A recent study by the U.S. Dept. of Education estimated that over 40 million Americans are functionally illiterate. Among adults, there is a correlation between illiteracy and welfare dependency/wages.

BCH's Reach Out and Read programs offer training and resources to pediatricians, residents and nurse practitioners so that they can provide guidance about reading to parents, along with free books for the children. The concept of the program was developed in the Child Development Division of BCH Pediatrics, directed by Dr. Barry Zuckerman.

Reach Out and Read Librarian Cherie Craft and her three-year-old daughter Christian participated in today's presentation. Cherie and her daughter have both participated in the Reach Out and Read program since Christian's birth at BCH.

Pediatricians and nurse practitioners find that the child's medical visit is a special opportunity to prevent early reading failure because:

- children have six pediatric visits scheduled in their first two years and one every six months thereafter;
- both parents and children are a captive audience in clinic waiting rooms for volunteer readers and book availability; and,
- pediatricians and nurse practitioners expand on physical well-being questions in their relationship with families to explore and encourage literacy skills.

The Reach Out and Read program has three components:

1. Volunteers (soon to include Mellon Trust/The Boston Company employees) engage children in the waiting room or inpatient room with age-appropriate and culturally relevant books;
2. The pediatrician or nurse practitioner also introduce books and reading information to both the parent and child as part of the medical visit; and,
3. The child is invited to choose a book to take home with them at each visit. Reach Out and Read has distributed over 25,000 books. The support of Mellon Trust/The Boston Company will provide over a year's supply of books for this effort.

UPDATE ON HOMELESS CENSUS

Mayor Thomas M. Menino led the City of Boston's annual homeless census on December 12. There were 140 homeless individuals on Boston's streets that night, compared to 139 individuals on the night of last year's census. The total number of homeless individuals in Boston, which will include those at the 70 shelters and homeless programs in the city, will be tallied over the next few days.

Last year's total homeless census was 5,299, up to 10.2 percent from 1993. Children represented the largest single increase in 1994, with a 13.4 percent increase.

RETIREMENT RESEARCH FOUNDATION ANNOUNCES NATIONAL MEDIA OWL AWARDS CALL FOR ENTRY

on Aging Issues*

Entries are now being accepted through February 1, 1996, for The Retirement Research Foundation's 12th annual National Media Owl Awards. The National Media Owl Awards competition, which recognizes outstanding films, video and TV programs for and about the aging, was created to promote realistic portrayals of older persons. While the number of older Americans is growing rapidly — Americans over age 65 increased from 25.7 million in 1980 to 33 million in 1994 — the perception of aging remains comprised of myths such as that illness, disability and dependency are inevitable in old age.

"The aging process is as unique as the individuals who live it," said Marilyn Hennessy, president of The Retirement Research Foundation. "Through the National Media Owl Awards we hope to encourage excellence in film, video and TV programs that go beyond the myths about the elderly and illuminate the challenge and promise of an aging society."

In the past, nearly 400 entries have been received annually. An awards ceremony will be held on May 15, 1996, in Chicago.

The National Media Owl Awards also kicks off the Silver Images Film Festival. Coordinated by Terra Nova Films, the Festival features both American and international films and videos about older adults and is held from May 16 to May 18, 1996, in several Chicago venues. Entries for the Silver Images Festival are separate from the National Media Owl Awards. Call 312/881-8491 for more information.

CATEGORIES

There are three categories within the competition:

Independent films and videotapes — Films or videotapes produced for the general public on issues related to aging by artists who exercise creative control over their work.

Television Non-Fiction — News, public affairs, special reports, documentaries, or news segments, and magazine format or interview programs produced for television or cable stations or networks on issues related to aging. Community-based video projects in this category compete for the special Community Video Award.

Training Films and Videotapes — Films or videotapes produced specifically for the purpose of educating or training professionals, paraprofessionals, volunteers, caretakers, or others on working with aging or aged people.

JUDGING

The National Media Owl Awards employs a rigorous selection process that utilizes the expertise and skills of jury panels comprised of experts in aging and related fields as well as experts in media production. Judging is based on technical quality, presentation and potential utility, i.e. the extent to which entry presents authentic images of older adults.

ELIGIBILITY

To be eligible, films, videotape and television programs must be produced in the U.S.; deal primarily with concerns that are of specific interest to aging or aged people or those working in the field of aging and be released or initially copyrighted during 1995.

PRIZES

First prizes of $5,000 in cash and a "Wise Old Owl" bronze statuette (the symbol of the awards) will be awarded in each category; $2,000 cash and a plaque will be awarded the runner-up in each category. $1,000 in cash and a plaque will be awarded for up to two entries deemed worthy of honorable mentions in each category. In the television non-fiction category, $2,000 and a statuette will be awarded to the best community video program, produced or co-produced by a community group or older people for cable or public television broadcast.

HOW TO ENTER

An official Retirement Research Foundation National Media Owl Awards entry form or facsimile must accompany all entries along with 3/4" or 1/2" (VHS-SP) cassette video transfer of a 16 mm film. To obtain an entry form, call National Media Owl Awards Project Director Ray Bradford at 312/951-0678.

The Retirement Research Foundation is a private foundation based in Chicago with primary interest in improving the quality of life of older persons in the United States. Established by the late John D. MacArthur, its grants support programs, research and public policy studies to improve the quality of life for older Americans.

MAYOR AWARDS "FESTIVAL OF LIGHTS" WINNERS LIGHTS UP CITY HALL PLAZA FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Mayor Thomas M. Menino, on December 14, presented awards to the seventeen winners of the "1995 Festival of Lights," a first-ever outdoor holiday lighting display contest for residents and local businesses in Boston's neighborhoods. Mayor Menino capped the event by "flicking the switch" to a 25,000-watt holiday outdoor lighting art display on City Hall Plaza to light up Boston City Hall — the "city's house."

Mayor Menino said, "This Festival of Lights has given the residents and businesses of Boston a chance to let others know what we already know so well — that Boston is a city rich in holiday cultural traditions and neighborhood pride. I think we have the makings of a great holiday tradition here!"

Mayor Menino launched this first-ever Festival of Lights on November 1 to showcase the city's neighborhoods and local business districts and their cultural traditions. The winning displays — one residential display and one business display chosen from each of the city's nine council districts — were selected from 120 nominations submitted by residents. The Mayor's Youth Council comprised of 36 teens representing each of the city's 18 neighborhoods, visited all of the sites and selected the winning entries.

The 25,000-watt outdoor lighting display on City Hall Plaza, which projects colorful images, such as a blue dove and a yellow candle, designs of light on to the plaza of Boston City Hall, with remain through January 6. Twelve about businesses and institutions helped sponsor the installation, which was created by John Powell, a sculptor who works with light.

BOSTON AND CHELSEA SIGN INSURANCE PACT

On December 14, over 700 Chelsea employees signed up to reduce their health insurance costs by joining Boston's employees in the City's Blue Cross Blue Shield programs. Through a partnership with Blue Cross Blue Shield and the City of Chelsea, the City of Boston will enroll Chelsea employees in its HMO Blue and Blue Choice programs. The health insurance initiative, part of Mayor Menino's ongoing program of interlocal cooperation, will allow Chelsea employees to buy in to Boston's insurance plans with Blue Cross Blue Shield. Commenting on the initiative, Mayor Menino said "this is exactly what I want my tenure in government to be known for — getting more bang for the buck through cooperation."

The plan, a first in this region, is a unique partnership between Chelsea, Boston, and Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts. Blue Cross chief executive officer, Bill Van Faasen heralded the project, "By working together, Boston and Chelsea have offered us an opportunity to enhance our present relationship with the City of Boston by continuing to provide high quality health care coverage while reducing overall administrative expenses. Recognizing that health insurance costs are a major issue for cities and towns, we will continue to work with the City of Boston to find more opportunities to improve our services to our municipal clients."

Chelsea city officials and employees were ecstatic about the chance to lower their monthly health insurance costs. "This is a win win for everyone" said City Manager Guy Santagate. "This program will provide Chelsea employees with the chance to get excellent health insurance while reducing their monthly health insurance bills, while as City Manager I can reduce my health insurance budget without sacrificing quality.

The health insurance program with Chelsea is part of a larger initiative of regional cooperation that Mayor Menino has been pursuing. Last year the Mayor initiated legislation to establish a commission to research opportunities for regional cooperation. The commission, expected to kick-off its work within the next month, will consist of business and government leaders. The commission's charge will be very broad from developing ways to encourage interlocal agreements to exploring ways to improve government service delivery through organizational change. In recent years, as urban and suburban areas have struggled with decreasing federal and state support, there has been a trend towards more local cooperation. Research and the experience of communities like Phoenix, Arizona, or the Twin Cities of Minneapolis/St. Paul, Minnesota, has shown that communities that can think regionally will be better positioned to meet the challenge of declining federal revenue and increasing demands for services.

CURTIS HALL COMMUNITY CENTER RE-OPENS

Mayor Thomas Menino, on December 16, re-opened Jamaica Plain's Curtis Hall Community Center after 14 months of extensive renovations. Neighborhood residents and city and elected officials joined Mayor Menino to celebrate the completion of renovations.

At the ribbon-cutting ceremony, Mayor Thomas Menino said, "The renovations to this building are the result of a lot of work by members of this community who sought to bring this building back to its former glory. The re-opening of this facility is an example of my administration's commitment to providing first-rate facilities for Boston's young people and their families."

Over 2.5 million dollars in city funding, allocated through the Capital Plan, went into renovating the 83-year-old facility and construction was carried out under the direction of the Public Facilities Department. The Center is staffed and managed by Boston Community Centers.

Curtis Hall Community Center will offer pre-school daycare, senior and teen programs, swimming, gym activities, special events and more. Community input will help determine additional programming.

The Curtis Hall Advisory Committee, working in conjunction with the Jamaica Plain Community Centers' Council, planned the celebration marking the re-opening of the center. Activities included brief remarks from Mayor Menino and other city and elected officials, tours of the facility, refreshments, and entertainment.

Boston Community Centers Executive Director Evelyn Riesenbergsaid at the event, "Curtis Hall is more than a beautiful historic landmark. For many generations, it has represented the heart of Jamaica Plain where people have gathered to learn, socialize and have fun. It is thrilling to see this building restored and presented to the next generations."

"Community centers such as Curtis Hall are vital to the strength and prosperity of Boston's neighborhoods," said Public Facilities Director Charles Grigsby. "PFD shares the sense of pride and accomplishment felt by Mayor Menino, Jamaica Plain Community Centers Council members and area residents."

Renovations to Curtis Hall included repairing and replacing the gym floor, replacing the roof, repairing the pool deck and filtration, installation of new boiler and plumbing systems, repairing masonry, resurfacing the driveway and parking lot and enhancing the landscape.

Curtis Hall Community Center is one of four community centers in Jamaica Plain under the Boston Community Centers department. The other three centers are the Agassiz Community Center, the Hennigsen Community Center and Jamaica Plain Community Center (at English High School). These four facilities join 37 other facilities in the Boston Community Centers family. Boston Community Centers is the largest youth and human service agency in Boston.

Menino, December 15, joined Reverend Donald Monan and the eleven members of the Boston College Community Fund Advisory Committee awarding grants from the Boston College Community Fund to nineteen Allston Brighton organization. Mayor Menino obtained the Boston College Community Fund as part of the community benefits package in the Boston College Stadium Expansion Plan.

Mayor Menino said, "All the groups are a tremendous resource to the community and its quality of life. Boston College is helping the groups continue the support many of us see them carry out day to day and month to month."

Boston College, as part of its community benefits package, contributes $75,000 annually to support organizations and groups that work towards improving the quality of life in Allston Brighton. The organizations are chosen by the Fund's advisory committee which is chaired by the Boston Transportation Commissioner, Frank Tramontozzi, and membership consisting of neighborhood activists and business owners in Allston Brighton.

MASSACHUSETTS RESIDENTS OPPOSE MEDICARE AND MEDICAID CUTS

By Mark Swadling

A recent opinion poll shows that Congressional proposals to reduce the growth of Medicare and Medicaid spending are strongly opposed by most Massachusetts residents, and almost seven in ten say the government should maintain federal health care programs even if that means not balancing the budget.

These were among the principal findings of a comprehensive survey of Massachusetts residents sponsored by the Massachusetts Coalition for Responsible Medicare and Medicaid Reform. The telephone survey of 400 Bay State voters conducted by the pollsters Marttila & Kiley, also showed that by a 75 percent to 19 percent margin Massachusetts residents would forego the proposed Congressional tax cut to prevent deep Medicare cuts.

By a two-to-one margin (60 percent to 32 percent) Massachusetts voters oppose Congressional plans to cut the growth of Medicare by $270 billion over the next seven years, while a 59 percent to 36 percent majority opposes the planned $170 billion cut in Medicaid funding.

Given a list of seven national issues, Bay State residents identified Medicare and Medicaid as their most urgent priority, ahead of improving education, balancing the budget, fighting crime, creating jobs, balancing the federal budget, and holding down taxes. While Massachusetts residents are concerned about the need for deficit reduction, the poll clearly indicated that such reductions should not come at the expense of the elderly and those in need.

John Marttila, President of Marttila & Kiley, explained that these figures "clearly demonstrate that the people of Massachusetts are deeply concerned about — and unwilling to accept — the deep reductions in federal health care spending that have been proposed in Washington." In addition, he pointed out that they firmly rejected the idea that the proposed cutbacks in Medicare and Medicaid should be used to fund the $245 billion tax cut that has been proposed by the Congressional majority. Marttila said that "By a four-to-one margin the residents of Massachusetts are saying that America's moral commitment to its senior citizens takes clear precedence over whatever personal benefit they might benefit from a tax cut."

According to the poll, more than 60 percent of Massachusetts voters believe proposed Medicaid cutbacks will cause a decline in health care for the state's poor, while 32 percent say that the state will maintain current health care standards for the needy. The survey found that 70 percent of respondents said that proposed increases in Medicare premiums and co-payments either should not be enacted, or enacted only as a last resort.

The Coalition for Responsible Medicare and Medicaid Reform is composed of more than 35 organizations representing patients, health care providers, senior citizens, people with disabilities, and children. The coalition has characterized the proposed Medicare and Medicaid cuts as "too fast and too deep", and advocates reforming the programs rather than making ill-considered, budget driven decisions.

CITY OF BOSTON

Proceedings of City Council

Wednesday, May 17, 1995

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Christopher A. Jannella Council Chamber, City Hall, at 4 p.m., President KELLY in the chair and all the members present.

INVOCATION

Monsignor John Dillon Day, Most Precious Blood Church, Hyde Park, delivered the invocation, and the meeting was opened with the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

VISITORS TO CITY COUNCIL

President KELLY introduced Coun. CONLEY who, for all the Councilors, presented a citation proclaiming this week "Emergency Medical Technicians Week" in Boston. Coun. O'NEIL, having been granted permission to speak, thanked all the Emergency Medical Technicians present for the wonderful work they performed during the recent City Hall transformer fire. Coun. CONLEY said that one of the chief causes for Boston's declining number of homicides was the expert and rapid action by the EMTs in very serious situations. The spokesperson for the EMTs thanked the Council and explained that their service was much more than just a ride to the hospital, that they responded to all kinds of emergencies, from assisting at the birth of many babies to caring for the most serious and heart-rending injuries.

DISAPPROVING ORDINANCE TO AMEND CBC ORDINANCES, SECTION 5-5.34, ANNUAL REPORTS OF DEPARTMENTS (DOCKET NO. 0682)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

May 15, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councilors:

I return herewith without my signature and disapproved the ordinance passed by your Honorable Body on April 26, 1995, Docket No. 0682, which purports to amend a putative City Ordinance, CBC, Ordinances s. 5-5.34 relative to annual reports of departments.

By requiring City departments to report to "the City Clerk who shall transmit a copy to the City Council," the ordinance violates the strict separation of executive and legislative powers embodied in the City Charter, specifically, that section which provides that "the several officers and boards of the city shall be at all times accountable for the proper discharge of their duties to the mayor, as the chief executive officer . . ." St. 1885, c. 266, s. 6. Further, the measure would impermissibly involve the City Council in the conduct of the executive and administrative business of the city. St. 1948, c. 452, s. 17G.

Finally, the numerous reports and briefings already provided by my Administration to the City Council are comprehensive, informative and certainly within both the spirit and intent of s. 5-5.34. They include the Annual City Operating Budget, which has been awarded for its commitment to informing the public on city expenditures and program performance, the five-year Capital Budget, the Annual Audit Report, various Official Statements filed in connection with City borrowing, the BOSNET on-line data retrieval system, as well as a number of other publications.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

(Annexed hereto is the resolution referred to.)

Assigned for further action.

ORDER APPROVING COMPENSATING BALANCE AGREEMENT BY AND BETWEEN CITY OF BOSTON AND BOSTON BANK OF COMMERCE FOR PROVISION OF BANKING SERVICES (DOCKET NO. 0809)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

May 15, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

Under Chapter 740 of the Acts of 1985, G.L. c. 44, s. 53F, the City is authorized to enter formal "compensating balance" agreements with banking institutions for the provision of banking services. Your approval of these agreements is required under that statute.

In order to take advantage of the considerable savings afforded through the use of such agreements, the Treasury Department conducted an extensive competitive bidding process that resulted in the agreement that accompanies this letter.

Under the terms of the agreement, the City will keep a specified minimum balance with the contracting bank as compensation for various specified services rendered.

In order to realized the greatest possible savings to the City, as well as to minimize any possible interruption of banking services to the City, I urge your prompt approval of this agreement.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

COMPENSATING BALANCE AGREEMENT FOR THE PROVISION OF BANKING SERVICES

This Compensating Balance Agreement for the Provision of Banking Services (the "Compensating Balance Agreement"), is entered into by the City of Boston, Massachusetts, a municipal corporation organized and existing under the laws of The Commonwealth of Massachusetts (the "City"), and Boston Bank of Commerce, a Massachusetts banking company (the "Bank").

WHEREAS, the City issued a "Proposal For Banking Services" on December 13, 1994 (the "Proposal"), and the Bank submitted a response to the Proposal on January 11, 1995 (the "Response"); and

WHEREAS, the City has accepted the terms which the Bank proposed in its Response, subject to the approval of the City's Mayor and City Council; and

WHEREAS, both the City and the Bank wish to enter into this Compensating Balance Agreement pursuant to the provisions of Massachusetts General Laws chapter 44, s. 53F;

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants herein, the sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto do covenant and agree as follows:

SECTION I. AUTHORITY:

This Compensating Balance Agreement is made under the provisions of Massachusetts General Laws chapter 44, s. 53F, and is subject to the approval of the Mayor and the City Council of Boston.

SECTION II. TERM OF THE AGREEMENT

This Compensating Balance Agreement shall be valid for a term of three years starting July 1, 1995, and terminating on June 30, 1998.

SECTION III. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Payment for the service to be performed by the Bank will be effected solely through the maintenance of a compensating balance by the City in its account with the Bank.

If in any month or at year end, account balances in any account are deficient to the extent that the cost of the banking services is not covered by the average collected balances, the City will deposit, in the following month, an amount formulated as provided herein for the calculation of credits to be agreed to by both the City and the Bank to make up the deficit. Conversely, if in any month or at year end there is a surplus in the account(s), the City will notify the Bank that it is reducing the balances to a more appropriate level in accordance with the formula provided herein for the calculation of credits.

In the event that the City fails to maintain balances sufficient to meet its obligations under this Compensating Balance Agreement, the Bank's only remedy shall be the right to terminate the provision of services under this agreement.

Unless otherwise noted, the prices quoted herein are fixed for the three year period of this Compensating Balance Agreement.

The Bank shall exercise its right to terminate its service obligations by notifying the Collector-Treasurer of the City in writing sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, of its intent to cancel the contract. The Bank's obligations to provide services under the contract shall terminate at the close of business on the thirtieth day following the day of which notice is given. In no event shall the City be liable to pay the Bank any sums on account of services rendered under this contract or on account of any deficiency in the amounts maintained in the compensating balance account.

Upon termination of services of a bank, the City will maintain in the account(s) an average collected balance to pay for any outstanding services. In addition if there is a surplus in the account(s), the Bank will issue a check to the City for said amount.

The City of Boston reserves the right to cancel or reduce activity under the contract if the Bank fails to meet the requirements of the Linked Deposit Banking Program, as the Program shall from time to time be promulgated. Also the City of Boston reserves the right to cancel the contract by giving written notice by certified mail, return receipt requested, to an officer of the Bank to be designated in the contract. In the event of cancellation by the City, all obligations by the Bank and the municipality shall terminate at the close of business on the thirtieth business day after the notification is delivered to the Bank.

Either party may call a meeting, within seven days after notice of termination given by either party, to attempt to resolve the problem which led to the termination. Any subsequent adjustment, modification, or renegotiation of the contract terms shall require the approval of the City Council and the Mayor in accordance with provisions of Massachusetts General Laws chapter 44, s. 53F.

This Compensating Balance Agreement is made subject to all laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, special laws applicable to the City of Boston, and ordinances of the City of Boston. The Bank's particular attention is directed to a restriction which regulates where the City may deposit funds. Under Massachusetts General Laws chapter 44, s. 55, cities and towns in the Commonwealth may make deposits in banks, trust companies or banking companies provided that the amount deposited does not exceed 60 percent of the capital and surplus unless satisfactory security for the amount in excess of 60 percent is provided by the depository.

The City's Proposal and the Bank's Response to the Proposal are incorporated herein as if set forth in their entirety. SECTION V. CALCULATION OF CREDITS

The formula for determining Allowance Credits is as follows:

All service charges are passed to the analysis system and assessed in regard to that account's average collected balance. Credit is given for the balances at the Earnings Credit Rate, which is based on the rate of the last sale of the 91 Day Treasury Bill of the month prior to that being analyzed. The credit is then used to offset charges incurred.

Each account is analyzed separately on a combined overall banking relationship basis in order to determine the net compensation position.

In the analysis system the "Collected Balance Equivalent per $1.00 of Service" is calculated in the following manner.

$$\text{ADC} \times .90(10\% \text{ Reserve Requirement}) \times \frac{91 \text{ Day T Bill Rate}}{10}$$

SECTION VI. GENERAL REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

The Bank will furnish the City with monthly account analysis statements showing the balance(s) maintained, the credit earned, the volume and type of services provided, the average daily balance, the interest rate used to calculate earnings credits, the net surplus or deficit of credits earned minus the cost of services, and the accumulated surplus or deficit for the year to date, as well as an abbreviated compensating balance form to be supplied by the City Treasury Department, within 10 days after the month end. The Bank shall also furnish within ten business days after the expiration or termination of the Compensating Balance Agreement an analysis of the account activity and credit earnings in the form required by the Commissioner of Revenue under the provisions of General Laws ch. 44 s. 53F.

All service charges are passed to the analysis system and assessed in regard to that account's average collected balance. Credit is given for the balances at the Earnings Credit Rate, which is based on the rate of the last sale of the 91 Day Treasury Bill of the month prior to that being analyzed. The credit is then used to offset charges incurred.

Each account is analyzed separately on a combined overall banking relationship basis in order to determine the net compensation position.

In the analysis system the "Collected Balance Equivalent per $1.00 of Service" is calculated in the following manner.

$$\text{ADCB} \times .90(10\% \text{ Reserve Requirement}) \times \frac{91 \text{ Day T Bill Rate}}{10}$$

ADCB $\times$ The arithmetic average of the daily closing balance in the account. (Average Daily Collected Balance)

SECTION VI. GENERAL REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

The Bank will furnish the City with monthly account analysis statements showing the balance(s) maintained, the credit earned, the volume and type of services provided, the average daily balance, the interest rate used to calculate earnings credits, the net surplus or deficit of credits earned minus the cost of services, and the accumulated surplus or deficit for the year to date, as well as an abbreviated compensating balance form to be supplied by the City Treasury Department, within 10 days after the month end. The Bank shall also furnish within ten business days after the expiration or termination of the Compensating Balance Agreement an analysis of the account activity and credit earnings in the form required by the Commissioner of Revenue under the provisions of General Laws ch. 44 s. 53F.

ORDER APPROVING COMPENSATING BALANCE AGREEMENT BY AND BETWEEN CITY OF BOSTON AND BAYBANK FOR PROVISION OF DEBIT/CREDIT CARDS FOR PARKING (DOCKET NO. 0812)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

May 15, 1995

To the City Council

Dear Councillors:

Under Chapter 740 of the Acts of 1985, G.L. c. 44, s. 53F, the City is authorized to enter formal "compensating balance" agreements with banking institutions for the provision of banking services. Your approval of these agreements is required under that statute.

In order to take advantage of the considerable savings afforded through the use of such agreements, the Treasury Department conducted an extensive competitive bidding process that resulted in the agreement that accompanies this letter.

Under the terms of the agreement, the City will keep a specified minimum balance with the contracting bank as compensation for various specified services rendered.

In order to realize the greatest possible savings to the City, as well as to minimize any possible interruption of banking services to the City, I urge your prompt approval of this agreement.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

COMPENSATING BALANCE AGREEMENT FOR THE PROVISION OF CREDIT/DEBIT CARD BANKING SERVICES

This Compensating Balance Agreement for the Provision of Credit/Debit Card Banking Services (the "Compensating Balance Agreement"), is entered into by the City of Boston, Massachusetts, a municipal corporation organized and existing under the laws of The Commonwealth of Massachusetts (the "City"), and BayBank, a Massachusetts banking company (the "Bank").

WHEREAS, the City issued a "Proposal for Banking Services" on December 13, 1994 (the "Proposal"), and the Bank submitted a response to the Proposal on January 11, 1995 (the "Response"); and

WHEREAS, the City has accepted the terms which the Bank proposed in its Response, subject to the approval of the City's Mayor and City Council; and

WHEREAS, both the City and the Bank wish to enter into this Compensating Balance Agreement pursuant to the provisions of Massachusetts General Laws chapter 44, s. 53F;

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants contained herein, the sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto do covenant and agree as follows:

SECTION I. AUTHORITY:

This Compensating Balance Agreement is made under the provisions of Massachusetts General Laws chapter 44, s. 53F, and is subject to the approval of the Mayor and the City Council of Boston.

SECTION II. TERM OF THE AGREEMENT

This Compensating Balance Agreement shall be valid for a term of three years starting July 1, 1995, and terminating on June 30, 1998.

SECTION III. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Payment for the service to be performed by the Bank will be effected solely through the maintenance of a compensating balance by the City in its account with the Bank.

If in any month or at year end, account balances in any account are deficient to the extent that the cost of the banking services is not covered by the average collected balances, the City will deposit, in the following month, an amount formulated as provided herein for the calculation of credits to be agreed to by both the City and the Bank to make up the deficit. Conversely, if in any month or at year end there is a surplus in the account(s), the City will notify the Bank that it is reducing the balances to a more appropriate level in accordance with the formula provided herein for the calculation of credits.

In the event that the City fails to maintain balances sufficient to meet its obligations under this Compensating Balance Agreement, the Bank's only remedy shall be the right to terminate the provision of services under this agreement.

Unless otherwise noted, the prices quoted herein are fixed for the three year period of this contract.

The Bank shall exercise its right to terminate its service obligations by notifying the Collector-Treasurer of the City in writing sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, of its intent to cancel the contract. The Bank's obligations to provide services under the contract shall terminate at the close of business on the thirtieth day following the day of which notice is given. In no event shall the City be liable to pay the Bank any sums on account of services rendered under this contract or on account of any deficiency in the amounts maintained in the compensating balance account.

Upon termination of services of a bank, the City will maintain in the account(s) an average collected balance to pay for any outstanding services. In addition if there is a surplus in the account(s), the Bank will issue a check to the city for said amount.

The City of Boston reserves the right to cancel or reduce activity under the contract if the Bank fails to meet the requirements of the Linked Deposit Banking Program, as the Program shall from time to time be promulgated. Also the City of Boston reserves the right to cancel the contract by giving written notice by certified mail, return receipt requested, to an officer of the Bank to be designated in the contract. In the event of cancellation by the City, all obligations by the Bank and the municipality shall terminate at the close of business on the thirtieth business day after the notification is delivered to the Bank.

Either party may call a meeting, within seven days after notice of termination given by either party, to attempt to resolve the problem which led to the termination. Any subsequent adjustment, modification, or renegotiation of the contract terms shall require the approval of the City Council and the Mayor in accordance with provisions of Massachusetts General Laws chapter 44, s. 53F.

This Compensating Balance Agreement is made subject to all laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, special laws applicable to the City of Boston, and ordinances of the City of Boston. The Bank's particular attention is directed to a restriction which regulates where the City may deposit funds. Under Massachusetts General Laws chapter 44, s. 55, cities and towns in the Commonwealth may make deposits in banks, trust companies or banking companies provided that the amount deposited does not exceed 60 percent of the capital and surplus unless satisfactory security for the amount in excess of 60 percent is provided by the depository.

SECTION V. CALCULATION OF CREDITS

All service charges are passed to the analysis system and assessed in regard to that account's average collected balance. Credit is given for the balances at the Earnings Credit Rate, which is based on the rate of the last sale of the 91 Day Treasury Bill of the month prior to that being analyzed. The credit is then used to offset charges incurred.

Each account is analyzed separately on a combined overall banking relationship basis in order to determine the net compensation position.

In the analysis system the "Collected Balance Equivalent per $1.00 of Service" is calculated in the following manner.

$$\text{ADC} \times .90(10\% \text{ Reserve Requirement}) \times \frac{91 \text{ Day T Bill Rate}}{10}$$

SECTION VI. GENERAL REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

The Bank will furnish the City with monthly account analysis statements showing the balance(s) maintained, the credit earned, the volume and type of services provided, the average daily balance, the interest rate used to calculate earnings credits, the net surplus or deficit of credits earned minus the cost of services, and the accumulated surplus or deficit for the year to date, as well as an abbreviated compensating balance form to be supplied by the City Treasury Department, within 10 days after the month end. The Bank shall also furnish within ten business days after the expiration or termination of the Compensating Balance Agreement an analysis of the account activity and credit earnings in the form required by the Commissioner of Revenue under the provisions of General Laws ch. 44 s. 53F.

SECTION V. CALCULATION OF CREDITS

The formula for determining Allowance Credits is as follows:

All service charges are passed to the analysis system and assessed in regard to that account's average collected balance. Credit is given for the balances at the Earnings Credit Rate, which is based on the rate of the last sale of the 91 Day Treasury Bill of the month prior to that being analyzed. The credit is then used to offset charges incurred.

Each account is analyzed separately on a combined overall banking relationship basis in order to determine the net compensation position.

In the analysis system the "Collected Balance Equivalent per $1.00 of Service" is calculated in the following manner:

$$\text{ADCB} \times .90(10\% \text{ Reserve Requirement}) \times \frac{91 \text{ Day T Bill Rate}}{10}$$

SECTION VI. GENERAL REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

The Bank will furnish the City with monthly account analysis statements showing the balance(s) maintained, the credit earned, the volume and type of services provided, the average daily balance, the interest rate used to calculate earnings credits, the net surplus or deficit of credits earned minus the cost of services, and the accumulated surplus or deficit for the year to date, as well as an abbreviated compensating balance form to be supplied by the City Treasury Department, within 10 days after the month end. The Bank shall also furnish within ten business days after the expiration or termination of the Compensating Balance Agreement an analysis of the account activity and credit earnings in the form required by the Commissioner of Revenue under the provisions of General Laws ch. 44 s. 53F.

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

May 15, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councilors:

Under Chapter 740 of the Acts of 1985, G.L. c. 44, s. 53F, the City is authorized to enter formal "compensating balance" agreements with banking institutions for the provision of banking services. Your approval of these agreements is required under that statute.

In order to take advantage of the considerable savings afforded through the use of such agreements, the Treasury Department conducted an extensive competitive bidding process that resulted in the agreement that accompanies this letter.

Under the terms of the agreement, the City will keep a specified minimum balance with the contracting bank as compensation for various specified services rendered.

In order to realize the greatest possible savings to the City, as well as to minimize any possible interruption of banking services to the City, I urge your prompt approval of this agreement.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

The credit is then used to offset charges incurred.

Each account is analyzed separately on a combined overall banking relationship basis in order to determine the net compensation position.

In the analysis system the "Collected Balance Equivalent per $1.00 of Service" is calculated in the following manner:

$$\frac{APCB \times (1 - \text{Reserve Requirement}) \times ECR \times DM}{DY}$$

Coun. CONLEY offered the following:

Whereas, The City of Boston has a number of parks, playgrounds and ballfields which enhance the quality of life in the city by providing arenas for recreation and sports for both children and adults; and

Whereas, It is essential that use of city parks be regulated so as to minimize injury to those using them; and

Whereas, A number of city parks are now being used by persons driving golf balls, posing a danger to those using other areas of the park as well as to nearby homes and autos, and

Whereas, Driving golf balls is an activity that should be restricted to established golf courses and driving ranges where personal safety and that of surrounding property can be minimized; and

Whereas, The Parks and Recreation Commission has the power to adopt and enforce regulations regarding the use of city parks, public grounds and playgrounds; now therefore be it

Ordered, That the Parks and Recreation Commission, in accordance with their duties and responsibilities outlined in CBC 7-4.3, adopt regulations prohibiting the use of city parks and playgrounds by persons playing golf.

REQUESTING OPINION FROM CORPORATION COUNSEL ON STATUS OF SHORT-TERM RENTAL PROPERTIES FOR REAL PROPERTY TAX PURPOSES (DOCKET NO. 0823)

Coun. KEANE offered the following:

Whereas, Numerous properties throughout Boston's neighborhoods are owned or managed by a myriad of short-term apartment rental businesses and are advertised for, and used, as an alternative to the city's hotels;

Whereas, Short-term apartment rental businesses rent furnished studio, one, two, and three-bedroom apartments to visitors to the city on a daily, weekly or monthly basis;

Whereas, Short-term apartment rental businesses typically advertise in the Yellow Pages under "Hotels" and some advertise "No Fee/No Tax";

Whereas, Advertisements for these businesses claim that clients will save up to 50 percent of hotel costs;

Whereas, The city provides trash pickup and other city services to the clients of these businesses since the properties are considered residential rather than commercial;

Whereas, The city's hotels pay real property tax at the commercial rate and properties used in the short-term rental businesses are assessed at the residential tax rate;

Whereas, Assessing properties used in the short-term rental business at the residential rate costs the City of Boston millions of dollars a year and places the city's hotels at a competitive disadvantage;

Whereas, Section 2A of chapter 59 of the General Laws defines residential and commercial property for real property tax purposes;

Whereas, Section 2A(b) defines "Class one, residential" as "property used or held for human habitation containing one or more dwelling units including rooming houses with facilities designed and used for living, sleeping, cooking and eating on a non-transient basis," (emphasis added);

Whereas, Section 2A(b) further defines "Class three, commercial" as "property used or held for business purposes and not specifically includible in another class"; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council requests an opinion from the Corporation Counsel regarding the real property tax status of the properties owned or managed by short-term rental businesses in the city.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

Section 5. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, section 6 of chapter 64G of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1994 Official Edition, shall not be in effect in the city of Boston and the following shall be in effect in the city of Boston, provided, however, that in all other respects all other sections of said chapter 64G shall apply in the city of Boston and the provisions of this special act shall be construed to be consistent with all other requirements of chapter 64G.

In the city of Boston, no person shall operate a bed and breakfast establishment, short-term rental establishment, hotel, lodging house or motel in this commonwealth unless a certificate of registration has been issued to him in accordance with section 67 of chapter 62 C.

REQUESTING ZONING COMMISSION AMEND
ZONING CODE RE SHORT-TERM RENTAL
PROPERTIES (DOCKET NO. 0825)

Coun. KEANE offered the following:

Whereas, Short-term apartment rental businesses own or manage over one thousand units in the City of Boston;

Whereas, These units, much like hotel rooms, are rented on a daily, weekly or monthly basis to persons whose primary residence is elsewhere;

Whereas, The properties owned or managed by these businesses may be one or more units in a multi-unit building, or may be all of the units in a single building.

Whereas, The Zoning Code does not presently address short-term rental use;

Whereas, Failure to address short-term rental use through appropriate zoning has lead to an unregulated proliferation of short-term rental units throughout Boston's residential communities; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council requests the Zoning Commission to amend the Zoning Code as provided in the attached proposal to address short-term rental use.

(Annexed hereto is the documentation referred to.)

Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Couns. IANNELLA and HENNIGAN offered the following:

Whereas, The City of Boston is under order from the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection to cap and close the Gardner Street Landfill; and

Whereas, A joint venture has recently been formed by East Coast Engineering, Inc., and Mass. Gravel Inc., for the purpose of providing services pertaining to Landfill closure activities; and

Whereas, The submitted proposal by these two companies presents the City of Boston with a unique opportunity for substantial savings to save the taxpayers over six million dollars; and

Whereas, These services are being offered at no cost to the City and the conventional price for such a capping project is $60,000-$100,000 per acre, and the Gardner Street Landfill is approximately a one-hundred-acre landfill site; and

Whereas, The City of Boston will also receive a host community fee of one dollar ($1.00) per ton of material transported to the site and the funds generated from the host community fee will be in the range of $750,000 to $1,500,000; and

RESOLUTION THAT ADMINISTRATION SERIOUSLY RECONSIDER DESIGNATING 413 COLUMBIA ROAD AS SITE OF NEW UPHAMS CORNER LIBRARY (DOCKET NO. 0841)

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:

Whereas, In September of 1955, under the leadership of Mayor John B. Hynes, the City of Boston Planning Board submitted a report on Boston's branch library system, a plan for its development; and

Whereas, Part of this capital improvement project included a new library to replace the existing facility of the Uphams Corner library located at 500 Columbia Road in Dorchester; and

Whereas, To date the Uphams Corner neighborhood is still awaiting a new library; and

Whereas, The City of Boston acquired the building at 413 Columbia Road (formerly the Martin Nursing Home) and residents of the Uphams Corner neighborhood as well as library officials have expressed a strong interest in relocating the Uphams Corner Library to this site; and

Whereas, The RFP for 413 Columbia Road is expected to be completed by the Department of Public Facilities within the next two weeks and although other possible proposals have been recommended, a library is a city facility which will use City of Boston taxpayers monies appropriately; therefore be it Resolved, The Administration of the City of Boston take a final look and seriously reconsider designating 413 Columbia Road as the location for the new Uphams Corner Library.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

RESOLUTION REGARDING CERTAIN DRUG TESTING (DOCKET NO. 0842)

Coun. DAVIS-MULLEN offered the following:

Whereas, The abuse of controlled substances is a major public health and safety issue in the United States; and

Whereas, The abuse of controlled substances has been implicated in increased crime, casualty losses due to accident and a general decrease in productivity in all sectors of the economy of our nation, state and city; and

Whereas, The Mayor of Boston and members of the Boston City Council are the leaders of our city and by their actions can set an example for all City employees and members of the public; and

Whereas, Pre-employment testing for controlled substances is a known deterrent to the use and abuse of controlled substances; and

Whereas, The misuse of controlled substances by City of Boston employees in positions with access to sensitive information and involvement in the formulation and implementation of public policy may present a significant threat to the safety of other employees and to the general public; and

Whereas, The positions of Mayor, City Councillor, Cabinet Officer and Department Head are among those positions with access to sensitive information and are involved in the formulation and implementation of public policy; and

Whereas, The public interest requires that the individuals holding these positions be free from the influence of controlled substances and the misuse thereof; and

Whereas, The City of Boston seeks to foster a safe, healthy and productive work environment; and

Whereas, The City of Boston has an interest in maintaining a work place that is free from the influence caused by the misuse of controlled substances; and

Whereas, The City of Boston recognizes that requiring pre-employment testing for all applicants for positions involving access to sensitive information is a reasonable condition of employment; now therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council in meeting assembled makes the foregoing findings and respectfully urges the Mayor of Boston to establish and implement a policy pursuant to applicable law for the pre-employment testing of all applicants for the foregoing positions prior to final appointment. Said policy shall include the following criteria:

1. Establish a program for the pre-employment analysis testing for controlled substances by a licensed testing laboratory prior to final employment. The Director of Human Services shall establish comprehensive standards for all aspects of laboratory procedures to be applied in carrying out this program, including standards which require the use of the best available technology for ensuring the full reliability and accuracy of tests and strict procedures governing the chain of custody of specimens collected for drug testing.

2. Establish appropriate standards and procedures for periodic review of laboratories and criteria for certification and revocation of certification of laboratories to perform testing for controlled substances;

3. Establish appropriate standards which require that a confirmatory test be run in the event that an initial screening test shows positive;

4. Specify the controlled substances for which applicants may be tested;

5. Communicate this policy to applicants in writing. The written notice will contain a consent form and inform applicants that any applicant who refuses to be tested prior to final employment will be denied employment with the City of Boston.

Referred to the Committee on Government Operations.

RESOLUTION CONCERNING RECYCLING PROGRAMS IN BOSTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS (DOCKET NO. 0843)

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:

Whereas, Citi-Cycle is a component of the STRIVE Program which was developed as an effort to create jobs in the new emergency industry of "recycling"; The Citi-cycle initiative began with a business/education partnership between STRIVE and Wentworth Institute which had previously provided employment and training opportunities for students with disabilities in food service, building maintenance and data entry; and

Whereas, The STRIVE program was successfully completed at Wentworth Institute and new successful job placements forged a new initiative in recycling saving Wentworth Institute thousands of dollars; and

Whereas, STRIVE later established a recycling program in the Boston Schools calling it Citi-Cycle. The effort involved STRIVE staff providing orientation to the eight pilot elementary schools' staff and students. In one year Citi-cycle had grown to a system-wide program involving all three Level Offices, four Parent Information Centers, School Committee Central Offices, twenty-six Boston Public Libraries, Boston Archives, Public Facilities and nineteen schools; and

Whereas, Recycling efforts include the collection of paper, plastic, cardboard, polystyrene and aluminum. During the first year of operation, over 45 tons of paper, 1.4 million pieces of aluminum and 1.6 million items of polystyrene were recycled. In three months Citi-cycle recycled 51.5 tons of cardboard; and

Whereas, Citi-Cycle recycles items from 81 schools, and its programs currently provide training, supported work and competitive employment opportunities in recycling for over 2000 Boston public school students with moderate to severe disabilities. Satellite recycling programs have opened in three high schools while students are promoted internally to major recycling initiatives pairing STRIVE with Novacor Corporation, Wentworth Institute and Prins Recycling Inc., a highly successful municipal recycling facility employing twenty-five Boston Public School students and recent graduates; therefore be it

Resolved; That City of Boston extend funding to secure the STRIVE program to all public buildings and extend it to a twelve-month program.

Couns. MODICA and IANNELLA offered the following:

Whereas, There has been a visible influx of trucks utilizing Commercial Street and Atlantic Avenue for the purpose of transporting construction materials to various job sites relative to the Third Harbor Tunnel/Central Artery Project and possibly other sites; and

Whereas, This influx has created problems within the community including safety and health risks and continues to jeopardize the lives and safety of our citizens; and

Whereas, This is a highly populated tourism and recreational area including Christopher Columbus Park, Marriott Long Wharf Hotel, New England Aquarium, Puopolo Park, and several fine dining restaurants; and

Whereas, This region generates an enormous amount of pedestrian foot traffic including many young children and elderly citizens; and

Whereas, The residents of the North End/Waterfront are bearing the brunt of the construction of the Central Artery Tunnel Project and their small neighborhood has already endured much disruption and further impacts from the project must be avoided; and

Whereas, These large commercial vehicles should be forced to use alternative routes as opposed to accessing this residential neighborhood; therefore be it

Ordered, That the Committee on Commerce and Transportation hold a hearing on this matter and that representatives from the Central Artery Project, Massachusetts Highway Department, Boston Police Department and Boston Transportation Department be invited to testify.

Referred to the Committee on Commerce and Transportation.

MAYOR NAMES YOUTH CENTER AFTER MURDERED PROSECUTOR

Mayor Thomas M. Menino, on December 18, dedicated a youth center to the memory of Paul L. McLaughlin, the Boston prosecutor slain last year. The youth center will be located in three former drug buildings — at 3, 5, and 7 Melvinside Terrace — whose ownership has been transferred to the Colonel Daniel Marr Boys and Girls Club. Also, the Boys and Girls Club kicked off a capital campaign to raise $250,000 for the renovation of the center.

Mayor Menino said, "The dedication of these buildings is a milestone — a sign that our neighborhoods are being returned to the good, hard-working families of Boston. The new name is fitting, given that Paul McLaughlin devoted his professional career and much of his personal life towards creating a Boston that gave kids a chance."

The Public Facilities Department, working with the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, coordinated the transfer of these three former drug buildings to the Col. Daniel Marr Boys and Girls Club from the current owners. The Fleet Mortgage Company (formerly Shawmut Mortgage Company) agreed to write off their outstanding $540,000 mortgage, so the Boys and Girls Club could expand their facilities.

Public Facilities Director Charles T. Grigsby said, "I am proud that the PFD staff played a role in brokering such a unique partnership between Fleet Bank and the Boys and Girls Club."

In November 1994, the three buildings were put on the Ten Most Wanted Drug Houses Task Force Ten Most Wanted list.

The Drug Unit at Area C-11, the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, the Treadway Road Crime-watch, and the property manager, Steve Bryan, worked closely to evict or relocate the tenants.

Bob Scannell, executive director of The Public Facilities Department has committed $50,000 to the Boys and Girls Club's capital campaign to raise $250,000 for the Paul R. McLaughlin Youth Center. This 6,500-sq.-ft. facility will be used for daycare, youth and teen programs.

Donations for the campaign may be sent to: Col. Daniel Marr Boys and Girls Club, 35 Deer Street, Dorchester, MA 02125.

The Boys and Girls Club, said, "It is inspiring to see so many different groups come together, sending a message that we care about our neighborhoods and we care about the future of our young people."

MAYOR MENINO BIDS FAREWELL TO JAMAICA PLAIN TEENS

Mayor Thomas M. Menino and Cardinal Bernard F. Law, on December 25, bid farewell to ten Jamaica Plain teenagers from Saint Thomas Aquinas' Parish who are heading off to visit their adopted parish in Peru. Sister Jeanne Marie Gribaudo, a member of the Order of the Sisters of Saint Joseph and the Mayor's Youth Advisor, is chaperoning the group which will make a stop in Lima before driving 250 miles north to the fishing village of Chimbote.

"This is a tremendous opportunity for these young people to experience

MAYOR MENINO AIDS VETERANS HURT BY FEDERAL SHUTDOWN

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has asked the City of Boston Veterans' Services Office to make its Aid to Veterans Fund available for assisting veterans who incur financial hardship because of the federal government shutdown. Many veterans in Boston rely on checks from the federal government to cover living expenses. The shutdown has prevented veterans from receiving their checks.

Mayor Menino said, "We shouldn't have a situation where veterans are falling on hard times during the holiday season. These people have given a commitment to this country. I want them to know we remember what they have done and we will be there for them. It's sad that some members of Congress forget that government is in business to help people."

"A TRIBUTE TO JOHN F. COLLINS (1919-1995)" ON EXHIBIT IN BPL RESEARCH LIBRARY

"A Tribute to John F. Collins (1919-1995)," an exhibition of photographs, campaign memorabilia, and architectural plans chronicling the legacy of the former mayor of the City of Boston, will be on display in the lower level of the Boston Public Library's Research Library building in Copley Square through January 15.

a foreign country and to meet their adopted parishioners," said Mayor Menino. "After their week-long visit, this group will come home with a better understanding of a different culture and a fresh perspective on both their church and their city."

"The Catholic Church could not be more proud than to have ten bright, young, curious people make a pilgrimage to an adoptive parish on Christmas Day," said Cardinal Law. "Over the years the Archdiocese of Boston has been able to help build a strong relationship with the Church of Peru, and now to have members of Saint Thomas' C.Y.O. be able to share in our Peruvian legacy is a wonderful Christmas gift for me."

In response to Pope Pius's plea for help for South America, Richard Cardinal Cushing established the Society of Saint James in 1958. The Society was originally designed to loan priests from the Archdioceses of Boston to Peru. Over the years the Society expanded to include priests from English speaking countries all over the world, with more than 70 priests having served in Peru to date. One such priest is Father Jack Thomas, who served in Peru for 10 years before becoming the Pastor at Saint Thomas Aquinas in Jamaica Plain. Last March, parishioners at Saint Thomas' adopted Christ the King Parish in Chimbote, supporting its priest, Father Bill Pearsall, and various parish projects.

Now the ten teens and Sister Jeanne will be visiting Chimbote, living in the convent and seminary and bringing Christmas wishes from their friends and families in Boston. The teenagers on the trip are: Rocio Gonzalez, Michael Carroll, John P. Cuniffe, Nicole Arseneault, John P. Higgins, Edward J. Dempsey, Anne-Marie Rowan, Kimberly O'Brien, Melissa Buggie and Kelly McCloskey.

FEDERAL SHUTDOWN...

There are about 60,000 veterans in the City of Boston and about 10 percent are eligible for assistance from the City's Aid to Veterans Fund under Mass. General Law Chapter 115. The Fund has a budget of $1.6 million for FY 96. The fund provides assistance to veterans in financial need. Mayor Menino has freed up approximately $800,000 of the fund for veterans, who as a result of the federal shutdown, are facing financial hardship. Financial hardship will be defined as an income below the "allowed budget" set by the State Office of Human Services. The allowed budget for a single person is about $450 a month and about $600 a month for a married couple. Families are given a monthly budget of $100 for each child eight and over, $96 for each child under eight years old.

Veterans may apply for assistance once they fail to receive their normal federal government check. The assistance loan amounts to veterans will be decided on a case by case basis. Once the federal government opens up, veterans must give the federal checks that were withheld during the shutdown to the Veterans' of Boston from 1959 to 1968, passed away on November 23, 1995, at the age of 76. He had been the driving force behind "The New Boston," a $90-million redevelopment effort during the 1960s that ultimately resulted in more than $2 billion in public and private investment which served to revitalize the city's economy and restore its reputation as a major economic center.

Service Office as repayment for the special assistance.

Any veteran interested in seeking this special assistance may call 635-3026.

During Collins' tenure as mayor, the Prudential Center and Government Center came into existence, along with new housing, schools, libraries, and fire and police stations.

Photographs in the exhibit of the former Mayor, with other city, state, and federal officials of the era, from BPL's "Boston Herald Traveler Photo Morgue Collection." Political artifacts and some photos are drawn from the John F. Collins Collection.

Mayor Menino said, "We have been distributing our storm brochure since November, and I hope everyone will keep them handy. During winter storms we must pull together to deal with the elements. Look out for your elderly neighbors, shovel your sidewalks, stay off the roads if possible, and help the fire department by shoveling the area around fire hydrants."

The winter storm brochures, which were distributed throughout the city weeks ago, outline a number of regulations that go into effect if a snow emergency is declared, including:

• Secondary roads, where permitted, have parking on the odd side of the street;

• No parking on major snow arteries or within 20 feet of an intersection;

• Make resident parking stickers visible to passersby within 24 hours after a storm;

• Sidewalks abutting property must be passable within three hours after the storm;

• Do not shovel or plow snow onto the street, violators will face fines of up to $250;

• When a Snow Emergency is declared, Mayor Menino will open the city's "Storm Center" in City Hall to answer all storm related questions. The storm center's number (635-8050) is listed with over a dozen other important numbers in the storm brochure.

To help residents abide by parking bans and to help crews plowing the streets, Mayor Menino has made 27 city lots available for off-street parking when the snow emergency is declared. Seven private lots/garages will also have reduced rates during a snow emergency. The Storm Center and the Mayor's 24 Hour Hotline (635-4500) have a list of the available lots.

RSVP LUNCHEON A SUCCESS

More than 20 senior volunteers were honored for their volunteer service of 16-22 consecutive years at the same agency at the annual Retired and Senior Volunteer Program recognition luncheon held on Thursday, November 16, 1995, at Boston University's George Sherman Union Grand Ballroom. Also in attendance and recognized were the additional 800 seniors who volunteer their services to more than 104 agencies across the city.

The luncheon is a salute to their undying efforts to enhance the quality of life for others and their outstanding community service. Beautiful leather bookmarks were given to the additional 800 volunteers in attendance as a memento compliments of Pilgrim Health Care Prime 65.

BOSTON INFANT MORTALITY RATE DECLINES: ACCESS TO CARE IMPROVES

Boston's Department of Health and Hospitals' Division of Public Health, on December 19, released data analysis on 1994 natality and infant mortality to accompany the statistics presented by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health at the meeting of the Mass. Public Health Council.

The city infant mortality rate (IMR) for 1994 was 9.1/1000 births, a 7 percent decrease from 1993 and continuing a general decline in the overall infant mortality rate since 1985. The Black non-Hispanic Infant Mortality Rate in 1994 dropped 18 percent to 12.2. Since 1992, the Black non-Hispanic Infant Mortality Rate in Boston has declined 35 percent.

For the first time in over a decade of steady improvement, the Black White Infant Mortality Ratio has dropped from a Black rate 3 times that of White to its lowest point yet, 1.7. This drop in the Black White disparity was due to an 18 percent decline in the black infant mortality rate (IMR) and 22 percent increase in the white IMR.

Mayor Thomas M. Menino said, "This continuing decrease in infant deaths is the result of improved working relationships of Boston's hospitals, community health centers and city health services. The 1994 data shows that nearly 80 percent of Boston women are receiving adequate prenatal care, a consistent, positive statistic over the last two years. This increase is good news and I'm confident that all of us will work together to continue this trend in improved access to prenatal care, nutrition and primary care, adolescent health services and high-school based health clinics."

"We're encouraged by the downward trend in infant mortality and the upward trend in prenatal care," said Public Health Director Lillian Shirley, RN, MPH. "The increased access and delivery of services for pregnant women in Boston is clearly evident. We attribute this to a city-wide health partnership with the community health centers and working relationships with the Boston teaching hospitals."

Lillian Shirley noted that "The impact of community based services and increased primary care is clearly benefiting parenting women in Boston. The city continues its infant mortality grants to community health centers; funds $2 1/2 million in maternal and child health programming through DH&H; and, has established adolescent health clinics in eight Boston high schools linked with both city health services and Boston teaching hospitals to increase the availability of services."

Now, every week is "your week" to recycle.

EVERY WEEK RECYCLING PICK-UP

EXPANDED RECYCLING PROGRAM

The new recycling program lets you include MAGAZINES, CARDBOARD and BROWN PAPER BAGS. So, now you can put out almost twice as much.

IT'S JUST AS EASY AS EVER

Here's how: save your newspapers, brown bags, corrugated "waffled" cardboard (no cereal or tissue boxes) and magazines in a brown paper bag or tied up with twine. Then put it out, on garbage day, next to your trash, by 7:00am.

Exceptions: If your area has 2 trash pick-up days, you should recycle on the first day, if you have three garbage days, recycle on the middle pick-up day.

My Administration remains firmly committed to achieving the goals of the M/WBE program. ORDER FOR PETITION FOR SPECIAL LAW TO PERMIT CREATION OF NEW AND VIABLE HEALTH CARE SYSTEM FOR CITY (DOCKET NO. 0880)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

June 2, 1995

To the City Council.

I am today filing a home rule petition to permit the creation of a new and viable health care system for the City of Boston. This important legislation will, if passed, enable the mission of Boston City Hospital to survive, help protect the employment of thousands of health care workers, and position the City of Boston to take advantage of changes in the health care industry.

Over the years, other American cities have abandoned their hospitals and walked away from their commitment to the health of their citizens. We are choosing the more difficult alternative, which is to consolidate our resources with our affiliated hospital partner and to also create a new public health care commission. These two new entities will combine the advantages of the public and private sectors into a new, creative and accountable health care system for Boston, one that is able to cope with rapid changes in health care funding and maintain the quality of patient care in a much more competitive business environment. Boston has had a long tradition of insuring that there is an open door for those of us in need of health care. However, if we do not change with the times, if we try to do nothing but preserve the status quo, that proud tradition will come to an end. I will not permit that to happen.

The legislation I have filed establishes a framework for the new health care system. It answers many, if not most, of the questions frequently asked of me with respect to the proposed new health care system. Importantly, the legislation clearly establishes a responsibility on the part of the City of Boston and its hospital partner to return to City Council for a final review and approval of the entire consolidation plan, when complete.

No one will claim that the future for our proposed health care system will be easy. To the contrary, the entire health care industry in this country and state is undergoing a fundamental change and our hospitals — together or apart — are subject to the same forces and trends as every other hospital. When advances in science shorten hospital stays, when health insurers force doctors and hospitals to cut costs, and when Congress reduces its spending commitment to the Medicare and Medicaid programs, difficult decisions need to be made. Access to the capital market will be complicated. Resolving fair contracts with our unions prior to July 1, 1996, will be hard. Making decisions that affect the lives and careers of our employees will be tough. Through it all, however, we will always be aware of the reality that hospitals which do not change with the time, which fail to remain competitive and open to new ideas will not be with us at the beginning of the next century. Their patients will go elsewhere, their employees will go home and their doors will shut forever. The legislation in front of you, and the final Merger Agreement you will see in several months, will greatly enhance our chances for success, and will serve as a model for other cities facing similar challenges.

I respectfully request your approval of this important legislation.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

Ordered, That a petition to the General Court, accompanied by a bill for a special law relating to the City of Boston to be filed with an attested copy of this order be, and hereby is, approved under clause (1) of section 8 of Article 2, as amended, of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to the end that legislation be adopted providing substantially as follows:

Section 1. (a) It is hereby declared for the benefit of the people of the city of Boston, in order that there be an increase in their welfare and an improvement in their living conditions, it is essential that a new public health care system be established for the city of Boston that can meet the challenges of a rapidly changing health care environment and ensure the continuous delivery of quality health care to the residents of the city; that the new public health care system must be able to coordinate outreach, health education, prevention, outpatient, home care, emergency, inpatient, specialty, aftercare, rehabilitation, and long term care services in order to create a comprehensive and integrated continuum of care with the goal of promoting health and well-being, meeting the medical and public health needs of all served and of educating future physicians and caregivers; that a new public health commission be created in the city of Boston as the successor to the city's department of health and hospitals in order to better administer, enhance and expand the public health services provided by the city; and that the city's new public health care system should consist of a network of health care providers joining the city's traditional public health services and facilities with private hospitals, community health centers and other associated community based organizations and providers.

(b) It is hereby further declared for the benefit of the people of the city of Boston that the city should be empowered to provide for the establishment of a new medical center as the centerpiece of the city's health network to be composed of Boston city hospital, Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital and a private, non-profit hospital; that the mission of the new medical center, in partnership with the city's public health commission, community health centers and other community based providers, should be to consistently provide excellent and accessible health care services to all in need of care, regardless of status or ability to pay; that recognizing the historic mission and commitment of Boston city hospital to the public health needs of all residents of Boston, the new medical center should ensure that there is a continued commitment to the urban population and other communities served; that the new medical center should play an important role as a referral, tertiary level hospital serving the region in a financially responsible manner and continue to serve the most acutely ill patient populations; and that in the conduct of this mission, the new medical center should commit itself to six equally important guiding principles: (1) ensuring the availability of a full range of primary through tertiary medical programs, in addition to a commitment to public health, preventive, emergency and long term rehabilitative care programs; (2) serving both urban and suburban communities in a culturally and linguistically competent manner that strives to meet the current and changing health care needs of people of all races, languages, cultures and economic classes; (3) providing a high degree of medical, nursing, management and technical competency and accountability; (4) enhancing its role as a major academic medical center, including support for bio-medical, public health, medical education and basic science research; (5) providing managed care services to the communities served by the new medical center and participating effectively and competitively in managed care plans serving the patient population; and (6) treating its patients, staff and the communities served with respect and dignity.

(b) The commission shall also appoint persons to hold the offices of secretary and treasurer of the commission. The secretary shall be custodian of all books, documents and papers filed with the commission, the minute book or journal of the commission and its official seal. The secretary or any assistant secretary appointed by the commission may cause copies to be made of all minutes and other records and documents of the commission and may give certificates under its official seal to the effect that such copies are true copies, and all persons dealing with the commission may rely upon such certificates. The duties of the treasurer shall be those appertaining to such office, under the supervision of the executive director, and in addition such as may from time to time be prescribed by the commission. The executive director, with the approval or authorization of the board, shall also appoint and establish reasonable compensation, benefits and other terms of employment for other officers and other employees of the commission as it deems necessary, including management and professional personnel. Except as otherwise herein provided, officers and employees of the commission shall serve at the pleasure of the commission, or under collective bargaining agreements or contracts of employment; provided, however, that no contract of employment, except for that of the executive director, shall exceed a term of three years, which may be renewed upon the expiration thereof.

(c) The commission may indemnify any present or past member, officer, employee or agent of the commission against liabilities, claims, costs and expenses, including legal expenses, in connection with any actual or threatened proceeding, including any settlement thereof approved by the commission, arising by reason of any act or omission within the scope of his duties for the commission; provided, however, that no indemnification shall be provided to a person concerning a matter as to which such person is finally adjudicated to have acted either without the belief held in good faith that his or her conduct was in the best interests of the commission or with reason to understand that his or her conduct was unlawful. Costs and expenses may be paid prior to a final disposition upon receipt of an undertaking, which the commission may accept without regard to the financial resources of the person indemnified, that the person receiving the benefit of payments shall repay such payments if he or she shall be finally adjudicated not to be entitled to indemnification hereunder. The commission may purchase insurance on behalf of itself and any of its members, officers, employees or agents against any liability arising out of such person's status as such, whether or not the commission would have the power to indemnify such person against such liability.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in section 6 with respect to certain employees of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals transferred to the commission, to the extent of the rights provided for those employees in said section 6, chapter 31 of the General Laws shall not apply to the officers, employees and other personnel of the commission. Chapter 150E of the General Laws shall apply to the commission, to the extent the provisions of the same are apt, and for purposes of said chapter, the commission shall be considered an "employer" or "public employer" as defined therein. The commission may designate a representative to act in the interest of the commission in labor relations matters with its employees. The commission shall have the authority to bargain collectively with labor organizations representing employees of the commission and to enter into agreements with such organizations relative to wage, salaries, hours, working conditions, health benefits, pension and retirement allowances, and the submission of grievances and disputes to arbitration. No collective bargaining agreement entered into by the commission, however, shall limit inherent management rights which shall include, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the following: (i) employment, assignment, reassignment, and promotion of employees, including the temporary promotion of employees, and the determination of standards therefor, (ii) termination and discharge of employees, provided that any collective bargaining agreement may protect employees against such actions on arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable grounds, (iii) determination of the commission's levels of service, levels of staffing, establishment of work rules, and the methods, means and personnel for performing operations, including without limitation the introduction and use of technological improvements in the workplace, (iv) supervision, control, and evaluation and establishment of productivity standards for employees, and (v) use of part-time regular employees and of independent contractors or vendors.

Section 5. (a) Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, on and after the effective date of this act, the city, acting by its commissioner of health and hospitals with the approval of the city council and the mayor, is hereby authorized to execute and deliver one or more agreements with University Hospital, Inc., a non-profit charitable corporation organized and existing under the laws of the commonwealth which is the owner and operator of Boston university medical center hospital, or any successor to such corporation, or any other private, non-profit charitable corporation organized under the laws of the commonwealth licensed by the department of public health under section 51 of chapter 111 of the general laws to operate an acute-care hospital as defined in section 25B of said chapter 111, providing for the merger or consolidation of the operations, assets and liabilities of such corporation, and the acute-care hospital and other health care facilities under its ownership, custody and control, with all or a portion of the operations, assets and liabilities of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals comprising or otherwise allocable to Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital, provided that the corporation resulting from such merger or consolidation accepts as its mission the statement of policy set forth in section 1 (b) of this act. Any such resulting corporation shall be a private, non-profit corporation organized under the laws of the commonwealth. Each employee of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals at the effective date of such merger or consolidation whose work is determined by the commissioner of health and hospitals to be primarily related to the operation of Boston city hospital or Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital, or otherwise to the powers, duties and obligations of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals consolidated with or transferred to the corporation resulting from such merger or consolidation, shall be offered employment by such corporation. Any merger or consolidation as provided in this section shall be effective on June 30, 1996 and prior to the transfer to the commission on July 1, 1996 of all other rights, powers, obligations and immunities of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals as provided in section 6 of this act. The provisions of section 2 of chapter 358 of the acts of 1890 shall not apply to the corporation resulting from the merger or consolidation of the operations of Boston city hospital, Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital and a corporation described in this section.

(b) All agreements between the city and a corporation described in this section necessary or desirable to effect the merger or consolidation of the operations of Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital with the operations of such corporation shall be in such form and shall have such terms and conditions as the commissioner of health and hospitals, with the approval of the mayor, may determine to be in the best interests of the city. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, any such merger or consolidation may be effected by one or more leases or operating agreements from the city to the corporation resulting from such merger or consolidation of all or any part of the real and personal property comprising Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital under the care and custody of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals, and all or any part of any other property, real and personal, tangible and intangible, appurtenant thereto or necessary or desirable for the operation thereof, for such initial term, not exceeding fifty years, and such renewal terms, as may be set forth in such leases or operating agreements, and for such rental, annual or otherwise, as the commissioner of health and hospitals, with the approval of the mayor, shall determine after appraisal or other independent valuation of the fair market rental value of such property. Any such merger or consolidation may also be effected by the sale by the city to such corporation of all or any part of such property or other assets on such terms and conditions and at such purchase price as the commissioner, with the approval of the mayor, shall determine after appraisal or other independent valuation of the fair market value of such property or other assets, provided that any such sale shall first be approved by vote of the city council in accordance with section 2 of chapter 486 of the acts of 1909, as amended. All agreements executed and delivered by the city to effect such merger or consolidation as provided in this section, and all other agreements between the city or the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals and the corporation resulting from such merger or consolidation, or pertaining to the provision by such corporation of medical or other public health services to or on behalf of the city, shall be assumed by and imposed upon the commission on July 1, 1996, in accordance with section 6 of this act.

(c) In addition to the powers and rights granted the city by the foregoing provisions of this section, at any time after the effective date of this act, the city, acting by the commissioner of health and hospitals, with the approval of the city council and the mayor, may enter into one or more contracts with a corporation described in this section for the management by such corporation or by the personnel thereof, under the control, direction and supervision of the board of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals, of all or substantially all of the operations of Boston city hospital or Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital, and any other health care facilities under the care and custody of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals, on such terms and conditions, and for such period, ending not later than June 30, 1996, as the commissioner shall determine to be in the best interests of the city.

(d) Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, passage of this act shall constitute a determination under section 51 of chapter 111 of the General Laws that there is a need for the corporation, together with its hospitals, clinics, health centers and operations, that results from any mergers, consolidations or acquisitions of University Hospital, Inc. and the operations of Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital in the manner contemplated by this section into a new, non-profit corporation organized under the laws of the commonwealth, and upon application by such resulting corporation, the department of public health shall issue to such corporation as soon as possible an original license to establish and maintain such hospitals, clinics, health centers and other facilities as had been maintained and operated by University Hospital, Inc., Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital prior to such mergers, consolidations or acquisitions.

(e) In the event that the operations of Boston city hospital are merged or consolidated with the operations of University Hospital, Inc. in the manner contemplated in this section, the hospital resulting from such merger or consolidation shall be deemed to retain the status and characteristics which Boston city hospital had prior to such merger or consolidation as a public service hospital as defined by 114.1 CMR 36.13(2)(i)(3) and as a public hospital for purposes of determining eligibility for and determination of all payments from all governmental units for the provision of general health supplies, care or rehabilitative services and accommodations, as those terms are defined in section 1 of chapter 495 of the acts of 1991, including without limitation for purposes of determining eligibility for payments to high public payer hospitals pursuant to 114.1 CMR 36.13(10)(a)(2); disproportionate share adjustments for safety net providers pursuant to 114.1 CMR 36.13(10)(c); payments owed to or from the uncompensated care pool in accordance with regulations established pursuant to chapter 118F of the General Laws; and entitlement to payment from and participation in medical assistance programs established under chapter 118E of the General Laws on a basis which recognizes such resulting hospital as the successor to Boston city hospital.

(f) Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter 32 of the General Laws or any other general or special law to the contrary, on and after the effective date of this act the city, acting by its collector-treasurer, with the approval of the mayor, may provide for an early retirement incentive program as provided in this section for any employee of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals who (i) shall be an employee of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals and an active member-in-service on the effective date of this act of the state-Boston retirement system established under chapter 32 or any predecessor system, (ii) shall be eligible to receive a superannuation retirement allowance in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (1) of section 5 or subdivision (1) of section 10 of said chapter 32 upon the effective retirement date specified in his written application therefor to the Boston retirement board and (iii) shall have filed a written application after September 1, 1995, but no later than February 1, 1996 to retire for superannuation as of the date which shall be specified in such application; provided, however, that said date for retirement shall be no earlier than January 1, 1996 and no later than June 30, 1996; and provided further that no employee who retires and receives an additional benefit in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be entitled under section 5 of this act to be offered employment by a corporation resulting from a merger or consolidation described in section 5 or to be transferred to the commission as provided in section 6 of this act. Said program shall be administered by the Boston retirement board, which shall also promulgate regulations to implement the provisions of said program. Notwithstanding any provisions of said chapter 32 to the contrary, the normal yearly amount of the retirement allowance for an eligible employee who is employed by the city and who has paid the full amount of regular deductions on the total amount of regular compensation as determined under paragraph (a) of subdivision (2) of section 5 of said chapter 32, shall be based on the average annual rate of regular compensation as determined under said paragraph (a) and shall be computed according to the table contained in said paragraph (a) based on the age of such member and his number of years and full months of creditable service at the time of his retirement increased by up to five years of age or by up to five years of creditable service or by a combination of additional years of age and service the sum of which shall not be greater than five, provided, however, that the collector-treasurer of the city, with the approval of the mayor, may limit the amount of additional credit for service or age or a combination of service or age offered and the number of employees for whom a retirement calculated under the provisions of this section shall be approved; provided, further that if participation is limited, the retirement of employees with greater creditable service shall be approved before approval is given to employees with lesser creditable service. For the purpose of this section words shall have the same meanings as in chapter 32 of the General Laws, unless otherwise expressly provided or unless the context clearly requires otherwise. An employee who retires and receives an additional benefit in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be deemed to be retired for superannuation under the provision of said chapter 32 and shall be so subject to any and all provisions of said chapter 32. The total normal yearly amount of the retirement allowance, as determined in accordance with the provisions of section 5 of said chapter 32, of any employee who retires and receives an additional benefit under the retirement incentive program in accordance with the provisions of this section shall not exceed such percentage of the average annual rate of his regular compensation received during any period of three consecutive years of creditable service for which the rate of compensation was the highest as may be established by the collector-treasurer of the city, with the approval of the mayor, or of the average annual rate of his regular compensation received during the periods, whether or not consecutive, constituting his last three years of creditable service preceding retirement, whichever is greater. The Boston retirement board shall prepare a funding schedule which shall reflect the costs and the actuarial liabilities attributable to the additional benefits payable under the retirement incentive program in accordance with the provisions of this section and said schedule shall be designed to reduce the additional pension liability attributable to such costs and liabilities to zero on or before June 30, 2016; provided, however, that said board shall triennially update such schedule until said June 30, 2016. In each of the fiscal years until the actuarial liability determined under this section shall be reduced to zero, it shall be deemed an obligation of the city to fund such liability and there shall be appropriated in each such fiscal year the amount required by the funding schedule and the updates thereto.

Section 6. (a) Notwithstanding any provision of this act to the contrary, except as otherwise expressly provided in this paragraph, from the effective date of this act until June 30, 1996, the rights and powers granted by the provisions of this act to the commission shall be exercised by the board of health and hospitals, acting by the commissioner thereof, with the approval of the mayor. On and after January 1, 1996, or as soon thereafter as a quorum of the commission may be appointed, the commission shall undertake the following: (i) provide for the appointment of an executive director and such additional staff as shall be necessary for the management and operation of the commission after consideration of the employees of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals to be transferred to the commission as provided in this section 6 (ii) make and deliver to the mayor no later than the second Wednesday in March, 1996, in accordance with section 8, the commission's initial assessment of the public health needs of the city; (iii) submit to the mayor no later than the second Wednesday in March, 1996, the commission's proposed public health services budget for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1996, and an estimate of the commission's net cost of public health services, if any, for such fiscal year, all in accordance with section 8; (iv) adopt no later than the second Wednesday in June, 1996, its public health services budget for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1996, in accordance with section 8; and (v) provide for the transfer of the functions and employees of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals to be effective on July 1, 1996, in accordance with this section 6, including without limitation negotiation in accordance with the provisions of chapter 150E of the General Laws of collective bargaining agreements with such employees to be effective on and after July 1, 1996. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, the rights and powers of the commission authorized by the provisions of this paragraph to be exercised by the commission on and after January 1, 1996, and prior to July 1, 1996, upon request of the commission to, and with the approval of, the mayor, may be exercised by personnel of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals. All expenses of the commission incurred in the performance of the rights and powers provided in the paragraph shall be borne by the city provided that such expenses, or a budget therefor, shall have been first approved by the mayor. The mayor shall submit to the city council such supplementary appropriation orders for such expenses as he shall deem appropriate.

(b) Effective July 1, 1996, the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals are hereby abolished and, subject to section 5, all rights, powers, appropriations, obligations and immunities of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals under law or contract shall be transferred to and assumed by the commission. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, subject to section 5, on July 1, 1996 the commission shall assume the general care and control of Boston city hospital, Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital and of all other public health facilities of the city, except as otherwise provided in this act. In addition to the other rights or powers granted to the commission by the provisions of this act, from and after July 1, 1996, the commission shall have the powers and perform the duties from time to time conferred or imposed on boards of health of cities in the commonwealth by general laws applicable to the city, except the powers and duties conferred or imposed by section 12 of chapter 83 of the General Laws, by section 127 of chapter 111 of the General Laws, and by sections 122, 123, and 124 and 125 of said chapter 111 in so far as applicable to places of human habitation; the commission shall also have the powers and perform the duties conferred or imposed by general or special law upon the board of health of the city, or the health commissioner of the city, including chapter 89 of the acts of 1889, as amended, except the powers and duties conferred or imposed by sections 13, 14, 19, 20, 21 and 22 of chapter 382 of the acts of 1885, as amended, by chapter 185 of the acts of 1897, by chapter 219 of the acts of 1897, as amended, by section 128 of chapter 550 of the acts of 1907, as amended, and by section 116 or any other provision of the Boston Building Code.

(c) Subject to section 5, on July 1, 1996, ownership, possession and control of Boston city hospital, Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital and all other real and personal property under the care and custody on such date of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals, and all contracts, books, papers, records, and documents of whatever description pertaining to Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital or otherwise to the affairs of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals, shall pass to and be vested in the commission without consideration or further evidence of transfer and shall thereafter be in the ownership, possession and control of the commission; and all debts, liabilities and other obligations of the city pertaining to or on account of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals, including the obligation of the city to pay the interest and principal requirements on all bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness outstanding on June 30, 1996 issued by the city for purposes pertaining to Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital and any other property transferred to the commission under this act, shall be assumed by and imposed upon the commission; provided that all liabilities of the city in tort, whether actual or contingent, pertaining to the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals and arising out of actions or events which occur prior to the transfer of control to the commission as provided in this section, shall not be assumed by or imposed upon the commission but shall continue to be the liabilities of the city. Except as above provided, all actions and proceedings duly pending before, all actions and proceedings duly pending against, and all actions and proceedings duly begun by the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals shall continue unabated and remain in full force and effect notwithstanding the passage of this act and the transfer of control contemplated hereby and may, at the discretion of the court, commission, board or other body having jurisdiction, be completed before, against or by the commission.

(d) All orders, rules, regulations and ordinances duly promulgated by the city or the department of health and hospitals pertaining to the department or otherwise in the exercise of its powers under law in effect on July 1, 1996 shall remain in full force and effect to the extent consistent with this act until superseded, revised or rescinded by the commission. All contracts, including collective bargaining agreements, leases, mortgages, obligations, benefits, rights and liabilities of the city, the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals which are transferred to the commission under any provision of this act shall continue in full force and effect in accordance with law and shall be transferred to, assumed by and imposed upon the commission by operation of law.

(e) Notwithstanding any provision of this act to the contrary, ownership, possession and control of any real property located on Long Island in the city which is under the care and custody of the department of health and hospitals on June 30, 1996, and, subject to section 5, so much of the real property comprising the site of the Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital, or appurtenant thereto, that is determined by the commissioner of health and hospitals to be not required for the purposes of the commission, as evidenced by a certificate of the commissioner, approved by the mayor, filed with the city clerk on or before June 30, 1996, shall not pass to and be vested in the commission but shall be transferred on July 1, 1996 to the care and custody of the public facilities department of the city existing under chapter 642 of the acts of 1966, as amended.

(f) Subject to section 5, on July 1, 1996 all unexpended balances of moneys in accounts of, for or on behalf of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals, including without limitation accounts receivable, grants, public trusts, bequests, gifts and other funds pertaining to Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital or any other property, right or operation of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals, each as determined by the collector-treasurer of the city, with the approval of the mayor, including moneys and investments, if any, held for the payment or security of interest and principal of then outstanding bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness of the city as provided in this section, but excluding money and investments held by or for the account of the Boston retirement board on account of accrued retirement benefits under chapter 32 of the General Laws for employees of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals, shall be deemed to be held in trust for and shall be transferred to the commission. Subsequent to such date, all moneys collected or received by the city from any source on account of Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital, subject to section 5, and any other property, right or operation of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals transferred to the commission by operation of this act, as determined by the collector-treasurer of the city, other than any such moneys properly allocable to a right, liability or obligation retained by the city under any provision of this act, shall be deemed to be held in trust for and shall be forthwith transferred and paid over to the commission.

(g) Subject to section 5, on July 1, 1996, each employee of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals whose work is determined by the commissioner of health and hospitals to be primarily related to the powers, duties and obligations of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals transferred to the commission on such date by operation of this act shall become an employee of, and shall be transferred to, the commission without any loss of accrued rights to holidays, sick leave, vacations or other benefits of employment, and by such transfer, except as otherwise provided in this section, such employee's seniority, wages, salaries, hours, working conditions, health benefits, pensions and retirements allowances under law or contract shall not be impaired, provided that thereafter such employee shall perform his or her duties under the direction, control and supervision of the commission. All such employees who immediately prior to such date hold permanent appointments classified under chapter 31 of the General Laws shall be entitled to the rights and benefits of and shall be subject to the provisions relating to, tenured employees under chapter 31 with respect to that position and their term of office shall not be deemed to be interrupted within the meaning of said chapter 31, notwithstanding any change in title or duties. Rights and obligations under collective bargaining agreements with respect to employees transferred to the commission from the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals, except to the extent expressly inconsistent with this act, shall be assumed by and imposed upon the commission, and employees transferred to the commission who are subject to such agreements shall continue to be represented by the employee organizations that are parties to such agreements until such time as they elect to be otherwise represented in accordance with the provisions of chapter 150E of the General Laws. Existing bargaining units as determined by the state labor relations commission for department of health and hospitals and trustees of health and hospitals employees shall remain in full force and effect for those employees transferred to the commission until the expiration date of collective bargaining agreements covering such employees. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no employee of the city who is hired by the commission subsequent to July 1, 1996 shall be entitled to transfer to the commission any accrued or credited vacation, sick or personal time.

(h) Every employee of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals who immediately prior to being transferred to the commission by this section is a member of the state-Boston retirement system established under chapter 32 of the General Laws and chapter 520 of the acts of 1947, as amended, or predecessor retirement systems thereto, shall continue to be a member thereof and subject to the laws applicable thereto. Any employee of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals who immediately prior to being transferred to the commission by this section is not a member of the state-Boston retirement system, and any person first employed by the commission subsequent to July 1, 1996 whose compensation is principally derived from federal and state grants, shall not be required to become a member of the state-Boston retirement system but may elect to become a member of such system upon notice to the commission delivered within thirty days of commencement of employment; provided that no such employee shall be entitled to make make-up payments as described in section 3 of chapter 32 of the General Laws for any period while such employee was not an active member-in-service of a retirement system described in chapter 32. All other employees of the commission shall be required to become members of the state-Boston retirement system in the same manner and subject to the same laws, rules and regulations as persons entering the employ of the city. The commission shall deduct from the wages of its employees who are members of the state-Boston retirement system and pay over to the Boston retirement board such sums as the city would deduct and pay over if such person were an employee of the city. The commission shall annually reimburse the city for its share of any amounts appropriated by the city under the provisions of chapter 32 of the General Laws for or on account of retirement allowances for employees of the commission, and for its share of any amounts appropriated by the city for administrative costs of the Boston retirement board, based on an allocation, determined by such retirement board, of the years of creditable service of such employees with the commission and with the city or one or more other governmental bodies which are members of the state-Boston retirement system. The commission shall not be liable for accrued retirement allowances to or on account of employees of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals who are not transferred to and employed by the commission pursuant to the provisions of this act, including without limitation any such employees employed by a corporation described in section 5.

(i) Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, the commission may contract with any employee of the commission who is not a member of the state-Boston retirement system with respect to the establishment, continuation, maintenance and funding of any deferred compensation or other pension or retirement plan or program under state or federal law which has been maintained for such employee prior to his or her employment by the commission or which the commission thereafter agrees to maintain, and for such purpose the commission may become a trustee or sponsor of, and may make contributions to, any such plan or program. For purposes of this paragraph, the word "employee" shall have the same meaning as "employee" in section 1 of chapter 32 of the General Laws and shall also include consultants and independent contractors who are natural persons paid by the commission and whose duties require that their time be devoted to the service of the commission during regular business hours.

(j) Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, any employee of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals at June 30, 1996 who is transferred to the commission pursuant to the provisions of this act or who is employed by a corporation resulting from a merger or consolidation described in section 5 of this act and who prior to such transfer or employment was a member of the city of Boston credit union shall be entitled to remain a member of the city of Boston credit union retaining all rights, benefits and responsibilities of membership.

Section 7. (a) In addition to its other powers enumerated in this act, the commission shall have the following rights and powers:

(1) to adopt bylaws for the regulation of the affairs and the conduct of its business, and to prescribe rules, regulations and policies in connection with the performance of its functions and duties;

(2) to adopt an official seal and alter the same at pleasure;

(3) to maintain an office at such place or places as it may determine;

(4) to establish its fiscal year, which shall otherwise be July 1 through June 30;

(5) to receive, administer, expend and comply with the conditions and requirements respecting any gift, grant, donation or appropriation of any property or money;

(6) to receive and apply its revenues to the purpose of this act without appropriation or allotment by the city except as otherwise expressly provided in this act, and to invest any moneys of the commission or under its control in such investments as are legal investments for moneys of the commonwealth;

(7) subject to section 5, to maintain, repair, operate and improve Boston city hospital, Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital and all other public health facilities under its custody and control and to provide for the cost of the foregoing and its other activities, programs and project from its revenues, appropriations, grants, the proceeds of loans, or from any other moneys legally available to the commission;

(8) to provide directly or by contract with a corporation resulting from a merger or consolidation described in section 5 of this act, or by contract with any other health care provider, health care services to all persons in need of care regardless of ability to pay;

(9) to mortgage, pledge or assign any property of the commission, real or personal, and any money, fees, charges, or other revenue of the commission and any proceeds derived by the commission from the sale of property, insurance or condemnation awards;

(10) to make application for, receive, accept and expend any federal, commonwealth or city loans or grants for or in aid of any program or operations of the commission or of any facilities or other property of the commission and to receive and accept contributions from any source of either money, property, labor or other things of value;

(11) to sue and be sued, prosecute and defend actions relating to its properties and affairs, and to be liable in tort in the same manner as the department of health and hospitals immediately prior to the effective date of this act; provided, however, that the commission is not authorized to become a debtor under the United States Bankruptcy Code;

(12) to appoint or employ personnel as herein provided and to engage legal, accounting, management, financial, medical, consulting and other professional services and agents;

(13) to acquire by purchase, lease, gift or devise, or to obtain options for the acquisition of, any property or any interest therein, real or personal, improved or unimproved, tangible or intangible; to make contracts and agreements of all kinds, including but not limited to contracts for the management of its hospital and public health facilities and for the provision to the commission of public health services, and contracts for the sale, lease, as lessor or lessee, or purchase of real or personal property of any kind or description, and to execute and deliver instruments necessary or convenient for carrying out any of its purposes, and to acquire, create, be a voting member of, choose directors to serve on the boards of, share common officers and directors with, be a partner in, or participate in or control, any venture, corporation, partnership, or other organization, public or private, which the commission finds operates for purposes consistent with, and in furtherance of, the purposes of the commission; provided, however, that no contract or agreement for the management of all or substantially all of the operations of Boston city hospital or Boston specialty hospital shall be effective without the prior approval of the city council and the mayor; and provided further that the commission shall not sell or otherwise dispose of, or lease as lessor other than in the ordinary course of business, any real property transferred to the commission by operation of this act except upon the vote of the city council approved by the mayor in accordance with section 2 of chapter 486 of the acts of 1909, as amended; for all purposes of this act the commission shall be deemed to be a municipal department of health as defined in clause 27 of paragraph (b) of section 1 of chapter 30 B of the General Laws;

The commission shall be deemed to be a hospital within the meaning of section 3 of said chapter 614. The commission also may borrow money for any of its corporate purposes from, and may issue its bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness to, the city, and the city may appropriate such sums as may be necessary to fund such loans. To meet any such appropriation, the city, acting by its collector-treasurer, with the approval of the mayor, may borrow money and incur indebtedness to the extent authorized by any bond act, as defined in chapter 643 of the acts of 1983, as amended, heretofore or hereafter enacted, and upon vote of the city council as provided in such bond act. The members of such committee shall not be deemed to be employees of the city for purposes of chapter 268A of the General Laws.

Section 8. (a) Subject to any limitations thereon or any approval required therefor under any other special law, the commission is hereby authorized to fix, revise, determine and collect fees, rates, rents and other charges for the services, programs and other activities provided by it or as a result of the operation of the properties under its custody and control, including without limitation, subject to section 5, Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital. The fees, rates, rents and other charges established by the commission shall be so fixed and adjusted in respect of the aggregate thereof so as to provide revenues to the commission at least sufficient, together with all other moneys available to the commission, including all amounts appropriated to the commission as provided in this section, to pay or provide for all operating expenses of the commission and all debts and other obligations of the commission as the same become due; to create and maintain such reserves as may be reasonably required for its operations or to secure its debts and other obligations; and to pay or provide for all necessary repairs, replacements and renewals to the properties under its custody and control and any other amounts which the commission may be obligated to pay or provide for by law or contract.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in section 6 of this act, not later than the second Wednesday in March in each fiscal year the commission shall prepare and file with the mayor and the president of the city council an annual assessment of the public health needs of the city. (c) Not later than the second Wednesday in March in each fiscal year the commission shall prepare and submit to the mayor its proposed public health services budget for the ensuing fiscal year. The public health services budget shall include all expenditures which in the judgment of the commission are required to fund the programs, services and activities to be provided by the commission in the ensuing fiscal year, and to pay or provide for all of its expenses, debts and other obligations during such fiscal year, and shall set forth the revenues and other moneys expected to be available to the commission to fund the same, including without limitation the proceeds of grants, gifts, loans and other assistance. The public health services budget shall also set forth the amount, if any, by which the expenses of the commission for such fiscal year are expected to exceed the revenues and other moneys of the commission available therefor, hereinafter called the net cost of public health services. If the commission's public health services budget for any fiscal year indicates a net cost of public health services for such fiscal year, the budget shall be subject to review and approval by the mayor as provided in this section. The mayor may approve the commission's public health services budget or he may reject it and return it to the commission together with his objections. If the mayor accepts the commission's public health services budget he shall include an amount equal to the commission's net cost of public health services for the next ensuing fiscal year in the annual budget of the current expenses of the city for such fiscal year, and may submit thereafter to the city council such supplementary appropriation orders as he may deem necessary. Not later than the second Wednesday in June, the commission shall adopt its public health services budget for the next ensuing fiscal year. Except to the extent inconsistent with the foregoing provisions of this section, the appropriation by the city of the commission's net cost of public health services shall be subject to the provisions of section 3 of chapter 486 of the acts of 1909, as amended, and, except as the mayor shall otherwise approve, to the allotment system provided in section 18 of chapter 190 of the acts of 1982, as amended.

Section 9. The commission and all its revenues, income and real and personal property used solely by the commission in furtherance of the mission declared in section 1 shall be exempt from taxation and from betterments and special assessments and the commission shall not be required to pay any tax, excise or assessment to or for the commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions.

Section 10. The commission shall at all times keep full and accurate accounts of its receipts, expenditures, disbursements, assets and liabilities, which shall be open to inspection by any officer or duly appointed agent of the commonwealth or the city. The commission shall submit an annual report in writing concerning its operations to the mayor and collector-treasurer of the city and the president of the city council within 120 days following the close of its fiscal year. Such report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1997, and for each fiscal year thereafter, shall include financial statements relating to the operations and properties of the commission maintained in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles to the extent applicable and audited by an independent certified public accountant or firm of certified public accountants.

Section 11. Upon termination or dissolution of the commission, the title to all funds and other properties owned by it which remain after payment or the making of provision for payment of all obligations of the commission shall vest in the city.

Section 12. The provisions of this act shall be deemed to provide an exclusive, additional, alternative and complete method for the doing of the things authorized hereby and shall be deemed and construed to be supplemental and additional to, and not in derogation of, powers conferred upon the commission by law, provided, however, that insofar as the provisions of this act are inconsistent with the provisions of any general or special law, administrative order or regulation or any limitation imposed by a corporate or municipal charter, the provisions of this act shall be controlling.

Section 13. This act, being necessary for the welfare of the city and its inhabitants, shall be liberally construed to effect the purposes hereof.

Section 14. The provisions of this act are severable, and if any provision hereof shall be held invalid in any circumstances, such invalidity shall not affect any other provision or circumstances. This act shall be construed in all respects so as to meet all constitutional requirements. In carrying out the purposes and provisions of this act, all steps shall be taken which are necessary to meet constitutional requirements whether or not such steps are required by statute.

Section 15. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Referred to the Committee on Government Operations.

Later in the session Coun. SAUNDERS moved reconsideration of the foregoing referral in order that the matter be referred to a joint committee of the Committee on Government Operations and the Committee on Public Health.

Reconsideration did not prevail. Yeas 5, Nays 6;

Yeas — Councillors McLaughlin, Nucci, O'Neil, Saunders, Yancey — 5.

Nays — Councillors Conley, Davis-Mullen, Feeney, Hennigan, Keane, Modica — 6.

Voting Present — Councillor Iannella — 1.

STATEMENT OF COUNCILLOR SAUNDERS

Having received unanimous consent to do so, Councillor Saunders stated that it boggled his mind that his colleagues would not even allow his motion for reconsideration, that when one thought of the magnitude of the proposal, he could not understand why the members would not want it to be handled by a joint committee of Government Operations and Public Health since it was such important legislation.

STATEMENT OF COUNCILLOR NUCCI

Having received unanimous consent to do so, Councillor Nucci said that he was pretty astonished at what he saw happen with regard to the motion for reconsideration by Councillor Saunders, and he joined with Councillor Saunders in expressing disappointment and hoped that at a future meeting the matter would be reconsidered and the Committee on Public Health be allowed to join the Committee on Government Operations in hearing this matter.

DISAPPROVING ORDER REQUESTING MAYOR DIRECT POLICE COMMISSIONER DEVELOP PLAN TO IMPLEMENT PILOT-BASIS PROGRAM, "PANIC-BUTTON ALARM" PROTECTION (DOCKET NO. 0839)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

June 5, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I return herewith, unsigned and disapproved, an Order passed by your Honorable Body on May 17, 1995, Docket No. 0839, which requests the taking of certain actions by the Mayor of Boston and directs further actions by the Police Commissioner.

While the reduction of domestic violence is a laudable aim, this veto is required by the provisions of the City Charter which prohibit City Council involvement in the executive or administrative business of the City. St. 1948, c. 452, sec. 17G. The Police Department is a component of the executive branch of City government. St. 1885, c. 266, sec. 6, as amended; St. 1853, c. 354, sec. 1, as amended.

Further, the Order ignores the significant efforts that my Administration has already taken to reduce domestic violence, including the development of a working group composed of representatives of the Boston Police Department, the Suffolk County District Attorney's Office, various departments of the Trial Court, the Boston Women's Commission and the Shelter Service Group.

One of the approaches that the working group will explore is the use of panic alarms and other innovative approaches that can be specifically tailored to the diverse needs of each of this City's different communities as part of a long-term multidisciplinary protocol to serve victims of domestic violence.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

(Annexed hereto is the order referred to.)

DISAPPROVING ORDER RE IMPROVEMENT OF SAFETY CONDITIONS AT INTERSECTION OF HEATH STREET AND SOUTH HUNTINGTON AVENUE (DOCKET NO. 0845)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

June 5, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I return herewith, unsigned and disapproved, an Order passed by your Honorable Body on May 17, 1995, Docket No. 0845, which purports to direct various city departments to take certain actions relative to a traffic intersection.

While the City Charter requires this veto, I recognize the safety concerns that your Order seeks to address. In fact, my Administration has already commissioned a design study to redesign the intersection of Heath Street and South Huntington Avenue. Further, the Police Department has given this intersection a high priority in its traffic enforcement plan.

This veto is required by the City Charter's prohibition against the City Council becoming involved in the executive or administrative business of the City. The Charter places such matters under the exclusive charge of the Mayor. St. 1948, c. 452, sec. 17G.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

(Annexed hereto is the order referred to.)

Assigned for further action.

G.L. c.28A, sec. 9.

I urge your Honorable Body to pass this order as expeditiously as possible so that this important project may proceed as described.

Sincerely,

Kennedy Family Service Center, Inc.), which is a Massachusetts charitable corporation qualified under sec. 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, has proposed the financing by revenue bonds ("Bonds") to be issued by and through its Industrial Development Financing Authority (the "Authority"), of up to $2,000,000 of the cost of certain industrial enterprise (as such term is defined in Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 40D (the "Act") in Charlestown in the City of Boston (the "City"), namely an existing facility to be owned and used by the Company, such facilities consisting generally of the following (the "Project"):

Kennedy Family Service Center, Inc. for the acquisition and substantial rehabilitation of a 14,000 square-foot fire damaged building and ancillary improvements on land known and located at 23-25 Vine and 15-23 Moulton Streets, Charlestown (Boston), Massachusetts, for use as a day care center and facility for a school-age child care program within the meaning of Mass. G.L. c.28A, sec. 9.

Whereas, The Company has expressed its willingness to make payments sufficient to (i) pay the principal of and interest on the Bonds, (ii) pay the fees of the Authority in connection with the Bonds and the reasonable expenses of the City and the Authority incurred in connection with the Bonds, and (iii) reimburse the City and the Authority for or indemnify the City and the Authority against any reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the Bonds in the event that the issuance and sale of the Bonds are not accomplished as contemplated; and

Whereas, The Authority has adopted resolutions approving the Project and the estimated costs thereof and authorizing the issuance of Bonds in a principal amount not to exceed $2,000,000 to finance that portion of the cost of the project not financed by other sources, the issuance of such Bonds being subject to the making of a loan agreement and other agreements with the Company pursuant to the Act and to certain other conditions; and

Whereas, By adopting the order set forth herein or by taking other action in connection with the Project or the Bonds, the City or the Authority does not and cannot provide any assurance that the Project or the Company is financially viable or sound, that amounts owing on the bonds will be paid, that any collateral which may be pledged to secure the Bonds would be sufficient to repay the holders of the Bonds in the event of default and foreclosure, or that interest on the Bonds will be exempt from federal or Massachusetts income taxation; and neither the company nor any prospective purchaser of the Bonds nor any other person shall rely upon the City or the Authority with respect to such matters; and

Whereas, This Council has been advised that notice of a public hearing relating to the proposed issuance of the Bonds in a principal amount of approximately $1,185,000 to finance the Project was published in The Boston Globe on Sunday, April 16, 1995, and that such public hearing was held on Thursday, May 1, 1995, all as described in such notice, now therefore, it be

RESOLUTION SUPPORTING ONE CENTRALIZED LOCKUP FACILITY, STIPULATING IT NOT BE BUILT IN HIGHLY POPULATED RESIDENTIAL SECTORS SUCH AS HYDE PARK OR WEST ROXBURY (DOCKET NO. 0893)

Coun. HENNIGAN offered the following:

Whereas, A central police lockup facility, if centrally located, would be an asset to Boston and aid in overall public safety protection; and

Whereas, The Boston City Council last month, intending that the facility would go next to the South Bay House of Corrections as suggested and offered by Suffolk County Sheriff Robert Rufo, unanimously supported the portion of House Bill #3595 authorized $48 million for the center; and

Whereas, Fears were ignited last week in a newspaper story that reported the facility might be switched to a non-central locale, impacting a residential area in either West Roxbury or Hyde Park; and

Whereas, This report, which understandably upset neighborhood groups, needs to be confronted with a clear statement that the City Council does not condone placement in any residential area of a lockup that holds persons arrested throughout the city; and

Whereas, The central facility adjacent to the South

Bay House of Corrections would better serve and screen prisoners needing psychiatric or medical attention under professional administration, sparing district police stations the responsibility of their care overnight and sometimes over long weekends; and

Whereas, A centralized lockup facility should be near roadways leading to court houses downtown and roads accessing various district courts; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in supporting one centralized lockup facility, stipulates it not be built in highly populated residential sectors such as Hyde Park or West Roxbury; and be it further Ordered, That the City Clerk transmit copies of this resolution to the presiding officers of the Massachusetts House and Senate, to the respective chairs of Ways and Means Committee of each branch, and to Senators and Representatives who represent parts of Boston.

Referred to the Committee on Public Safety.

Ordered, That the Staff Director, John Erwin, investigate along with the Personnel Department as to who authorized the removal of sick time from Margaret O'Leary, Helen Carson and any other staff member of my colleagues' employees; and therefore be it Ordered, That a complete account of how it was allowed to remove the individuals' sick time without notification as it was duly noted on their pay stubs through January of 1992. Although it is the responsibility of each individual councillor to keep a record of their employees both vacation and sick time an explanation from the Personnel Department is being requested for the above.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

Coun. HENNIGAN offered the following:

Whereas, A large tract of property located at 226

Whereas, The Office of Code Enforcement cited the owner today with an accompanying fine of $300 which will be levied each and every day henceforth until the property is brought up to code; and

CITY CATCHES BEACON MANAGEMENT COMPANY ILLEGALLY DUMPING SNOW

Five Other Contractors Fined For Illegally Plowing Snow Onto City Streets

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has announced that the Code Enforcement Police have issued a $1,000 fine to the Beacon Management Company for illegally dumping snow from the Gate C area of Rowe's Wharf into Boston Harbor. Dumping snow from the ground into coastal waters is a violation of Massachusetts General Law, Chapter 270, Section 16. This fine was one of six snow ordinance violations issued during this storm by Code Enforcement Police, the other five tickets carried a $250 fine and were issued to contractors for illegally plowing snow from private property onto city streets.

Mayor Menino said, "There has been a lot of snow this year, but that does not justify violating the health and safety ordinances we have in place to protect our city, its people and the environment. The team work that halted this incident is an example of how we are doing business with violators in Boston."

Boston Transportation Department Officers, while on patrol, observed a truck dumping several loads of snow into the Harbor. The information was then radioed into Code Enforcement, who arrived within eight minutes and issued a $1,000 fine, impounded the vehicle and contacted city environmental officials to further investigate the incident. Rock salt, asphalt, road debris, sand and other materials were mixed in with the snow that was dumped into the Harbor. These materials are environmentally unfit for dumping in coastal waters.

After signing an administrative Consent Agreement later in the day with the City of Boston, Beacon Management Company paid the fine and the impounded Bobcat was released. The Consent Agreement stipulates that Beacon Management Company will be fined $2,000 for a second offense.

LOW INCOME HOUSING TAX CREDIT

Statement of Mayor Thomas M. Menino, December 19, 1995.

In these changing times, America's cities need the private sector to help us find solutions to some of our public sector needs. We know that many of the old solutions will not be available to us in the future — there will be no new public housing or section 8 construction programs. Instead, we must have the incentives to promote new partnerships that give us the affordable housing we need.

Later this morning, the United States Conference of Mayors will issue their annual report on hunger and homelessness in America. And one more, local officials of both parties will cite the lack of housing as one of the key reasons for the continuing problem of homelessness in our cities. Phasing out the tax credit will only exacerbate this crisis.

Mayors know that the low income housing tax credit works — that is why a resolution I put forward to the mayors in June was unanimously endorsed. This resolution called for expanding the program with a $250 million set aside to bring private investment into distressed public housing. It also called for expanding this concept into the area of economic development, targeted to empowerment zones across the country.

The low income housing tax credit is a program that has rallied support from every major organization representing cities and states — from the Mayors' Conference to the National League of Cities to the National Governors' Association and many more. It has united Democrats and Republicans at all levels who recognize that, even in these tough times, we want to save programs that work, with a minimum of red tape and bureaucracy.

I have seen what the low income housing tax credit can do from our successful work in Boston. Through the Boston Housing Partnership, the credit has been used to reclaim several thousand units of deteriorated housing. We used it to turn a devastated housing project known as Columbia Point into the mixed income Harborpoint Development. And we will use it to build new communities at the Mission Main and Orchard Park Developments — both of which have received awards under the Hope VI Program.

As the debate continues in Washington over which tax cuts the Congress should enact, let me say that the best tax cuts are the ones where the American people get something in return. In this case, the American people are already benefiting from 700,000 new units of housing, tens of thousands of construction jobs that would not otherwise exist, and billions of dollars of solid loans for our financial institutions.

So let's stick with a proven success story and work together to restore the low income housing tax credit, and the continued investment that it will bring to our nation's cities.

It keeps more than
alive.

There were 2,704 men, 1,094 women, and 976 children counted during this year's census for a total of 4,774 compared to a total of 5,299 last year. This total number of homeless people in the City of Boston has decreased by 9.9 percent.

There were 140 men and women documented as sleeping on the street on the night of the census compared to 139 last year. In recent years, the census has counted as many as 220 people sleeping on the streets of Boston.

There were 1,858 men and 318 women staying in adult shelters on the night of the census for a total of 2,176. This number represents an increase of 6.6 percent over last year's total of 2,041.

There were 216 women and children this year in battered women's shelters compared to 179 last year. This is an increase of 20.6 percent.

5. There were 21 fathers, 374 mothers, and 696 children counted in family shelters and scattered site shelters. This number includes 2 fathers, 24 mothers, and 56 children from Boston who were placed in shelters throughout the Commonwealth as far away as Springfield. This year's total of 1,091 represents a 41 percent decrease from last year's total of 1,857; however, this decrease may be a result of increasingly restrictive State shelter screening regulations and the State's shift away from placing families in hotel/motel sites near their hometowns to offering the shelter placement anywhere in the state.

The overall number of men, women and children in homeless family programs decreased 31 percent. There were 1,565 family members in family shelters, scattered sites, battered women's shelters, and adolescent programs this year compared to 2,283 last year.

MWRA BOARD APPROVES NEW WATER SUPPLY TUNNEL

The Massachusetts Water Resources Authority (MWRA) Board of Directors has given unanimous approval to construct the MetroWest Water Supply Tunnel, a 17.6-mile-long, 14-foot diameter aqueduct which will become the centerpiece of MWRA's plan to upgrade its waterworks system for 2.5 million residents in 47 water customer communities.

The Boston-based firm Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation will manage construction of the project under a $31.5 million contract. The budgeted cost of the tunnel is $530 million in today's dollars, though the total price tag for the project could increase to $650 million with inflation and a reserve for contingencies.

The half century old Hultman Aqueduct, which carries 85 percent of the drinking water into the Greater Boston area, is leaking in 35 or more places. MWRA is unable to inspect and make necessary repairs to it because an alternative transmission line does not exist. MWRA's waterworks distribution system is the only major water system in the United States with a single major pipeline. A second transmission aqueduct was planned in the 1930s, but never constructed due to the onset of World War II and decades of neglect thereafter.

"Moving forward with the MetroWest Water Supply Tunnel project is the only way to ensure that we will be able to effectively provide water to the 2.5 million customers in our service area," said MWRA Executive Director Douglas B. MacDonald.

MWRA has in the past and will continue to seek state and federal assistance in funding the project. "The cost of not building the MetroWest Water Supply Tunnel is far greater than the cost of building it now," noted MacDonald, who said that a catastrophic failure in the existing Hultman Aqueduct would cost the region $50 to $100 million a day. "All businesses and industries in our service area would be shut down in the event the Hultman failed," he said.

The MetroWest Water Supply tunnel will traverse the communities of Weston, Wayland, Framingham, Southborough and Marlborough. It will be bored through solid rock at depths ranging from 200 to 500 feet beneath the surface.

Construction plans call for a shaft to be sunk in Framingham where two tunnel boring machines will bore the tunnel in opposite directions. Tunnel crews will work 24-hours-per-day, six days per week to join the tunnel at shafts in Weston and Southborough. Construction will begin in the Spring of 1996 and will be completed in the year 2003.

MWRA estimates that up to 750 private sector construction and engineering positions will be created by the project.

The tunnel will carry up to 300 million gallons of water per day when completed.

SENIOR COMPANION PROGRAM RECOGNITION AND HOLIDAY BRUNCH A FESTIVE AFFAIR

This special season of giving is an appropriate time to recognize a group of people who live in the holiday spirit all year long. The 52 senior companion program volunteers who serve through the Commission on Affairs of the Elderly were honored at the Senior Companion Program Recognition and Holiday Brunch on Tuesday, December 19, 1995, at the Claddagh Restaurant located at 113 Dartmouth Street in the South End of Boston for their undying commitment to community service.

The Senior Companion Program began in Massachusetts in 1988. SCP volunteers are men and women age 60 and older who provide assistance and friendship to older individuals who are homebound and generally live alone and respite care for those providing care to an elderly person or family member. Last year, our volunteers made a real impact in our community by providing 50,114 hours of service to 441 clients, a gift of giving which our whole community can appreciate. By taking care of simple chores, providing transportation to medical appointments and offering contact to the outside world, companions often provide the services that frail elderly need to live independently. The average cost of nursing home care in Massachusetts is $60,000 per year while the annual federal cost for one Senior Companion serving 20 hours per week is $3,850. Around the U.S., nearly 14,000 SCP volunteers help more than 33,000 elders maintain their independence in living. The SCP program is part of the National Senior Service Corps administered by the Corporation for National Service.

This recognition is held annually as a salute to the volunteers who provide such a necessary community service, their dedication and commitment is a true labor of love.

Beautifully crafted and designed canvas tote bags were given to the volunteers as a memento, along with holiday plants which were generously provided by the Boston Parks and Recreation Department. Raffle prizes were provided by Hill, Holiday Advertising Corporation.

CITY HALL GOES ON-LINE WITH CYBERHALL/

According to Mayor Thomas Menino, "City Hall will be known as Cyberhall." The unveiling of the City of Boston's official web site marks the second on-line service available to Boston residents and beyond. (BosNet, the City's twenty-four hour bulletin board is a free dial up service that has been in existence since 1994.)

This web site is a production of the City's Management & Information Services Department. It will continue to develop to serve as a valuable resource to all.

When visiting the web site remember to sign our guest book, check out what's new, and send a note to the Mayor.

UNVEILING OF CITY OF BOSTON WEB SITE AND COMPUTER DONATION

*Remarks of Mayor Thomas M. Menino
December 29, 1995.*

I have come here today for two reasons. First and foremost, I have come to donate this wonderful computer system to the residents of Rockingham Glen. And second, I have come to unveil to you — and to the entire city — the City of Boston's very own page on the world-wide web. This means computer users around the globe — including all of you — will have access to the latest information about what's happening in City government.

In short, this computer is your connection to City Hall. From this terminal, the City is at your fingertips. The web page is our way of getting important information into your homes and offices in an instant. Now, residents of Boston don't have to come all the way to Government Center to get the information you need. For example:

- You can get answers to your questions about almost every City agency — including the Elderly Commission.
- You can find out about upcoming events.
- You can sign our guest book — to let us know that you're "on-line."
- You can even send me e-mail!

I have no doubt that this computer will be put to good use. After all, Marjorie Pease practically wore out the keys on your last computer with all her time on BosNet! I know that Marjorie has been one of our most devoted BosNet users — and has been very generous about sharing her findings with other residents. Well, Marjorie, if you thought BosNet was a treat, wait until you see the City of Boston web page. Once you discover everything this site has to offer, we may have trouble tearing you away from the computer!

I'm very proud of this project — which is helping the City of Boston rise to the challenges of the twenty-first century. I want to thank Mike Hernon and everyone in MIS for all of the hard work and creativity that have gone into this project.

I hope all of you here today — and residents of all ages throughout the city — will take advantage of this site. After all, this is your city — and this web page is your way to discover much of what it has to offer.

MAYOR SIGNS RENTAL ORDINANCE TO PROTECT CONDOMINIUM TENANTS

Mayor Thomas M. Menino, on December 29, visited the home of 89-year-old Marion Fitzgerald of Boston to sign an ordinance that will protect Fitzgerald and other elderly, disabled and low-income tenants in condominiums from unlawful evictions and drastic rent increases. Fitzgerald, a 35-year resident of Beacon Street, was to be evicted in March, 1996, due to the end of condominium tenant protections on January 1, 1996.

Mayor Menino said, "This is why we have government and why I became Mayor — to help people with problems they can't solve alone. Some people have tried to say that, as rent control is abolished, so are these protections. Not true! With the signing of this ordinance, these tenants — our seniors, disabled and disadvantaged — will continue to live in condominiums that they can afford."

The ordinance signed by Mayor Menino establishes a rent increase cap and reinforces tenant protections contained in a 1983 state bill for condominium tenants. The ordinance will protect elderly, disabled and low- and moderate-income condominium tenants from the state law passed last January which will abolish rent control protections in Boston on January 1, 1996. The 1994 legislation abolishing rent control exempts condominium tenants, who are protected by the 1983 legislation.

The ordinance includes several protections.

- It sets a rent increase cap at the annual percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index; and
- restores removal permit and no-cause eviction protections.

The ordinance was passed unanimously by the City Council on December 20, 1995.

BOSTON: BLIZZARD '96 SUMMARY

Mayor Thomas M. Menino estimates that the Blizzard of '96 cost the City of Boston approximately two million dollars. During previous storms, from December 1, 1995, to January 7, the city had spent more than four million dollars on cleanup.

More than 400 vehicles were involved in Boston snow removal operations at the height of the Blizzard of 1996. The city declared a snow emergency at 4 p.m. on January 7 and the snow emergency was lifted at 6 a.m., January 9. Logan Airport officials say more than 18 inches of snow fell during the storm.

The Mayor's 24-hour Service and the Storm Center at Boston City Hall fielded an average of one hundred calls an hour while the snow emergency was in place. Callers had such problems as lack of heat, lack of food, and medical emergencies.

The Mayor said: "Boston residents should be thanked for cooperating during the snowstorm. Snow removal operations went well because just about everyone complied with emergency parking regulations and extended a hand to help a neighbor. We appreciate all the extra effort and patience it took to get through this storm and thank everyone for helping shovel handicapped ramps and fire hydrants, assisting elderly neighbors, and tossing snow where it would be off the streets. Boston residents have shown once again that during an emergency they can be counted on to pull together."

Proceedings of City Council

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Christopher A. Iannella Council Chamber, City Hall, at 4 p.m., President KELLY in the chair and all the members present.

DISAPPROVING ORDINANCE REGULATING PLACEMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF PUBLICATION DISTRIBUTION DISPENSERS (DOCKET NO. 0335)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

June 12, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councilors:

I return herewith, unsigned and disapproved, an Ordinance passed by your Honorable Body on May 24, 1995, Docket No. 0335, which purports to regulate the placement of newsracks on public ways.

The City Charter confers the authority to regulate the use of public ways upon the executive branch of City government. See, e.g., St. 1907, c. 584, s. 1; St. 1909, c. 486, s. 28. Moreover, the City Council lacks statutory authority to legislate upon such matters. Id. Finally, this veto is required by the City Charter's prohibition against the City Council becoming involved in the executive or administrative business of the City. St. 1948, c. 452, s. 17G.

Despite the foregoing, I am aware that random placement and lack of subsequent maintenance of newsracks have become both an eyesore and a considerable safety concern in the more congested areas of the City.

I share your Honorable Body's concerns about newsracks. They can be obstructions on the public way, pay no rent for use of public property, and are seemingly placed at will by anyone with no regard to the public interest.

To address these public safety and environmental concerns, while keeping in mind the First Amendment issues, I will appoint an official of the executive branch to co-chair with Councilor Thomas Keane a task force to study all aspects of the newsrack issue in more depth. I expect the task force will solicit additional comment from the public and representatives from the publishing industry to develop an appropriate citywide policy.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,

Mayor of Boston.

(Annexed hereto is the documentation referred to.)

CENT OF AVERAGE ASSESSED VALUE OF ALL CLASS ONE RESIDENTIAL PARCELS BE APPROVED FOR FY96 (DOCKET NO. 0934)

Coun. IANNELLA offered the following:

Whereas, Residents of Boston were in the forefront of the successful effort to amend the state Constitution to allow classification for the purpose of property taxation, and,

Whereas, Since adoption of the Constitutional Amendment, this Council has established a policy of utilizing classification to tax residential properties at the lowest level permitted by state statute, and,

COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC SAFETY TO HOLD HEARING RE MERGER OF MUNICIPAL AND BOSTON HOUSING POLICE DEPARTMENTS (DOCKET NO. 0961)

Couns. KELLY, CONLEY, MODICA, HENNIGAN, and FEENEY offered the following:

Whereas, Fourteen months ago the City Council's Committee on Public Safety held hearings to discuss public safety in public housing; and

Whereas, At the time, members of the City Council were told that in addition to routine security by the Boston Police Department, the Boston Housing Authority's family developments would receive around-the-clock security by a new entity comprised of the BHA Police Department and the Municipal Police; and

Whereas, This new entity, consisting of approximately twenty-one members of the BHA police and sixty members of the Municipal police would work side-by-side to make BHA developments safe and secure for all residents; and

Whereas, It was implied and/or stated that the new entity would adopt a name, its members would all wear the same uniform, and, where each would have the same responsibilities and face the same risks, would receive the same pay; and

Whereas, It had also been hoped that the eighty-one-member force would gradually be increased in numbers, and eventually have a staff of one hundred eighty officers, be it therefore Ordered, That the Committee on Public Safety conduct a public hearing to discuss what happened to these noble plans and aforementioned objectives, and that Deputy Gerry McHale, Sgt. Arthur McCarthy, and Joe Feaster of the Boston Housing Authority be invited to attend.

Referred to the Committee on Public Safety.

RESOLUTION ASKING MAYOR ENSURE INTERNS AND RESIDENTS IN MERGED

BOSTON CITY HOSPITAL AND BOSTON UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER CONTINUE TO ENJOY LEGAL RIGHT TO REPRESENTATION BY HOUSE OFFICERS ASSOCIATION (DOCKET NO. 0962)

Couns. FEENEY, YANCEY, HENNIGAN, KELLY, SAUNDERS, MODICA, DAVIS-MULLEN, CONLEY, O'NEIL, NUCCI, and IANNELLA offered the following:

Whereas, Intern and resident physicians provide direct patient care in the emergency rooms, hospital wards, labor and delivery, the operating rooms and primary care clinic of both Boston City Hospital (BCH) and Boston University Medical Center (BUMCH), as well as in many of Boston's neighborhood health centers; and

Whereas, Intern and resident physicians at both BCH and BUMCH routinely work 80 to 100 hours per week and rotate from one hospital to the other throughout their residency training, which lasts anywhere from one to six years; and

Whereas, Intern and resident physicians at Boston City Hospital have enjoyed the rights and privileges of membership in the House Officers' Association (HOA) since 1946; and

Whereas, The City of Boston voluntarily recognized the HOA in 1969 as the sole collective bargaining agent for the intern and resident physicians paid by the City of Boston and/or in Boston City Hospital-sponsored residency training programs; and

Whereas, The HOA has consistently worked to improve the salary, hours of work, benefits and working conditions of all intern and resident physicians for fifty years; and

Whereas, The HOA has strongly advocated on behalf of the patients of Boston City Hospital for fifty years, in particular the City's most vulnerable citizens — the poor, the disenfranchised, immigrants, the homeless; and

Whereas, The HOA has consistently worked to improve patient care at Boston City Hospital, by convincing the hospital to provide, for example, a 24-hour interpreter service, a Patient Care Fund for needed equipment and supplies, and a yearly grant to recruit African-American and Latino housestaff and faculty to better serve the hospital's diverse patient population; and

Whereas, A majority of intern and resident physicians on the BUMCH payroll who are not now represented by the House Officers' Association have indicated by authorization card their desire to seek membership in the HOA; and

Whereas, The HOA is affiliated with the Committee of Interns and Residents, representing 7,000 intern and resident physicians in New York, New Jersey, Maryland, the District of Columbia, Massachusetts, and Ohio in both the public and private sector; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council call upon the Mayor of the City of Boston to ensure that intern and resident physicians in the new, merged Boston City Hospital-Boston University Medical Center will continue to enjoy representation by the House Officers' Association, as is their legal right under the law;

On motion of Coun. YANCEY, the rules were suspended. the resolution was adopted.

RESOLUTION THAT COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC HEALTH HOLD HEARING RE MERGER OF BOSTON CITY HOSPITAL AND BOSTON UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER AND NO VOTE BE TAKEN BY COUNCIL UNTIL ALL PUBLIC HEALTH ISSUES ARE ADDRESSED (DOCKET NO. 0963)

Couns. SAUNDERS and YANCEY offered the following:

Whereas, The Boston City Hospital is a public hospital with a strong public health mission, built for the people and by the people; and

Whereas, The Boston City Hospital has established a tradition and commitment to serving Boston's poor and immigrant communities; and

Whereas, The hospital's public mission endeavors to ensure the public health without the cost of healthcare being the deciding factor of treatment; and

Whereas, The Boston City Hospital has been the medical resource poor and working class people have turned to for help, knowing that at BCH they would receive superior care; and

Whereas, Former Mayors Curley and Flynn envisioned the old and new Boston City Hospital as a medical haven for the city's sick and infirmed, both mayors espousing a deep concern for the need of accessible care in City boasting the most prestigious and most expensive private teaching hospitals in the world; and

Whereas, The Boston City Hospital belongs to the people who use it and is currently the property of taxpayers, rich and poor; and

Whereas, The voice of the users of the hospital and the taxpayer has seldom been heard during public and private discussion regarding making Boston City Hospital a private entity; and

Whereas, It is critical that the public — the users and supporters of BCH — be given full opportunity to express their opinion on any legislative action regarding this publicly-owned entity; be it therefore

Resolved, That the Public Health Committee of the Boston City Council conduct a hearing inviting the general public regarding the future privatization of the Boston City Hospital and that no vote be taken by the City Council regarding enabling legislation or legislation converting the status of BCH in any way until all public health concerns are addressed; and be it further

Resolved, That the Mayor, all city and state agencies, Boston University Hospital Board members and management be invited to attend and testify regarding the future of Boston City Hospital.

Referred to the Committee on Government Operations.

Coun. SAUNDERS doubted the decision of the Chair.

President KELLY in the Chair.

The decision of the Chair was upheld as the judgment of the Council, yeas 9, nays 3:

Yeas — Councillors Conley, Davis-Mullen, Feeney, Hennigan, Keane, Kelly, McLaughlin, Modica, O'Neil — 9.

Nays — Councillors Nucci, Saunders, Yancey — 3.

Couns. FEENEY, YANCEY, KELLY, CONLEY, DAVIS-MULLEN, HENNIGAN, SAUNDERS, MODICA, O'NEIL, AND NUCCI offered the following:

Whereas, The Mayor's Committee on Health Care has completed its process and recommendations; and

Whereas, There is a merger implementation plan calling for the consolidation of Boston University Medical Center Hospital (BUMCH), Boston City Hospital and Boston Specialty Rehabilitation Hospital (BSRH) into one private not for profit corporation; and

Whereas, The employees of BCH and BSRH are totally unionized; and

Whereas, The nonunionized employees of University Hospital began organizing a campaign to seek a collective bargaining vote; and

Whereas, The City of Boston has remained neutral and not interfered in the legally protected right of employees to unionize; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council:

1. Affirms the rights of all employees to organize into unions and to prosper and to have their collective bargaining rights protected during and after the proposed merger.
2. Calls upon University Hospital to respect the rights of employees to choose union representation and to be neutral in the unionization process.
3. Expects that a quick recognition process enables all employees to have a voice in conditions of employment process to ensure that their collective bargaining rights are protected prior to the finalization of the merger.

Be it further resolved, That the City Clerk communicate this resolution to the University Hospital CEO, Elaine Ullian.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

APPROPRIATION AND TAX ORDERS FOR FY1996 (DOCKET NO. 0965)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

June 14, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councilors:

I retransmit herewith my proposed Fiscal Year 1996 Operating Budget for the City of Boston and the County of Suffolk. With the benefit of more information on the status of the state budget, this Proposed Budget addresses issues that have arisen in the last few months of City Council deliberation, as well as some funding for important initiatives for which I request your favorable consideration.

For the first time in many years, the state budget has been approved by the legislature before the start of the fiscal year. While it still requires the approval of the Governor, it appears that several items of importance to Boston and other municipalities have been resolved. The level of state aid, funding for county correction, and the impact of charter schools are now reflected in my Proposed Budget for FY96. We must continue to advocate for a sound revenue-sharing policy between the Commonwealth and its municipalities to lessen the uncertainty of this discretionary approach to an item that accounts for about one-quarter of our revenue base.

The good news is, the level of uncertainty has waned. The bad news is, our conservative estimates were not far off, and the favorable items are counterbalanced by unfavorable ones. Fortunately, the initiatives outlined in the original budget proposal budget proposal are secure — we will add more police officers and youth workers, open more kindergartens and community centers, and continue to equip and maintain a strong Fire Department with the best of safety and technological advances, while upholding improved levels of services in parks, libraries, street cleaning and lighting, and other services of importance to our residents.

Our residents projections for state aid and other state reimbursements must now be adjusted downward by $4.3 million based on the legislature's budget submitted to the Governor. Although certain state aid items have increased, the charter schools initiative will be funded through a decrease to overall state aid. The School Department appropriation will not be affected by this funding decision in FY96.

On the positive side, the state legislature once again supported our request to adjust Boston's funding burden for Suffolk County corrections costs to approach the state-wide average of a 5 percent local budget burden. The City's level of funding has been lowered from 20 percent to 12.5 percent of the total budget for county corrections. The result is a reduction of $5.3 million in the Sheriff's Department budget request before you.

These changes leave little room for adjustment, so I am proposing only a few revisions to the budget originally transmitted to you in April.

I must take this opportunity to address the void being created by federal cutbacks to the City's alternative education initiative (AEI) and summer jobs programs. The precariousness of federal funding for these crucial programs necessitates an increase in the Youth Fund appropriation by $750,000. While more needs to be done, we are hopeful that future block grants will continue to support these successful programs that make a real difference in people's lives.

In addition, favorable state action on my request to establish a Regionalization Commission requires a supporting appropriation of $100,000. The Management Office in the Management and Information Services Division will coordinate our participation in this important new partnership endeavor.

The detailed scrutiny of the Operating Budget over the last few months has also uncovered two items that require correction. Your recognition of the underfunding of contractual costs in the Special Events and Tourism Office has been addressed with a $20,000 increase in appropriation. We have also corrected a salary savings calculation in the Transportation Department by adding $80,000 to its personal services budget.

It is because of your diligent review of the budget that I am able to claim that Boston's budget remains sound and that the initiatives we've proposed are the right decisions for the people of this city. We are changing city government every day, through steady progress, through creative initiatives, and through new partnerships. Thank you for your partnership during this budget process.

I respectfully recommend adoption of this order by your Honorable Body.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

NO. 4

J. P. RESIDENT CHOSEN FOR SCHOOL POSITION

Jane S. Feinberg of Jamaica Plain has been appointed by School Superintendent Thomas Payzant for the position of Director of Communications for the Boston Public School System. Feinberg's responsibilities will include coordinating media coverage of the school system and publicizing some of the system's programs.

Feinberg has been working as a producer and writer for the WCVB-TV program "Chronicle" since 1993. She received her Master's degree in the field of journalism from Boston University and her Bachelor of Arts from the University of Minnesota.

For more than eleven years, Feinberg was a producer, writer, director, and developer for the WGBH Educational Foundation. During that time, she produced several children's programs, including, Learning The Ropes, Animals & Me, and Coming of Age.

Feinberg said, "It seems a rare moment in the history of the Boston Public Schools to move beyond the conventional boundaries of media relations toward an approach that truly engages the myriad communities which are connected to the schools, directly and indirectly. I feel confident that I can make excellent use of my skills, imagination, and commitment, and in the process, reap many benefits for the Boston Public School System."

STATEMENT OF CATHEEN DOUGLAS STONE, CHIEF OF ENVIRONMENTAL SERVICES, CITY OF BOSTON

City of Boston Board of Health, January 4, 1996

In September of 1994, Mayor Menino appointed me Chief of Environmental Services. For the first time in our history, the City of Boston focused more strongly on the environment. Along with preserving open space and Boston's structural treasures, Mayor Menino wanted to make environmental review and enforcement a priority. Since then, the City has been actively pursuing polluters and code violators through a newly created Special Prosecutor's office located in the City's Law Department.

As part of Mayor Menino's intensified environmental efforts, I have closely monitored Todesca's proposal to construct an asphalt plant at 139 Cummings Street. In addition, I sponsored two neighborhood public hearings on the asphalt plant. In these hearings, I heard overwhelming opposition to the asphalt plant from residents and officials because its potential health impact threatens the residents of Dorchester, the South End, Roxbury and South Boston.

Later this evening, you will hear testimony from the Department of Health and Hospitals that sets forth the implications of the increase in air pollution threatened by the proposed asphalt plant. As its neighborhood health studies will convincingly show, the residential neighborhoods surrounding South Bay — South Boston, Dorchester, Roxbury and the South End — have higher than average rates of conditions associated with air pollution such as asthma and lung cancer. Because of the health indexes and public health status of these densely populated neighborhoods and the immediate South Bay area itself, the increased pollution that the proposed asphalt plant would bring is an unacceptable risk of harm to the residents of these neighborhoods.

FIRST NIGHT SENIOR CELEBRATION A ROUSING SUCCESS

More than 2,200 seniors attended the sixth annual First Night Senior Celebration 1996 held on Friday, December 29, 1995, at the Boston Teachers Union Hall located at 180 Mt. Vernon Street, Dorchester.

The festive music and entertainment were provided by various senior groups from all areas of the city. Demetri Haitus once again acted as the Master of Ceremonies with performances given by Johnny Rampino and his accordion and Maria Rossetti Polverio Tuffo on the piano. Participating groups were Aliancianos Unidos of La Alianza Hispana, the Goldenaires and Goldensteppers of the Freedom House, the Harriet Tubman House Dancers, West Roxbury Leisure Choral Group, Ya Pi San - Chinese Golder Agers with a special guest appearance by Maripat Donovan star of "Late Nite Catechism" now playing at the Church of All Nations, Downtown Boston.

The festivities were preceded by a lovely holiday luncheon of turkey, stuffing, and all the trimmings which

You will hear other City officials testify about potential nuisances caused by fugitive emissions from the proposed asphalt plant, air quality and the impact of increased traffic on already congested residential neighborhoods.

Tonight, I welcome the Board of Health's participation in reviewing the public health impact of the proposed plant. While the City has been making strides to improve the quality of life in Boston's neighborhoods, we must scrutinize all proposals closely to determine which new projects should be allowed, and which are dangerous to neighborhood residents. I am here tonight, as are other City officials who have joined me, to explain why the asphalt plant is a dangerous project and does not belong in South Bay.

Welcoming remarks were given by Thomas M. Menino, Mayor of Boston and Diane Lopes, Commissioner. Unmasking Frida Kahlo: The Artist's Intimate Journal

Sarah M. Lowe, writer, curator, and art historian; Wednesday, January 24, at 7:30 p.m.

With the publication of Frida Kahlo's personal diary, the public is now privy to facets of her private self that she carefully concealed, even though, ironically, she painted over fifty vivid self-portraits. The stunning 175 pages of the journal reveal a more vulnerable and intimate side of the artist, although the imagery and prose are often enigmatic and cryptic. Lowe, who contributed an essay and commentary to The Diary of Frida Kahlo, An Intimate Self-Portrait, will speak about the diary and some of its more surprising revelations.

PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT Emergency Switchboard Repairs

C 2040-95

Dear Mayor Menino:

The below-referenced building is owned by the City of Boston. On April 28, 1995, at approximately 5:00 p.m., an explosion occurred at Boston City Hall and a subsequent fire alarm was sounded. The building was immediately evacuated and closed pending emergency repairs. The Public Facilities Department, acting on behalf of the City of Boston, as well as the Boston Police Department, Boston Fire Department and the Boston Water and Sewer Commission responded to the emergency situation. The explosion and resulting fire were caused by failure of the main electrical switchgear. The emergency situation involved life and safety concerns as well as need to protect the property and restore minimal basic services in a safe manner. To facilitate the reopening of Boston City Hall as quickly as possible, a number of contractors were immediately called in to perform consulting, service restoration and cleaning services.

On May 3, 1995, an emergency waiver of the public bidding laws was requested, and granted by the Division of Capital Planning and Operations on June 14, 1995.

One of the services required was repairs to the emergency generator; emergency switchboard and the main switchboard, including the switchgear. The emergency transfer switch associated with the elevator service was checked, and electrical repairs associated with the lighting in the garage area were made. Electrical Testing and Maintenance Company, Incorporated was the first to respond. On April 28, 1995, Electrical Testing and Maintenance Company, Incorporated performed the emergency repair service.

This service was procured pursuant to the emergency procedures of M.G.L. C. 149, s. 44A(4) and is, therefore, exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. C. 30B.

Your Honor's written permission to award a contract to Electrical Testing and Maintenance Company, Incorporated with Massachusetts offices at 68 Industrial Boulevard, Hanson, MA 02341, in an amount not to exceed $21,390, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work performed. The term of this contract shall be from April 28, 1995, through May 3, 1995.

The submission of this request was delayed due to the nature of this emergency. These types of projects require immediate attention, thereby, making it necessary for the vendor to begin work prior to the execution of the contract.

Respectfully,

Charles T. Grigsby, Director.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

JAMES M. KELLY
PRESIDENT, CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 88

MONDAY, JANUARY 29, 1996

NO. 5

MAYOR THOMAS M. MENINO, STATE OF THE CITY ADDRESS

Jeremiah E. Burke High School, January 17, 1996.

Thank you, Steve. Ladies and Gentlemen, Neighbors and Friends, Citizens of Boston. First of all, thank God it didn't snow tonight! And we should also thank the hard-working men and women who've kept the city running during the snow — including the citizens of Boston who reached out a helping hand. Ladies and gentlemen, a BIG round of applause.

This is my third State of the City address. The first was at Faneuil Hall, the second at Northeastern University and now, tonight, I am proud to be here at the Jeremiah E. Burke High School in Dorchester. I look at the faces of you good people who have welcomed me so warmly, and I see the goodness of our whole city. Boston is a wonderful town, and I am very pleased that the first thing I have to report to you tonight is that the State of our City is very good.

Let me quickly mention a few indicators of Boston's strong economy and social health. Today a BILLION dollars worth of construction is going on in our city. The downtown office vacancy rate is less than 10 percent, ranking us in the nation's top five. Our Standard and Poor's Bond Rating was recently put at A+, the highest EVER given to Boston. There are more police on the streets than anytime in the last 15 years.

Two years ago, I launched the COMEBACK of Blue Hill Avenue!! It is happening with 13 renovation projects, 5 new buildings, 14 new businesses and MORE to come! As I promised they would supermarkets have returned to the neighborhoods, six new ones completed, and six more coming! The CITY WORKS! Basic services are delivered better than ever and am I proud of that!

I'm also proud that senior citizens are treated with respect. For example, seniors in public housing can choose where they live.

And finally, two years ago, I promised Boston's high school freshmen that if they graduated with a B average I'd MAKE SURE they could go to college! Those students are juniors now! They are Menino's Class! And my support for them is in place. So keep those grades up, kids and I'll make sure this offer stands for all future classes too.

Tomorrow, at the Boston Municipal Research Bureau, I will speak in detail about Boston's economic good news: from downtown and the Summer Street Convention Center to the Main Streets Initiatives in neighborhoods like Jamaica Plain, Dudley Square and Southie; to the future of our waterfront, and the untapped potential of the Marine Industrial Park.

So, to repeat, the State of our City is very good!

All of this is good news, but it is not the whole picture. And you folks here at the Jeremiah Burke know that better than anyone. The recent history of this high school is not a happy one. Last year the Burke lost its accreditation. That news shocked Boston, and it REALLY shocked the students, parents and teachers here. A lot of people were angry, but NOBODY was angrier than me!

No city, and certainly not a GREAT city like Boston, should EVER have allowed this to happen! Public education BEGAN in Boston! Yet Boston allowed its great system to sink into mediocrity, and some of its schools into a condition of DISGRACEFUL neglect.

I was in THIS auditorium last summer, and a piece of THAT ceiling fell and almost hit me. It could have hit a STUDENT! If THAT doesn't make you angry, nothing will. And THAT, my friends, is exactly why I am giving the State of the City speech at this school tonight. I am here to say that this symbol of ALL that we have been doing wrong must now become the symbol of what we can do RIGHT! Before we are finished, The Jeremiah E. Burke High School will be the PRIDE of Boston!

Now some of you at home are saying, What are the problems of the

STATE OF THE CITY . . .

Boston Public Schools to me? I don't have kids. Or — they are raised already. Or — they go to private schools. Maybe you're saying to yourself that the State of the City is a lot more than schools.

And you're right. Despite the economic strengths I just outlined, this is a time of insecurity for many people. It is a time of massive layoffs in the private sector — the banks one day, — AT&T the next. It is a time when salaries aren't keeping pace with the real costs of raising a family. And it is a time of huge cutbacks in federal support of programs ranging from the prevention of infant mortality to housing for people with AIDS to fuel assistance for senior citizens.

I've been all over this city, and I know what people want more than anything else. And THAT IS ECONOMIC SECURITY. Construction workers don't have it, and neither do health care workers, or even the bank vice president who just approved your loan.

There are things the Mayor of Boston can do to foster economic security AND I WILL DO THEM! Job Creation is my steady priority. To CEOs wondering if Boston is the place to do business, I say that if you create jobs here, I'll reduce your real estate taxes!

I intend to establish a "Job Creation Fund", so that I can say to entrepreneurs and small businessmen "Start your business here, and I'll loan you the money for it!" I am no recent convert to the cause of economic security for ALL! I intend to use every power I have as Mayor and every inch of my bully pulpit TO PROTECT THE JOBS, WAGES AND BENEFITS OF BOSTON CITIZENS!

To Legislators on Beacon Hill, I say "REFORM THE CORPORATE TAX STRUCTURE so that financial service jobs stay in Boston!" 8500 jobs at Fidelity ALONE! Let's create the next generation of financial service jobs! So, to the legislators I say, Let's give these companies what they need to stay here and grow!

To the Governor, I say, and Governor, I say this with all due respect, "You agree with Newt Gingrich that funding and control of programs should move from the federal level to the state level. Well, Governor, PLEASE BE CONSISTENT! Move that funding and control from the state to the cities and towns! If the federal government is going to abandon children, the homeless and the elderly while ALSO abandoning laid off workers, and part-timers who have no benefits then give ME the funds and control, so that I can protect the safety net for those who need it! In Boston, THE SAFETY NET WILL STAND!"

Economic security. Good jobs. Safe streets. Quality of life. Public Health. Those are the spokes of the wheel — but do you know what the HUB of that wheel is? Public education! For young families looking for a reason to stay in the city, for entrepreneurs looking for skilled workers to hire, and for world-class CEOs with an eye on the 21st century, GOOD PUBLIC SCHOOLS

ARE AT THE CENTER OF IT ALL!

Since I became mayor, we have been laying the ground work for real educational reform. "Steady Progress Through New Partnerships" was the theme of my speech last year, and that describes exactly what's been happening in public education. The building blocks of reform are now in place, there are four of them — and here they are:

ONE: "Site Councils!" the new partnerships of parents, teachers and principals, the beginning of school-based management.

TWO: The ground-breaking new Teachers Contract! It makes teachers our greatest resource for reform.

THREE: The new School Committee! A team of highly qualified leaders who represent the broad range of our population.

And FOUR: the new Superintendent! Tom Payzant is one of the leading educators in the United States. He is already bringing about real change — here at the Burke — and at schools across the city.

A hands-on Mayor, working together with a hands-on school superintendent, a highly qualified School Committee, and a committed City Council. THAT is the New Partnership For Steady Progress that Boston has been waiting for.

And now what? I would like to quickly sketch my vision of what you will see in the next five years. Again, four points:

First, and most important, STANDARDS! The kids in our schools will demonstrate real skill in the key curriculum areas: writing, reading and math. There will be high standards for every school in the city, not just a few. There will be high expectations for every student, and the support they need to meet those expectations. There will be report cards not just for students, but for educators and for schools. You saw the start of this only last week when Tom Payzant released a very frank evaluation of all the schools.

In the year 2001, every Boston school will offer an Extended Day program. It will feature tutoring, homework help, enrichment activities and recreation. In class, standards will be stiffer and after class, support will be more generous. Extended Day will give young children what they need to get a good start, it will give at-risk teenagers what they need to stay out of trouble and the rest what they need to thrive. With Extended Day, schools will not only be safe. They will be safe havens.

Speaking of safety, I have to digress for a minute. Unfortunately, many youngsters have dropped out of school. Maybe their failure began with ours, but once guns and knives get pulled, that doesn't matter. The kids who have turned to violence have made a big mistake! Police tell me that there are only a FEW HUNDRED hardcore gang members. But they are killing innocent people! THIS MUST STOP! And so, to the gang members and gun carriers and drug pushers I say "WE KNOW WHO YOU ARE! We will have ZERO TOLERANCE for your guns! WE WILL GET YOU OFF OUR STREETS!"

But even my toughest cops tell me that jails are not enough. Yes, we have to punish the wise guys, but there are a lot of other kids we have to rescue! And once again, the solution, the center of the wheel IS EDUCATION. Before we spend millions of dollars on jails and rehab, let's do the job right the first time! LET'S REACH THESE KIDS IN SCHOOL!

Third — By the year 2001, SCHOOL BUILDINGS TO BE PROUD OF! I have a Blue Ribbon Commission that has just submitted its master plan. It calls for the new construction needed for the 21st century, and I am going to implement it. Many schools will be redesigned to serve as Community Learning Centers, offering not only children, but their families access to educational, social, and health care services. For example, AIDS education and pre-natal care will be based in neighborhoods, linked to education.

Fourth — COMPUTERS! By the year 2001, there will be computers not just in the lab, but in every classroom. One computer for every four students! A computer for every teacher! Every school library linked to the 6 million books of the Boston Public Library! In my visits to the schools, I've seen the difference computers make, the wonder on the faces of those students! I believe it when the experts say that computers offer the breakthrough in learning we've all been waiting for.

Not only that. This new high-tech capacity will link our classrooms and those of our great colleges and universities. By 2001, our public schools will be to the universities what the teaching hospitals in this city are to the medical schools. Let me emphasize that — Boston's public school students FINALLY taking full advantage of this city's world-class intellectual resources.

WATCH WHAT HAPPENS NEXT YEAR when the new High School of the Arts is launched in collaboration with Emerson, New England Conservatory, Berklee, Mass. College of Art and the Museum School. Our public schools will be training the best teachers in the country. And who will benefit most? Our CHILDREN — that's who.

In grade school, in Hyde Park many years ago, I was not a great student, I used to sit in class and look out the window until the teacher would snap me out of it. "Are you dreaming again, Tommy?" she's day.

And I hear you saying it — "Are you dreaming?"

No, I am not dreaming. I am telling you what's going to happen in this city over the next five years. THIS IS A DO-ABLE PROGRAM! I was elected mayor to make it happen.

I'm the guy who came by his education the hard way, and THAT, more than anything else, qualifies me for this job. The change that took place in my life is a change that I want to see happen in the lives of EVERY boy and girl in this city!

When I was in high school, one of my teachers gave up on me. She told me not to bother trying to learn. Forget it, she said. Well, I never forgot THAT. I know what it's like when people expect you to be less than you can be. For a long time I expected less of myself. But I had OTHER teachers. And I had a family that expected more of me including my wife and my own kids, which is why I went back to school as an adult.

You know that about me. But what you may not know is where that experience leaves me. I want to be judged as your mayor by what happens now in the Boston public schools. I intend to give everything I have to this effort. I expect you to hold me accountable to what I have said tonight. If I fail to bring about these specific reforms by the year 2001, THEN JUDGE ME HARSHLY!

But in the meantime, give us a chance to succeed for the sake of our children. If you are a public school parent, get involved in your child's school. If you are the parents of children in private school, or suburban schools, or if you are young parents in Dorchester, West Roxbury or Mattapan, about to make the big decision, all I ask is that you watch what we're doing here. Visit a school, or volunteer. We'll gladly put you to work. You'll discover things you didn't know. Good things.

For example, after years of declining numbers, the Boston Public Schools unexpectedly enrolled 1,700 more students this year than last! And we believe that's just the beginning of a great turn-around!

And now, one more thing you can do. Next November, when you vote in Boston a ballot question will ask you to vote FOR or AGAINST the appointed School Committee. That committee is just now coming into its own. Two weeks ago the members elected as Chairman Robert P. Gittens, a distinguished Suffolk County prosecutor. Don't undercut our efforts by introducing narrow politics back into the schools! Don't halt our hard-won momentum of reform!

Vote FOR the appointed School Committee! YES to the future! On the ballot, vote NO to the past!

The 21st century promises to be a golden era for Boston. When its history is written, they'll say Boston's new day — safe neighborhoods; quality housing; a good place to raise kids; that it all began with the comeback of public education — high standards and high achievement in ALL the schools!

They'll say it was the result of the work of a whole city — from its businesses to its parents, from its educators to its students. And I believe they will say that the citywide comeback was symbolized by the COMEBACK of the Jeremiah E. Burke High School!

Maybe they'll say the Mayor of Boston came here one year to give his State of the City address, when he talked about the spokes of the wheel — good jobs, safe streets, public health, quality of life, and when he talked about the HUB of the wheel which was the reform of public education.

To achieve it, HE OFFERED A VISION, a common sense, do-able plan; - the basic support of city government to implement that plan, and also the civic hope to try it. All for one reason — ECONOMIC SECURITY! For the whole city! For EVERYBODY!

If they say that, I will be PROUD to have been your mayor.

Thank you. And good night.

MAYOR PROTECTS TENANTS FROM UNFAIR EVICTIONS

Mayor Files "Just Cause"

Legislation

Mayor Thomas M. Menino announced, on January 12, that steps are being taken to protect tenants from unfair evictions. During a news conference at the Nazarro Center in the North End, the Mayor announced that he was filing a Home Rule Petition with the Boston City Council to regulate some residential evictions.

The Petition, if approved by the City Council and Legislature, would require landlords to demonstrate a reason for evicting a tenant. Legitimate reasons for evicting would include situations where the tenant:

- has violated provisions of the lease,
- has committed or permitted a nuisance to exist,
- has been involved in illegal activity,
- or where the tenant is being evicted so a member of the landlord's family can reside in the unit.

Mayor Menino said, "No resident of this city, who is a good tenant, should have to live in fear of being evicted, especially those who are senior, disabled, or poor. The Home Rule Petition I am filing, protects tenants from eviction without just cause. This legislation would say to a landlord: No explanation? No just cause? No eviction! Period."

One aspect of the Home Rule Petition allows the judicial system to consider the financial situation of the elderly, disabled, or poor tenant in the case of eviction for non-payment of rent or failure to pay a rent increase. If the rent would be over thirty percent of the household's income and there are no housing alternatives available to the tenant, the court may exercise discretion. Without this measure, the judge has no choice but to evict.

The Home Rule Petition would affect buildings with three or more units. Three-families where the building is owner occupied would be exempt.

HOME RULE PETITION TO PREVENT EVICTION WITHOUT JUST CAUSE

Remarks of

Mayor Thomas M. Menino,
January 12, 1996

As I look around this room, I see so many wonderful seniors from the North End and other neighborhoods. Each of you has contributed so much to the life of this city — you've worked hard, you've raised families, and you've chosen Boston as your home. Now, we owe it to you to provide protections — so that you don't have to live in fear of being put out of your homes. No resident of Boston should have to live in that fear — especially our senior, disabled, and low-income residents.

The home rule petition that I am filing today protects seniors and all tenants from eviction without just cause. For senior, disabled, and low income residents, the measure also would offer an affirmative defense to eviction — meaning, if this eviction will leave them homeless, they can't be evicted just because they're struggling to make ends meet.

Under this legislation, judges would be allowed to use their discretion when ruling on eviction cases for these vulnerable tenants. Without this ordinance, a judge has no choice but to evict. With this ordinance, the judge can consider other factors — including good old-fashioned compassion — when making a decision.

This legislation is about helping people — plain and simple. It's about protecting the 75-year-old disabled woman who has lived in the same apartment in Brighton for the past twelve years. She recently got an eviction notice from her landlord in New York City, saying he "greatly appreciates her past tenancy" but was giving her eviction notice "with regret." Nothing more. Well, this legislation would say to that landlord: No explanation? No just cause? No eviction! Period.

This type of legislation is already in effect in other states. Even New Hampshire — our conservative neighbor to the north — has enacted laws to protect tenants. The City of Boston and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts should not hesitate to do the same.

You know, there are people who are saying that government is doing too much, that government needs to lead less and follow more. They say government has become too big and does more harm than good. Well, I say this issue highlights government's responsibility to lead. How could a Mayor — or anyone in public office — sit back and watch people be evicted from their homes for no good reason? It simply shouldn't happen. And here is Boston, with the passage of this legislation, I'll make sure it won't happen.

STATEMENT OF MAYOR THOMAS M. MENINO TO THE LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE ON HEALTH CARE, JANUARY 16, 1996

Members of the Committee, thank you for inviting me to join you here today. At a time when more and more working people are seeing the social safety net sliced away, it is good to see that in Massachusetts, there are people in both political parties willing to do something about it.

Recently, I was in Washington for meetings on the current budget standoff, and after hearing some of the discussions about "CBO's" and "CPI's", I could understand why there is so much frustration down here — they are so consumed by numbers that many have lost touch with the people back home, and the issues that really count with families. Like basic economic security.

So I don't come here today with BO projections or academic research. I come here with one set of numbers that I want you to consider — the number of real people who contact us through the Mayor's Healthline — because in most cases, they have nowhere else to go.

In 1994, the Mayor's Healthline served nearly 12,000 people — an increase of 29 percent over the previous year. Three quarters of the callers had no health insurance, and 64 percent had incomes below the poverty level. Among those seeking medical attention, 82 percent were experiencing symptoms or were seeking care for a known condition. Nearly two-thirds of the pregnant women who called were uninsured, and more than 20 percent reported no regular source of health care.

Now, we in Boston refused to bury our heads in the sand and do nothing about the changing world of health care — we are responding. To bolster our front line of care — our Community Health Centers — I have committed over $25 million in capital support.

And, with the help of this committee, the full legislature and Governor Weld, we secured the ability to change with changing times and move forward with the consolidation of Boston City Hospital and University Hospital. It wasn't an easy move politically, but it is a necessary one, if we are to continue providing quality care for those in need.

In the "BCH" process, everyone realized that they had to give up something in order to get to where we need to be to survive. This is true at the state level as well, as you embark on trying to find common ground. Let me pledge my support to you in this effort — because it is so important to the economic health of Boston and our region.

We look forward to working on the details of this plan with our own Representative John McDonough, who has dedicated so much of his time to finding a solution for the growing numbers of uninsured workers and children. Representative McDonough knows health care — not just from his extensive study of the issue but also from the range of needs he sees in his district every day.

Historically, the economic competitiveness of our city and state has not come from our natural resources or our wonderful weather, but from a quality of life that flows out of our great educational and health care institutions. Wouldn't it be an irony if we lost that competitive advantage, because our state with all these great institutions couldn't figure out how to provide the basics in health care coverage?

Let's not wait and wonder, Mr. Chairman. Let's move forward and lead. Thank you.

PERFORMANCE AT MFA

Inca Son: Music and Dance of the Andes, Cesar Villalobos, founder and director, Wednesday, January 31, at 7:30 p.m.

Inca Son presents traditional music and dance from the Andes Mountains of Peru and Latin America in colorful, authentic Inca attire. Every song and dance has a special importance, meaning, or background in Andean folklore, and many of the instruments played were hand-crafted by the musicians themselves. Inca Son was voted "Best Ethnic Band" at the United Nations festival inaugurating the Year of the World's Indigenous People (1993).

"Andean music has a luminous character. The string instruments (guitars, charangos, indigenous small mandolin-like instruments) can create delicate, gleaming textures. The winds — especially the sikus (pan pipes) and quenás (cane flutes) — have a haunting quality ... Led by flutist and percussionist Cesar Villalobos, the ensemble playing was tight enough for a formal presentation but loose enough to evoke the vitality and rough sound of the old local conjuntos, the bands that created and nurtured much of this music."

Fernando Gonzalez, The Boston Globe.

"EYES ON THE PRIZE," PBS CIVIL RIGHTS SERIES ON SCREEN AT DUDLEY BRANCH LIBRARY

"Eyes on the Prize," PBS Television's award-winning series on America's civil rights years (1954-1965), will be shown on Saturday afternoons at the Dudley Branch of the Boston Public Library, 65 Warren Street in Roxbury.

Produced by Henry Hampton's Boston-based Blackside, Inc., the series — through archival footage and contemporary interviews — shows that the period of time during which the struggle for social justice in America became one of the most significant mass movements in our nation's history. As a result of the civil rights activities engaged in by millions of black and white Americans — who had never before participated in the democratic process — America was transformed into a more democratic society. The movement fundamentally changed those who were involved in it and created a new generation of leadership.

The Dudley Square Branch Library is pleased to make the series available to its patrons as part of the Boston Public Library's 33rd Annual Black History Month celebration.

The schedule: Feb. 3, "Ain't Scared of Your Jails" (1960-1961). Explores the tactic of non-violence in the civil rights movement; Feb. 10, "No Easy Walk" (1961-1963). Looks at the successes and failures of non-violence in Albany, Georgia, and Birmingham, Alabama, and the march on Washington, D.C.; Feb.

17, "Mississippi — Is This America?" (1962-1964). Focuses on the early work of the NAACP in Mississippi and the SNCC Freedom Summer Campaign; and Feb. 24, "Bridge To Freedom" (1965). Describes the protest strategies used by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and the SCLC to make voting rights a major national issue.

All screenings are at 2 p.m. and are free and open to the public. For additional information please call the Dudley Branch Library at 442-6186.

"VON STERNBERG: DIETRICH AND THE THIRTIES" FILM SERIES AT BPL

"Von Sternberg: Dietrich and the Thirties," a series of films directed by Josef von Sternberg, will be presented on Monday evenings at 6 p.m. in the Rabb Lecture Hall of the Boston Public Library in Copley Square.

Von Sternberg was a great director, but is best remembered by the American public as the discoverer of Marlene Dietrich. For five years, 1930-1935, von Sternberg and Dietrich were inseparable as far as the public was concerned. Their relationship was professional, personal and is, as then, mired in myth. The artistry of von Sternberg's direction and Dietrich's sultry performances in their seven films together mesmerized the audience. However, in 1935 their partnership was over due to studio politics and personality conflicts.

As Dietrich's star rose, von Sternberg's descended. Citing production cost overruns and falling box office profits, Paramount released von Sternberg from his contract. Over the next few years, he worked for a variety of studios — Columbia, MGM, United Artists — but his films never attained the success or glory of his Dietrich years. By the mid 1950s, he had retired from film directing and in 1969, at the age of 75, Josef von Sternberg died of heart failure.

The Boston Public Library is pleased to present this retrospective of the works of one of America's master film directors: The schedule Jan. 29, "Morocco" (1930); Feb. 5, "Dishonored" (1931); Feb. 12, "An American Tragedy" (1931); Feb. 26, "Shanghai Express" (1932); Mar. 4, "Blonde Venus" (1932); Mar. 11, "The Scarlet Empress" (1934); Mar. 25, "The Devil Is a Woman" (1935); Apr. 1, "Crime and Punishment" (1935); Apr. 8, "The King Step Out" (1936); Apr. 22, "The Epic That Never Was" (1965); and Apr. 29, "Sergeant Madden" (1939). All screenings are free and open to the public. The Central Library is wheelchair accessible and assistive listening devices are available for hard-of-hearing patrons. To request a sign language interpreter or for other special needs, call 536-5400, Ext. 295 (V); 536-7055 (TTY). Coun. FEENEY, on behalf of the Committee on Government Operations, submitted the following:

Report on Docket No. 0880, message of the Mayor and order for a petition for a special law: The Boston Public Health Act of 1995 (referred June 8) — recommending passage of the order in the following new draft:

Ordered, That a petition to the General Court, accompanied by a bill for a special law relating to the City of Boston to be filed with an attested copy of this order be, and hereby is, approved under clause (1) of section eight of Article Two, as amended, of the Amendments to the Constitution of The Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to the end that legislation be adopted providing precisely as follows, except for clerical or editorial changes of form only:

Section 1. (a) It is hereby declared for the benefit of the people of the city of Boston, in order that there be an increase in their welfare and an improvement in their living conditions, it is essential that a new public health care system be established for the city of Boston that can meet the challenges of a rapidly changing health care environment and ensure the continuous delivery of quality health care to the residents of the city; and the new public health care system must be able to coordinate outreach, health education, prevention, outpatient, home care, emergency, inpatient, specialty, aftercare, rehabilitation, and long term care services in order to create a comprehensive and integrated continuum of care with the goal of promoting health and well-being, meeting the medical and public health needs of all served and of educating future physicians and caregivers; that a new public health commission be created in the city of Boston as the successor to the city's department of health and hospitals in order to better administer, enhance and expand the public health services provided by the city; and that the city's new public health care system should consist of a network of health care providers joining the city's traditional public health services and facilities with private hospitals, community health centers and other associated community based organizations and providers.

(b) It is hereby further declared for the benefit of the people of the city of Boston that the city should be empowered to provide for the establishment of a new medical center as the centerpiece of the city's public health network to be composed of Boston city hospital, Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital and a private, non-profit hospital; that the mission of the new medical center, in partnership with the city's public health commission, community health centers and other community based providers, shall be to consistently provide excellent and accessible health care services to all in need of care, regardless of status or ability to pay; that recognizing the historic mission and commitment of Boston city hospital to the public health needs of all residents of Boston, the new medical center shall have a continued commitment to the urban population, to vulnerable populations within the city, including those residents of the city who are underserved by existing health care services, and to other communities served; that the new medical center shall play an important role as a referral, tertiary level hospital serving the region in a financially responsible manner and continue to serve the most acutely ill patient populations; and that in the conduct of this mission, the new medical center shall commit itself to six equally important guiding principles: (1) ensuring the availability of a full range of primary through tertiary medical programs, in addition to a commitment to public health, preventive, emergency and long term rehabilitative care programs; (2) serving both urban and suburban communities in a culturally and linguistically competent manner that strives to meet the current and changing health care needs of people of all races, languages, cultures and economic classes; (3) providing a high degree of medical, nursing, management and technical competency and accountability; (4) enhancing its role as a major academic medical center, including support for bio-medical, public health, medical education and basic science research; (5) providing managed care services to the communities served by the new medical center and participating effectively and competitively in managed care plans serving the patient population; and (6) treating its patients, staff and communities served with respect and dignity.

Four members of the commission shall constitute a quorum and the affirmative vote of four members shall be necessary and shall suffice for any action taken by vote of the commission. Any such vote shall take effect immediately unless otherwise provided therein and need not be published or posted. The provisions of sections 23A to 23C, inclusive, of chapter 39 of the General Laws shall apply to all meetings of the commission and section 10 of chapter 66 relating to the availability of public records as defined in clause 26 of section 7 of chapter 4 of the General Laws shall apply to the commission. The commission shall annually elect such other officers as it deems necessary.

(e) For purposes of chapter 268A of the General Laws, the members of the commission appointed by the mayor shall be deemed to be special municipal employees; any member of the commission serving ex officio shall not be deemed to be an employee of the commission for such purposes. Subject to the foregoing, the provisions of chapter 268A shall apply to all members, officers and employees of the commission and the commission shall be deemed to be a municipal agency for purposes of said chapter 268A, provided that the commission may purchase from, sell to, contract with or otherwise deal with any hospital, community health center or other health care provider in which any member of the commission or its executive director is in any way interested or involved provided that such interest or involvement is disclosed in advance to the members of the board and recorded in the minutes of the board, and provided further that no member having such an interest or involvement may participate in any decision of the board awarding or otherwise approving any contract with such hospital, community health center or other health care provider.

Section 4. (a) The commission shall appoint, employ and determine the compensation, duties and conditions of employment of an executive director, who shall not be a member of the commission, to serve as the chief executive officer of the commission for a term not to exceed five years and until his or her successor is appointed and qualified. Any executive director shall be eligible for reappointment for like five-year terms. An executive director may be removed at any time by the commission for cause but only after reasonable notice and a public hearing unless the same are in writing expressly waived. The executive director shall administer the affairs of the commission, including without limiting the generality of the foregoing, matters relating to contracting, procurement, personnel and administration, under the supervision of the board, in accordance with such authorizations as the commission may from time to time reasonably adopt and continue in force.

(b) The commission shall also appoint persons to hold the offices of secretary and treasurer of the commission. The secretary shall be custodian of all books, documents and papers filed with the commission, the minute book or journal of the commission and its official seal. The secretary or any assistant secretary appointed by the commission may cause copies to be made of all minutes and other records and documents of the commission and may give certificates under its official seal to the effect that such copies are true copies, and all persons dealing with the commission may rely upon such certificates. The duties of the treasurer shall be those appertaining to such office, under the supervision of the executive director, and in addition such as may from time to time be prescribed by the commission. The executive director, with the approval or authorization of the board, shall also appoint and establish reasonable compensation, benefits and other terms of employment for other officers and other employees of the commission as it deems necessary, including management and professional personnel. Except as otherwise herein provided, officers and employees of the commission shall serve at the pleasure of the commission, or under collective bargaining agreements or contracts of employment; provided, however, that no contract of employment, except for that of the executive director, shall exceed a term of three years, which may be renewed upon the expiration thereof.

(c) The commission may indemnify any present or past member, officer, employee or agent of the commission against liabilities, claims and expenses, including legal expenses, in connection with any actual or threatened proceeding, including any settlement thereof approved by the commission, arising by reason of any act or omission within the scope of his duties for the commission; provided, however, that no indemnification shall be provided to a person concerning a matter as to which such person is finally adjudicated to have acted either without the belief held in good faith that his or her conduct was in the best interests of the commission or with reason to understand that his or her conduct was unlawful. Costs and expense may be paid prior to a final disposition upon receipt of an undertaking, which the commission may accept without regard to the financial resources of the person indemnified, that the person receiving the benefit of payments shall repay such payments if he or she shall be finally adjudicated not to be entitled to indemnification hereunder. The commission may purchase insurance on behalf of itself and any of its members, officers, employees or agents against any liability arising out of such person's status as such, whether or not the commission would have the power to indemnify such person against such liability.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in section 6 with respect to certain employees of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals transferred to the commission, to the extent of the rights provided for those employees in said section 6, chapter 31 of the General Laws shall not apply to the officers, employees and other personnel of the commission. Chapter 150E of the General Laws shall apply to the commission, to the extent the provisions of the same are apt, and for purposes of said chapter, the commission shall be considered an "employer" or "public employer" as defined therein. The commission may designate a representative to act in the best interest of the commission in labor relations matters with its employees. The commission shall recognize as the bargaining representative of any particular bargaining unit, or portion of a city-wide bargaining unit, or any other unit or portion thereof for which recognition has been extended by the trustees of health and hospitals immediately prior to the transfer of employees to the commission on July 1, 1996, any labor organization which represents a majority of the employees of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals, as applicable, in such bargaining unit or portion thereof immediately prior to such transfer. The commission shall have the authority to bargain collectively with labor organizations representing employees of the commission and to enter into agreements with such organizations relative to wages, salaries, hours, working conditions, health benefits, pension and retirement allowances, and the submission of grievances and disputes to arbitration. No collective bargaining agreement entered into by the commission, however, shall limit inherent management rights which shall include, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the following: (i) employment, assignment and reassignment of employees, and the determination of standards therefor, (ii) termination and discharge of employees, provided that any collective bargaining agreement may protect employees against such actions on arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable grounds, (iii) determination of the commission's levels of service and levels of staffing and the methods, means and personnel for performing operations, and (iv) supervision and control of employees. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the promotion of employees, and standards therefor, the establishment of work rules, the introduction and use of technological improvements in the workplace and the evaluation of and establishment of productivity standards for employees may be the subjects of permissive bargaining between the commission and its employees.

Section 5. (a) Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, on and after the effective date of this act, the city, acting by its commissioner of health and hospitals with the approval of the city council and the mayor, is hereby authorized to execute and deliver one or more agreements with University Hospital, Inc., a non-profit charitable corporation organized and existing under the laws of the commonwealth which is the owner and operator of Boston university medical center hospital, or any successor to such corporation, or any other private, non-profit charitable corporation organized under the laws of the commonwealth licensed by the department of public health under section 51 of chapter 111 of the general laws to operate an acute-care hospital as defined in section 25B of said chapter 111, providing for the merger or consolidation of the operations, assets and liabilities of such corporation, and the acute-care hospital and other health care facilities under its ownership, custody and control, with all or a portion of the operations, assets and liabilities of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals comprising or otherwise allocable to Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital, provided that the corporation resulting from such merger or consolidation accepts as its mission the statement of policy set forth in section 1(b) of this act and agrees with the city to utilize the acute-care hospitals and other health care facilities under its custody and control, including without limitation Boston university medical center hospital, Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital, to provide a single standard of health care to all in need of care, with equal access regardless of status or ability to pay. Any such resulting corporation shall be a private, non-profit corporation organized under the laws of the commonwealth. Each employee of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals at the effective date of such merger or consolidation whose work is determined by the commissioner of health and hospitals to be primarily related to the operation of Boston city hospital or Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital, or otherwise to the powers, duties and obligations of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals consolidated with or transferred to the corporation resulting from such merger or consolidation, shall be offered employment by such corporation. Any merger or consolidation as provided for in this section shall be effective on July 1, 1996, and prior to the transfer to the commission on that date of all other rights, powers, obligations and immunities of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals as provided in section 6 of this act. The provisions of section 2 of chapter 358 of the acts of 1890 shall not apply to the corporation resulting from the merger or consolidation of the operations of Boston city hospital, Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital and a corporation described in this section.

(b) Subject to the approval of the city council as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, all agreements between the city and a corporation described in this section necessary or desirable to effect the merger or consolidation of the operations of Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital with the operations of such corporation, including without limitation any lease or sale agreement described in this section, shall be in such form and shall have such terms and conditions as the commissioner of health and hospitals, with the approval of the mayor, may determine to be in the best interests of the city. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, any such merger or consolidation may be effected by one or more leases or operating agreements from the city to the corporation resulting from such merger or consolidation of all or any part of the real and personal property comprising Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital under the care and custody of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals, and all or any part of any other property, real and personal, tangible and intangible, appurtenant thereto or necessary or desirable for the operation thereof, for such initial term, not exceeding fifty years, and such renewal terms, as may be set forth in such leases or operating agreements, and for such rental, annual or otherwise, as the commissioner of health and hospitals, with the approval of the mayor, shall determine after appraisal or other independent valuation of the fair market rental value of such property. Any such merger or consolidation may also be effected by the sale by the city to such corporation of all or any part of such property or other assets on such terms and conditions and at such purchase price as the commissioner, with the approval of the mayor, shall determine after appraisal or other independent valuation of the fair market value of such property or other assets, provided that any such sale shall first be approved by vote of the city council in accordance with section 2 of chapter 486 of the acts of 1909, as amended. All agreements executed and delivered by the city to effect such merger or consolidation as provided in this section, and all other agreements between the city or the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals and the corporation resulting from such merger or consolidation, or pertaining to the provision by such corporation of medical or other public health services to or on behalf of the city, shall be assumed by and imposed upon the commission on July 1, 1996, in accordance with section 6 of this act.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of general or special law to the contrary, the agreements between the city and a corporation described in this section providing for the merger or consolidation of the operations of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals pertaining to Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital shall provide as a condition thereof that the corporation resulting from such merger or consolidation shall annually prepare and file with the mayor and the president of the city council a report on its commitment to and provision of health care services in the prior year accompanied by a copy of the annual report filed by the corporation for such year with the division of public charities as provided in section 8F of chapter 12 of the General Laws and including financial statements relating to the operations and properties of such corporation maintained in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles to the extent applicable and audited by an independent certified public accountant or firm of certified public accountants. Such agreements will further provide that such corporation will hold annually not less than one meeting of the corporation that will be open to the general public after notice filed with the city clerk not less than fourteen days prior to the meeting, and that such corporation will establish an office for patient advocacy to investigate, directly or by contract with an independent, non-profit organization formed for the purpose, patient complaints with respect to the delivery of hospital services.

(d) In addition to the powers and rights granted the city by the foregoing provisions of this section, at any time after the effective date of this act, the city, acting by the commissioner of health and hospitals, with the approval of the city council and the mayor, may enter into one or more contracts with a corporation described in this section for the management by such corporation or by the personnel thereof, under the control, direction and supervision of the board of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals, of all or substantially all of the operations of Boston city hospital or Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital, and any other health care facilities under the care and custody of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals, on such terms and conditions, and for such period, ending not later than June 30, 1996, as the commissioner shall determine to be in the best interests of the city.

(c) Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, passage of this act shall constitute a determination under section 51 of chapter 111 of the General Laws that there is a need for the corporation, together with its hospital, clinics, health centers and operations, that results from any mergers, consolidations or acquisitions of University Hospital, Inc. and the operations of Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital in the manner contemplated by this section into a new, non-profit corporation organized under the laws of the commonwealth, and upon application by such resulting corporation, the department of public health shall issue to such corporation as soon as possible an original license to establish and maintain such hospitals, clinics, health centers and other facilities as had been maintained and operated by University Hospital, Inc., Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital prior to such mergers, consolidations or acquisitions.

(f) In the event that the operations of Boston city hospital are merged or consolidated with the operations of University Hospital, Inc. in the manner contemplated in this section, the hospital resulting from such merger or consolidation shall be deemed to retain the status and characteristics which Boston city hospital had prior to such merger or consolidation as a public service hospital as defined by 114.1 CMR 36.13(2)(i)(3) and as a public hospital for purposes of determining eligibility for and determination of all payments from all governmental units for the provision of general health supplies, care or rehabilitative services and accommodations, as those terms are defined in section 1 of chapter 495 of the acts of 1991, including without limitation for purposes of determining eligibility for payments to high public payer hospitals pursuant to 114.1 CMR 36.13(10)(a)(2); disproportionate share adjustments for safety net providers pursuant to 114.1 CMR 36.13(10)(c); payments owed to or from the uncompensated care pool in accordance with regulations established pursuant to chapter 118F of the General Laws; and entitlement to payment from and participation in medical assistance programs established under chapter 118E of the General Laws on a basis which recognizes such resulting hospital as the successor to Boston city hospital.

(g) Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter 32 of the General Laws or any other general or special law to the contrary, on and after the effective date of this act the city, acting by its collector-treasurer, with the approval of the mayor, shall provide for an early retirement incentive program as provided in this section for any employee of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals who (i) shall be an employee of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals and an active member-in-service on the effective date of this act of the state-Boston retirement system established under chapter 32 or any predecessor system, (ii) shall be eligible to receive a superannuation retirement allowance in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (1) of section 5 or subdivision (1) of section 10 of said chapter 32 upon the effective retirement date specified in his written application therefor to the Boston retirement board and (iii) shall have filed a written application after September 1, 1995, but no later than February 1, 1996, to retire for superannuation as of the date which shall be specified in such application; provided, however, that said date for retirement shall be no earlier than January 1, 1996, and no later than June 30, 1996; and provided further that no employee who retires and receives an additional benefit in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be entitled under section 5 of this act to be offered employment by a corporation resulting from a merger or consolidation described in section 5 or to be transferred to the commission as provided in section 6 of this act. Said program shall be administered by the Boston retirement board, which shall also promulgate regulations to implement the provisions of said program. Notwithstanding any provisions of said chapter 32 to the contrary, the normal yearly amount of the retirement allowance for an eligible employee who is employed by the city and who has paid the full amount of regular deductions on the total amount of regular compensation as determined under paragraph (a) of subdivision (2) of section 5 of said chapter 32, shall be based on the average annual rate of regular compensation as determined under said paragraph (a) and shall be computed according to the table contained in said paragraph (a) based on the age of such member and his number of years and full months of creditable service at the time of his retirement increased up to five years of age or up to five years of creditable service or by a combination of additional years of age and service the sum of which shall not be greater than five, provided, however, that the collector-treasurer of the city, with the approval of the mayor, may limit the amount of additional credit for service or age or a combination of service or age offered and the number of employees for whom a retirement calculated under the provisions of this section shall be approved; provided, further that if participation is limited, the retirement of employees with greater creditable service shall be approved before approval is given to employees with lesser creditable service. For the purpose of this section words shall have the same meanings as in chapter 32 of the General Laws, unless otherwise expressly provided or unless the context clearly requires otherwise. An employee who retires and receives an additional benefit in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be deemed to be retired for superannuation under the provision of said chapter 32 and shall be so subject to any and all provisions of said chapter 32. The total normal yearly amount of the retirement allowance, as determined in accordance with the provisions of section 5 of said chapter 32, of any employee who retires and receives an additional benefit under the retirement incentive program in accordance with the provisions of this section shall not exceed such percentage of the average annual rate of his regular compensation received during any period of three consecutive years of creditable service for which the rate of compensation was the highest as may be established by the collector-treasurer of the city, with the approval of the mayor, or of the average annual rate of his regular compensation received during the periods, whether or not consecutive, constituting his last three years of creditable service preceding retirement, whichever is greater. The Boston retirement board shall prepare a funding schedule which shall reflect the costs and the actuarial liabilities attributable to the additional benefits payable under the retirement incentive program in accordance with the provisions of this section and said schedule shall be designed to reduce the additional pension liability attributable to such costs and liabilities to zero on or before June 30, 2016; provided, however, that said board shall triennially update such schedule until June 30, 2016. In each of the fiscal years until the actuarial liability determined under this section shall be reduced to zero, it shall be deemed an obligation of the city to fund such liability and there shall be appropriated in each such fiscal year the amount required by the funding schedule and the updates

(h) Notwithstanding any provision of this act to the contrary, if the city proposes to enter into negotiations with any corporation other than University Hospital, Inc. or a successor corporation thereto with respect to the merger or consolidation of the operations of such corporation and the operations of the department of health and hospitals allocable to Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital as provided in this section, the city shall provide notice of such negotiations to each labor organization representing employees of the city that would be affected by such merger or consolidation and, to the extent permitted by law, shall offer such organizations an opportunity to participate in discussions between the city and such corporation regarding bargainable issues.

Section 6. (a) Notwithstanding any provision of this act to the contrary, except as otherwise expressly provided in this paragraph, from the effective date of this act until June 30, 1996, the rights and powers granted by the provisions of this act to the commission shall be exercised by the board of health and hospitals, acting by the commissioner thereof, with the approval of the mayor. On and after January 1, 1996, or as soon thereafter as a quorum of the commission may be appointed, the commission shall undertake the following: (i) provide for the appointment of an executive director and such additional staff as shall be necessary for the management and operation of the commission after consideration of the employees of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals to be transferred to the commission as provided in this section 6; (ii) make and deliver to the mayor no later than the second Wednesday in March, 1996, in accordance with section 8, the commission's initial assessment of the public health needs of the city; (iii) submit to the mayor no later than the second Wednesday in March, 1996, the commission's proposed public health services budget for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1996, and an estimate of the commission's net cost of public health services, if any, for such fiscal year, all in accordance with section 8; (iv) adopt no later than the second Wednesday in June, 1996, its public health services budget for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1996, in accordance with section 8; (v) provide for the transfer of the functions and employees of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals to be effective on July 1, 1996, in accordance with this section 6, including without limitation negotiation in accordance with the provisions of chapter 150E of the General Laws of collective bargaining agreements with such employees to be effective on and after July 1, 1996; and (vi) in conjunction with a corporation described in section 5 of this act, establish an employee retraining and development fund, to which the city may appropriate such sums as the city council and the mayor may approve, to pay costs of retraining employees of the department of health and hospitals, the trustees of health and hospitals and such corporation who may be adversely affected by changes in the city's health care workforce as a result of a consolidation described in section 5 of this act. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, the rights and powers of the commission authorized by the provisions of this paragraph to be exercised by the commission on and after January 1, 1996, and prior to July 1, 1996, upon request of the commission to, and with the approval of, the mayor, may be exercised by personnel of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals. All expenses of the commission incurred in the performance of the rights and powers provided in the paragraph shall be borne by the city, provided that such expenses, or a budget therefor, shall have been first approved by the mayor. The mayor shall submit to the city council such supplementary appropriation orders for such expenses as he shall deem appropriate.

(b) Effective July 1, 1996, the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals are hereby abolished and, subject to section 5, all rights, powers, appropriations, obligations and immunities of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals under law or contract shall be transferred to and assumed by the commission. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, subject to section 5, on July 1, 1996, the commission shall assume the general care and control of Boston city hospital, Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital and of all other public health facilities of the city, except as otherwise provided in this act. In addition to the other rights or powers granted to the commission by the provisions of this act, from and after July 1, 1996, the commission shall have the powers and perform the duties from time to time conferred or imposed on boards of health of cities in the commonwealth by general laws applicable to the city, except the powers and duties conferred or imposed by section 12 of chapter 83 of the General Laws, by section 127 of chapter 111 of the General Laws, and by sections 122, 123, 124 and 125 of said chapter 111 in so far as applicable to places of human habitation; the commission shall also have the powers and perform the duties conferred or imposed by general or special law upon the board of health of the city, or the health commissioner of the city, including chapter 89 of the acts of 1889, as amended, except the powers and duties conferred or imposed by sections 13, 14, 19, 20, 21 and 22 of chapter 382 of the acts of 1885, as amended, by chapter 185 of the acts of 1897, by chapter 219 of the acts of 1897, as amended, by section 128 of chapter 550 of the acts of 1907, as amended, and by section 116 or any other provision of the Boston Building Code.

(c) Subject to section 5, on July 1, 1996, ownership, possession and control of Boston city hospital, Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital and all other real and personal property under the care and custody on such date of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals, and all contracts, books, papers, records, and documents of whatever description pertaining to Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital or otherwise to the affairs of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals, shall pass to and be vested in the commission without consideration or further evidence of transfer and shall thereafter be in the ownership, possession and control of the commission; and all debts, liabilities and other obligations of the city pertaining to or on account of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals, including the obligation of the city to pay the interest and principal requirements on all bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness outstanding on June 30, 1996, issued by the city for purposes pertaining to Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital and any other property transferred to the commission under this act, shall be assumed by and imposed upon the commission; provided that all liabilities of the city in tort, whether actual or contingent, pertaining to the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals and arising out of actions or events which occur prior to the transfer of control to the commission as provided in this section, shall not be assumed by or imposed upon the commission but shall continue to be the liabilities of the city. Except as above provided, all actions and proceedings duly pending before, all actions and proceedings duly pending against, and all actions and proceedings duly begun by the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals shall continue unabated and remain in full force and effect notwithstanding the passage of this act and the transfer of control contemplated hereby and may, at the discretion of the court, commission, board or other body having jurisdiction, be completed before, against or by the commission.

(d) All orders, rules, regulations and ordinances duly promulgated by the city or the department of health and hospitals pertaining to the department or otherwise in the exercise of its powers under law in effect on July 1, 1996, shall remain in full force and effect to the extent consistent with this act until superseded, revised or rescinded by the commission. All contracts, including collective bargaining agreements, leases, mortgages, obligations, benefits, rights and liabilities of the city, the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals which are transferred to the commission under any provision of this act shall continue in full force and effect in accordance with law and shall be transferred to, assumed by and imposed upon the commission by operation of law.

(e) Notwithstanding any provision of this act to the contrary, ownership, possession and control of any real property located on Long Island in the city which is under the care and custody of the department of health and hospitals on June 30, 1996, and subject to section 5, so much of the real property comprising the site of the Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital, or appurtenant thereto, that is determined by the commissioner of health and hospitals to be not required for the purposes of the commission, as evidenced by a certificate of the commissioner, approved by the mayor, filed with the city clerk on or before June 30, 1996, shall not pass to and be vested in the commission but shall be transferred on July 1, 1996, to the care and custody of the public facilities department of the city existing under chapter 642 of the acts of 1966, as amended.

(f) Subject to section 5, on July 1, 1996, all unexpended balances of moneys in accounts of, for or on behalf of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals, including without limitation accounts receivable, grants, public trusts, bequests, gifts and other funds pertaining to Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital or any other property, right or operation of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals, each as determined by the collector-treasurer of the city, with the approval of the mayor, including moneys and investments, if any, held for the payment of security of interest and principal of then outstanding bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness of the city as provided in this section, but excluding money and investments held by or for the account of the Boston retirement board on account of accrued retirement benefits under chapter 32 of the General Laws for employees of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals, shall be deemed to be held in trust for and shall be transferred to the commission. Subsequent to such date, all moneys collected or received by the city from any source on account of Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital, subject to section 5, and any other property, right or operation of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals transferred to the commission by operation of this act, as determined by the collector-treasurer of the city, other than any such moneys properly allocable to a right, liability or obligation retained by the city under any provision of this act, shall be deemed to be held in trust for and shall be forthwith transferred and paid over to the commission.

(g) Subject to section 5, on July 1, 1996, each employee of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals whose work is determined by the commissioner of health and hospitals to be primarily related to the powers, duties and obligations of the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals transferred to the commission on such date by operation of this act shall become an employee of, and shall be transferred to, the commission without any loss of accrued rights to holidays, sick leave, vacations or other benefits of employment, and by such transfer, except as otherwise provided in this section, such employee's seniority, wages, salaries, hours, working conditions, health benefits, pensions and retirement allowances under the law or contract shall not be impaired, provided that thereafter such employee shall perform his or her duties under the direction, control and supervision of the commission. All such employees who immediately prior to such date hold permanent appointments classified under chapter 31 of the General Laws shall be entitled to the rights and benefits of, and shall be subject to the provisions relating to, tenured employees under chapter 31 with respect to that position and their term of office shall not be deemed to be interrupted within the meaning of said chapter 31, notwithstanding any change in title or duties. Rights and obligations under collective bargaining agreements with respect to employees transferred to the commission from the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals, except to the extent expressly inconsistent with this act, shall be assumed by and imposed upon the commission, and employees transferred to the commission who are subject to such agreements shall continue to be represented by the employee organizations that are parties to such agreements until such time as they elect to be otherwise represented in accordance with the provisions of chapter 150E of the General Laws. Existing bargaining units as determined by the state labor relations commission for department of health and hospitals and trustees of health and hospitals employees shall remain in full force and effect for those employees transferred to the commission until the expiration date of collective bargaining agreements covering such employees. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no employee of the city who is hired by the commission subsequent to July 1, 1996, shall be entitled to transfer to the commission any accrued or credited vacation, sick or personal time.

(h) Every employee of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals who immediately prior to being transferred to the commission by this action is a member of the state-Boston retirement system established under chapter 32 of the General Laws and chapter 520 of the acts of 1947, as amended, or predecessor retirement systems thereto, shall continue to be a member thereof and subject to the laws applicable thereto. Any employee of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals who immediately prior to being transferred to the commission by this section is not a member of the state-Boston retirement system, and any person first employed by the commission subsequent to July 1, 1996, whose compensation is principally derived from federal and state grants, shall not be required to become a member of the state-Boston retirement system but may elect to become a member of such system upon notice to the commission delivered within thirty days of commencement of employment; provided that no such employee shall be entitled to make make-up payments as described in section 3 of chapter 32 of the General Laws for any period while such employee was not an active member-in-service of a retirement system described in chapter 32. All other employees of the commission shall be required to become members of the state-Boston retirement system in the same manner and subject to the same laws, rules and regulations as persons entering the employ of the city. The commission shall deduct from the wages of its employees who are members of the state-Boston retirement system and pay over to the Boston retirement board such sums as the city would deduct and pay over if such person were an employee of the city. The commission shall annually reimburse the city for its share of any amounts appropriated by the city under the provisions of chapter 32 of the General Laws for or on account of retirement allowances for employees of the commission, and for its share of any amounts appropriated by the city for administrative costs of the Boston retirement board, based on an allocation, determined by such retirement board, of the years of creditable service of such employee with the commission and with the city or one or more other governmental bodies which are members of the state-Boston retirement system. The commission shall not be liable for accrued retirement allowances to or on account of employees of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals who are not transferred to and employed by the commission pursuant to the provisions of this act, including without limitation any such employees employed by a corporation described in section 5.

(i) Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, the commission may contract with any employee of the commission who is not a member of the state-Boston retirement system with respect to the establishment, continuation, maintenance and funding of any deferred compensation or other pension or retirement plan or program under state or federal law which has been maintained for such employee prior to his or her employment by the commission or which the commission thereafter agrees to maintain, and for such purpose the commission may become a trustee or sponsor of, and may make contributions to, any such plan or program. For purposes of this paragraph, the word "employee" shall have the same meaning as "employee" in section 1 of chapter 32 of the General Laws and shall also include consultants and independent contractors who are natural persons paid by the commission and whose duties require that their time be devoted to the service of the commission during regular business hours.

(k) Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, any employee of the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals at June 30, 1996, who is transferred to the commission pursuant to the provisions of this act or who is employed by a corporation resulting from a merger or consolidation described in section 5 of this act and who prior to such transfer or employment was a member of the city of Boston credit union shall be entitled to remain a member of the city of Boston credit union retaining all rights, benefits and responsibilities of membership.

(l) Notwithstanding any provision of this act to the contrary, if the merger or consolidation of the operations of Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital and the operations of a corporation described in section 5 of this act is not approved by the city council and the mayor on or before June 30, 1996, as provided in section 5, the provisions of this section 6, other than the provisions of paragraph (a) hereof, including without limitation the transfer of assets, liabilities and employees from the department of health and hospitals or the trustees of health and hospitals to the commission provided for in this section, shall become effective solely upon vote of the city council approved by the mayor, and until so voted, the board of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals, and the powers and immunities thereof, shall remain in full force and effect.

Section 7. (a) In addition to its other powers enumerated in this act, the commission shall have the following rights and powers:

(8) to provide directly or by contract with a corporation resulting from a merger or consolidation described in section 5 of this act, or by contract with any other health care provider, health care services to all persons in need of care regardless of ability to pay;

(9) to mortgage, pledge or assign any property of the commission, real or personal, and any money, fees, charges, or other revenue of the commission and any proceeds derived by the commission from the sale of property, insurance or condemnation awards;

(10) to make application for, receive, accept and expend any federal, commonwealth or city loans or grants for or in aid of any program or operations of the commission or of any facilities or other property of the commission, and to receive and accept contributions from any source of either money, property, labor or other things of value;

(11) to sue and be sued, prosecute and defend actions relating to its properties and affairs, and to be liable in tort in the same manner as the department of health and hospitals immediately prior to the effective date of this act, provided, however, that the commission is not authorized to become a debtor under the United States Bankruptcy Code;

(12) to appoint or employ personnel as herein provided and to engage legal, accounting, management, financial, medical, consulting and other professional services and agents;

(14) to manage or to contract with the city, acting by the collector-treasurer of the city with the approval of the mayor, for the management of public trusts, bequests and other endowment funds held by or on behalf of the commission for application to the operations of Boston city hospital or Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital or any other corporate purpose of the commission; for all purposes of the foregoing, the hospitals operated by a corporation resulting from a merger or consolidation described in section 5 of this act shall be deemed to be the successors to Boston city hospital or Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital, as applicable;

(15) to adopt, amend and repeal reasonable health regulations not inconsistent with any public health regulation of the state department of public health or with any other provision of law, and prescribe for any violation of a health regulation made under this clause a fine according to the nature of the offense; and

(16) consistent with the constitution and laws of the commonwealth, to exercise such other powers, including all powers pertaining to the department of health and hospitals and the trustees of health and hospitals and to the properties under their custody and control held by the city on the effective date of this act not inconsistent herewith, as may be necessary or convenient for or incident to carrying out the foregoing powers and the accomplishment of the purposes of this act.

(b) With the approval of the city council and the mayor, the commission may borrow money for any of its corporate purposes from the Health and Educational Facilities Authority established by chapter 614 of the acts of 1968, as amended, and may issue its bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness therefor and may secure such indebtedness in such manner as it and such authority may deem appropriate, provided that any such indebtedness shall be solely the debt of the commission and the city shall have no obligation for the payment thereof. The commission shall be deemed to be a hospital within the meaning of section 3 of said chapter 614. The commission also may borrow money for any of its corporate purposes from, and may issue its bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness to, the city, and the city may appropriate such sums as may be necessary to fund such loans. To meet any such appropriation, the city, acting by its collector-treasurer, with the approval of the mayor, may borrow money and incur indebtedness to the extent authorized by any bond act, as defined in chapter 643 of the acts of 1983, as amended, heretofore or hereafter enacted, and upon vote of the city council as provided in such bond act. Any such indebtedness of the city shall be incurred, and any bonds, notes or other evidences of the city issued therefor shall be issued and secured in accordance with, and subject to the limitations of, chapter 643 of the acts of 1983, as amended.

(c) Not later than January 1, 1996, or as soon thereafter as a quorum of the members of the commission shall be appointed as provided in section 6 of this act, the mayor of the city, by order filed with the city clerk, shall establish a public health advisory committee to encourage ongoing coordination among the commission, public health providers, consumers of public health services and funding sources in addressing the city's public health needs; to assist the mayor in his review of the commission's annual public health assessment and public health services budget as provided in section 8; to provide advice to the mayor regarding the performance by the commission of its responsibilities under this act and by public health providers under contract with the commission of their responsibilities under those contracts; and to otherwise provide advice to, and prepare such reports as may be requested by, the mayor on public health issues in the city. Such committee shall consist of not less than nine members appointed by the mayor and shall include representation by at least two consumers of public health services provided by the commission. The members of the committee shall not be deemed to be employees of the city for purposes of chapter 268A of the General Laws.

Section 8. (a) Subject to any limitations thereon or any approval required therefor under any other general or special law, the commission is hereby authorized to fix, revise, determine and collect fees, rates, rents and other charges for the services, programs and other activities provided by it or as a result of the operation of the properties under its custody and control, including without limitation, subject to section 5, Boston city hospital and Boston specialty and rehabilitation hospital. The fees, rates, rents and other charges established by the commission shall be so fixed and adjusted in respect of the aggregate thereof so as to provide revenues to the commission at least sufficient, together with all other moneys available to the commission, including all amounts appropriated to the commission as provided in this section, to pay or provide for all operating expenses of the commission and all debts and other obligations of the commission as the same become due, to create and maintain such reserves as may be reasonably required for its operations or to secure its debts and other obligations; and to pay or provide for all necessary repairs, replacements and renewals to the properties under its custody and control and any other amounts which the commission may be obligated to pay or provide for by law or contract.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in section 6 of this act, not later than the second Wednesday in March in each fiscal year the commission shall prepare and file with the mayor and the president of the city council an annual assessment of the public health needs of the city. The annual public health assessment shall include an evaluation of existing local, state and federal programs and services to address the public health needs of the city and the adequacy of funding sources available for such programs and services, an assessment of programs, services and other activities provided by private public health providers to address the public health needs of the city, including the performance of providers under contract with the commission in accordance with this act, and proposals by the commission to enlarge or enhance its response to the public health needs of the city including new, expanded or revised programs or services to be provided by the commission or by public health providers under contract with it for the ensuing fiscal year.

(c) Not later than the second Wednesday in March in each fiscal year the commission shall prepare and submit to the mayor its proposed public health services budget for the ensuing fiscal year. The public health services budget shall include all expenditures which in the judgment of the commission are required to fund the programs, services and activities to be provided by the commission in the ensuing fiscal year, and to pay or provide for all of its expenses, debts and other obligations during such fiscal year, and shall set forth the revenues and other moneys expected to be available to the commission to fund the same, including without limitation the proceeds of grants, gifts, loans and other assistance. The public health services budget shall also set forth the amount, if any, by which the expenses of the commission for such fiscal year are expected to exceed the revenues and other moneys of the commission available therefor, hereinafter called the net cost of public health services. If the commission's public health services budget for any fiscal year indicates a net cost of public health services for such fiscal year, the budget shall be subject to review and approval by the mayor as provided in this section. The mayor may approve the commission's public health services budget or he may reject it and return it to the commission with his objections. If the mayor accepts the commission's public health services budget he shall include an amount equal to the commission's net cost of public health services for the next ensuing fiscal year in the annual budget of the current expenses of the city for such fiscal year, and may submit thereafter to the city council such supplementary appropriation orders as he may deem necessary. Not later than the second Wednesday in June, the commission shall adopt its public health services budget for the next ensuing fiscal year. Except to the extent inconsistent with the foregoing provisions of this section, the appropriation by the city of the commission's net cost of public health services shall be subject to the provisions of section 3 of chapter 486 of the acts of 1909, as amended, and, except as the mayor shall otherwise approve, to the allotment system provided in section 18 of chapter 190 of the acts of 1982, as amended.

Section 9. The commission and all its revenues, income and real and personal property used solely by the commission in furtherance of the mission declared in section 1 shall be exempt from taxation and from betterments and special assessments and the commission shall not be required to pay any tax, excise or assessment to or for the commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions.

Section 10. The commission shall at all times keep full and accurate accounts of its receipts, expenditures, disbursements, assets and liabilities, which shall be open to inspection by any officer or duly appointed agent of the commonwealth or the city. The commission shall submit an annual report in writing concerning its operations to the mayor and collector-treasurer of the city and the president of the city council and shall file a copy of such report with the city clerk within 120 days following the close of its fiscal year. Such report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1997, and for each fiscal year thereafter, shall include financial statements relating to the operations and properties of the commission maintained in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles to the extent applicable and audited by an independent certified public accountant or firm of certified public accountants.

Section 11. Upon termination or dissolution of the commission, the title to all funds and other properties owned by it which remain after payment or the making of provision for payment of all obligations of the commission shall vest in the city.

Section 12. The provisions of this act shall be deemed to provide an exclusive, additional, alternative and complete method for the doing of the things authorized hereby and shall be deemed and construed to be supplemental and additional to, and not in derogation of, powers conferred upon the commission by law, provided, however, that insofar as the provisions of this act are inconsistent with the provisions of any general or special law, administrative order or regulation or any limitation imposed by a corporate or municipal charter, the provisions of this act shall be controlling.

Section 13. This act, being necessary for the welfare of the city and its inhabitants, shall be liberally construed to effect the purposes hereof.

Section 14. The provisions of this act are severable, and if any provision hereof shall be held invalid in any circumstances, such invalidity shall not affect any other provisions or circumstances. This act shall be construed in all respects so as to meet all constitutional requirements. In carrying out the purposes and provisions of this act, all steps shall be taken which are necessary to meet constitutional requirements whether or not such steps are required by statute.

Section 15. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

JAMES M. KELLY
PRESIDENT, CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 88

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1996

NO. 6

BOSTON WINS CARNEGIE AWARD

Mayor Thomas M. Menino announced, on January 22, that Boston has been chosen as a pilot site for a new Carnegie Foundation grant aimed at improving the health and well-being of young children and their families. The $225,000 Starting Points Initiative Funding from Carnegie Corporation will be matched by local funding and resources to support Boston's "Connecting the Dots for Boston's Tots" project over the next two years. The project is a partnership of Mayor Menino's office, Boston City Hospital, Parents United for Child Care, Project EQUIP, Partners HealthCare System, Boston Children's Museum, The Boston Foundation and the United Way's Success by Six program.

Boston is one of 13 pilot sites to win funding under the Carnegie Foundation's Starting Points Initiative, a two-year national program funded by over $3 million to mobilize community action. The initiative follows recommendations outlined in a 1994 Carnegie report, Starting Points: Meeting the Needs of Our Youngest Children. The Carnegie Corporation selected the grants following a national competition involving proposals from 30 cities and states.

"With the help of our partners, we're going to match the Carnegie grant with resources to help parents of young children get the resources they need for child care and health care," said Mayor Menino. "We are also going to help parents with training and technical assistance through CH's Family Nurturing Center and Parents United for Child Care to secure a healthier environment to raise their young families."

Mayor Menino met at the Parkman House with Boston's collaborating partners who developed the "Connecting the Dots for Boston's Tots" initiative including: Lainy Fersh of Parents United for Child Care; Matt Fishman of Partners HealthCare System; Gerry Robinson of the Children's Museum; Margaret Blood of United Way's Success by Six; Charlotte Kahn of The Boston Foundation; Dr. Barry Zuckerman, BCH's pediatric chief; Lillian Shirley, HH's public health director; Deborah Klein-Walker of Mass. DPH;

City Human Services Chief Juanita Wade; and, MIS Chief Michael Hernon.

In addition to the efforts of the Family Nurturing Center and Parents United for Child Care, the new pilot program will also support:

- an expanded FirstLink Project of Boston City Hospital, Brigham & Women's Hospital, Mass. DPH and the city's Department of Health and Hospitals supported by Partners HealthCare System. The program will expand the universal birth certificate system begun at BCH, which will help families access health care for their very young children;
- Project EQUIP, funded by AT&T to enhance early childhood education, will assess infant and toddler care and help improve the quality of family child care service delivery;
- The Parent Line for the United Way's Success by Six initiative to provide comprehensive information to parents;

- An expanded Children and Families Database organized by the Boston Foundation, the city's MIS Department, and Department of Health and Hospital's Public Health Division for use in service delivery improvement, program evaluation and community based activities; and,
- Training and educational resources for both families and providers coordinated by the Child Care Careers Institute and the Boston Children's Museum.

STATEMENT OF BOSTON MAYOR THOMAS M. MENINO TO THE MASSACHUSETTS MUNICIPAL ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING, JANUARY 19, 1996

I want to welcome all of you to Boston for MMA's 1996 Annual Meeting. In a few minutes, we're all going out to clear the last few storm drains in our city, followed by a tour of Boston's new "snow farms."

Now, the weather this winter has not been kind to our cities and towns. And the forecast ahead for our communities, in terms of our relations with the State House and Washington, is also full of clouds, and the possibility of deep snowdrifts and torrential downpours.

Simply put, this is going to be a year of great uncertainty for our communities. Four months into the federal fiscal year, I have no idea whether I'm going to be able to offer our neediest kids a summer job. I don't know if we're going to be able to build any new units of housing with federal tax credits. And I don't know if I'm going to be able to offer alternative education programs to those who want to turn their lives around and become productive citizens.

And neither do you.

And at the State House, we will have a limited amount of time to press a number of unresolved issues. One issue that I think unites all of us in principle is the need for school building assistance and technology assistance. As I noted in my State of the City speech on Wednesday, Boston's student enrollment rose by one thousand, seven hundred students this year. Many of you are facing similar increases in enrollment and similar needs for improved educational infrastructure and most of all, computers.

Let's not be played off against each other this year — city versus suburb, Metro Boston versus the west, and so on. Let's have a common agenda on education assistance, on the devolution of block grants to the local level, and on the need to craft a real empowerment agenda for the communities of our Commonwealth.

We need to define the next steps for the transferral of resources from Washington back to hometown America. There are programs that properly belong to the states — but there are many more — education, crime control, community development and job training — that can best be operated at the local level.

I spoke to this topic the other night when I asked Governor Weld to work with us to plan the next steps of what he called in his reorganization plan — "local empowerment". In that report, the Administration stated, "It would be better to leave the money at home in the first place, where decisions can be made that reflect local needs and preferences". As the mayor of a city with tremendous needs that, at the same time, generates almost one quarter of the state's resources, I can certainly agree with that statement.

And if the state is looking for good models — they can find no better work being done to cut red tape and send resources directly back to our cities than in Secretary Cisneros' blueprint for the reinvention of HUD. Because of the innovative and proactive work done by Secretary Cisneros, important programs such as community development block grants have been spared the axe and public housing authorities are being given new flexibility. In these tough times, Henry Cisneros is not standing still — he is standing up for cities and moving forward and we all appreciate that.

But in asking the federal and state governments to do things differently, we must ourselves look to rethink our own patterns of service delivery. One strategy we are pursuing is regionalization — such as in our new agreement with Chelsea for joint purchase of health insurance that will save our neighboring city about $400,000. In the next few weeks, we hope to move forward with MMA to implement the regionalization commission, which will develop more of these partnerships.

We must also know when to declare victory and move on. I did that yesterday when I called for the sale of the highly successful Boston Marine Industrial Park to the private sector. In that case, government led, and turned the closing of that former Army base into one of our region's great economic assets, particularly with the opening of the new third harbor tunnel. Now, we must move on and use the dividends of that project to support the next generation of economic initiatives for our city and region.

Recently, I was asked by the National League of Cities to participate in their "Election '96" project, and I agreed. But I am concerned that too often, we start these projects long after the process has begun, and the issues have been defined. And so, today, I say that we at MMA should begin thinking now about our statewide agenda for 1998, and how we get early assurances from statewide candidates that our agenda — a local empowerment agenda — will be high on their list.

If we can do this — start now by looking at new partnerships and relationships — and present a substantive agenda for the future, then MMA will have done the right thing by our cities and towns — and by our people.

Thank you.

ALZHEIMER'S DAY AT THE STATE HOUSE

The Boston Commission on Affairs of the Elderly is working with the Alzheimer's Association of Eastern Massachusetts to promote awareness of Alzheimer's disease and its effects on victims and their families. A Legislative Education and Awareness Day (LEAD) is planned for the Massachusetts State House on Thursday, March 14th, from 9:30 a.m. to noon. The LEAD event is an excellent opportunity for legislators and others to learn more about Alzheimer's and related diseases and ways in which the State can help. The morning's activities will be chaired by Senator Marc Pacheco and Representative Doug Petersen and invitees include Commission

David Mulligan from the Department of Public Health, Secretary Ollivierre from the Executive Office of Elder Affairs, and Lieutenant Governor Paul Cellucci.

The focus of the event will be the importance of maintaining long-term-care services in Massachusetts for Alzheimer's patients and other elders, and the push for creating a State Office of Alzheimer's Services. The Alzheimer's Association and the elder caucus have been promoting a bill, H.5356, at the State House to create an Alzheimer's Office that would help to coordinate and promote services and education of Alzheimer's issues. The bill has passed the House of Representatives and there is now a push to achieve a favorable result in the State Senate and from the Governor.

The Commission and the Alzheimer's Association will be providing transportation to the event. If you would like more information about LEAD or Alzheimer's legislative issues please call either Mark Wadwaling at the Commission, 635-9598, or Deborah Thomson at the Alzheimer's Association, 494-5150.

MENINO FILES "HISTORIC" LICENSE PLATE PETITION

Plate Would Raise Funds for Preservation Projects

Mayor Thomas M. Menino, on January 23, filed a home rule petition with the Boston City Council to create a new Massachusetts license plate series utilizing historic locations within the City of Boston. Revenues from the proposed new plates would support the creation of a Boston Historic Preservation Trust, which would provide small grants to support preservation projects throughout the city.

Mayor Menino said, "Boston is America's city of history — from Faneuil Hall and the Old State House to the African Meeting House and Faneuil Hall. We should be proud of these symbols and utilize them to raise support for other historically significant projects in our city. I can see grants from this fund used to conduct neighborhood surveys, pay for initial planning and architectural work, or employ young people to help maintain historic sites."

The legislation must be approved by the City Council and the Massachusetts Legislature before becoming law. The fee for the plate would be similar to that of the Massachusetts Environmental Trust (the "whale" plate) in that $35 per plate would be directed to the historic fund. From August, 1994, to June 1995, the "environmental" plate generated over $900,000.

Mayor Menino noted, "In these days of diminishing federal resources, we must be more creative than ever in generating funds to preserve our neighborhoods and our history. Boston's 'Historic City' plate will help us recall our great past while leveraging the resources to make preservation projects part of our promising future."

MAYOR PRESENTS INNOVATIVE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT TOOLS AT BOSTON MUNICIPAL RESEARCH BUREAU MEETING

Menino Unveils Four New Initiatives To Spur Economic Development In Boston

Following his State of the City address, Mayor Thomas M. Menino delivered four new economic development initiatives to a packed crowd at the Boston Municipal Research Bureau meeting at the Swissotel in Downtown Crossing on January 18.

"As Mayor, there are things that I can do to foster economic security in our great city — and I will do them!" said Mayor Menino. "Boston needs to begin measuring its economic success not by what's going up but by what's going on. The economic development of today and tomorrow is not about skyscrapers. It's about reusing historic buildings such as the Customs House Tower, it's about institutional investment like the MGH Proton Center, it's about expanding our waterfront."

Mayor Menino unveiled four new proposals designed to stimulate economic development and job creation in Boston. The initiatives are intended to, "create the next generation of economic development projects in this city."

The four proposals are:

1. The Boston Job Creation Fund, which will be established through the sale of the City-owned Marine Industrial Park;
2. Real estate and corporate tax incentives, such as the Sale/Leaseback Program and enhancement of Chapter 121A;
3. Investing government pension funds to businesses that will create jobs for Boston; and
4. Building a convention center supported by a "doable" financing plan.

The Menino Administration's economic development strategy focuses on job creation, retention and expansion. Each initiative is crafted to stimulate increased employment opportunities for Boston residents from working on a legislative agenda to address corporate tax issues for financial services companies to building a convention center which would bring an additional 200,000 to 400,000 visitors to the city.

MAYOR AND BOSTON EDISON LAUNCH "KIDS COMPUTE — 2001"

Mayor Thomas M. Menino and Boston Edison Chairman and CEO Thomas J. May announced on Jan. 22 that Boston Edison is donating money, computers, and personnel to the Boston Public School System. The company will initially provide $250,000 and 32 computers to the school system and will contribute personnel to a "computer corps" which will train educators, mentor students, and assist with the installation of computer hardware. Boston Edison's gift launches the City of Boston program: Kids Compute-2001.

Mayor Menino said, "I am thrilled that Boston Edison has answered my call to help improve the Boston Public School System. The donation is all encompassing, addressing the hardware and training needs of the students and teachers. Boston Edison's generous contributions will help realize the goal I've set: of equipping all students with the computer knowledge they need to succeed in the world after they graduate."

Mr. May said he decided to donate some of the company's resources after hearing the Mayor's State of the City speech: "I was impressed by the vision the Mayor outlined, his courage in putting a stake in the ground for achieving educational excellence, and the need he expressed for the business community to step forward and help turn that vision into reality. There is no more valuable resource to a company like Boston Edison and all the other employers in Boston than young people who are well educated. Skills in both literacy and 'numeracy' are equally important, and the computer is a vital tool for both learning and for doing."

There are three contributions Boston Edison is making to the Menino Administration's Kids Compute-2001 partnership:

Financial Support

The Boston Edison Foundation is immediately giving a cash contribution of $100,000 to the partnership and will give payments of $75,000 in 1997 and in 1998. Other businesses will be asked to contribute to a fund to be used to purchase and install appropriate computer hardware and software to meet the Mayor's goal of providing in the classroom one computer for every four students and every teacher and to link school libraries with the Boston Public Library.

Personnel

Boston Edison will contribute personnel to a "computer corps" which will consist of volunteers from businesses who will help install computer hardware and software, provide advice to educators, and devote time to working with students and teachers in classrooms. Boston Edison is immediately designating one employee as the first member of the "corps." This corps will work with the Mass. Technology Corps, a team of 50 volunteers already working within the Boston Public Schools to train students and educators in computer technology.

Computers

Boston Edison will initially donate 32 computers to the schools. All companies will be invited to donate computer equipment that no longer meets the companies' needs yet which is still useful for teaching purposes.

REMARKS OF MAYOR THOMAS M. MENINO, BOSTON EDISON PARTNERSHIP WITH THE EDWARDS MIDDLE SCHOOL, JANUARY 22, 1996

[acknowledge Bob Gittens, Chuck McAfee, Supt. Payzant, Tom May]

When I was first elected Mayor two years ago, my first official visit was here at the Edwards Middle School — one of the city's three "technology middle schools."

Several Edwards students — who have since graduated — attended the Inaugural Ball following my first State of the City address.

So, I find it particularly meaningful to return here to launch KIDS COMPUTE 2001 — a program inspired by this year's State of the City address.

As you know, my annual speech this year centered around education and its importance to the economic health of our city.

One of the four goals I outlined was to advance computer literacy and to provide one computer for every four students.

As I said in my speech, there are people who will hear this goal and say, "WHAT? Are you dreaming, Mayor?"

And I'll say it again: "No, I'm not dreaming."

I know that here in Boston, we can and will make meaningful education reform a reality.

It's going to require a commitment from everyone — the City, students, educators, parents, residents, and the business community — to make our schools a top priority TODAY and in the future.

And just as I knew they would, partners are already coming forward to say, "Yes, Mayor, we share your vision. We are here to help."

Today, I am delighted to recognize the good will and generosity of one of Boston's most committed and viable partners — Boston Edison.

The day after my State of the City speech, Tom May — CEO of Boston Edison — responded to our appeal.

He agreed that expanded technology instruction is crucial to the success of Boston Public Schools.

But more importantly, he backed up those words with action.

This afternoon, Tom will announce how Boston Edison will help us make sure that every Boston student is computer literate.

And he will join me in encouraging other businesses — no matter how large or small — to do their share too.

I've said it before, and I'll say it again:

I am ready to give everything I have to this effort.

And I look forward to welcoming even more partners who believe in our young people — partners who believe in the Boston Public Schools.

I want to thank Boston Edison — and Tom May — for helping us to turn words into action — and for acknowledging that the future of our city hinges on the future of our children. Thank you.

"DENNIS DOLLS" AND "JOHN F. COLLINS" EXHIBITS EXTENDED THROUGH FEBRUARY AT BPL

"Nursery Rhymes and Fairy Tales," an exhibition drawn from the Boston Public Library's renowned Dennis Doll Collection, and "A Tribute to John F. Collins (1919-1995)," an exhibition of photographs, campaign memorabilia, and architectural plans chronicling the legacy of the former mayor of the City of Boston, have been extended through the month of February at the BPL's Research Library in Copley Square.

The dolls are the creations of Clara G. Dennis (1887-1963), who began making life-like replicas of her favorite characters from literature, the theatre, and films at the age of 10. Her collection of more than 300 dolls, along with their elaborate sets, backgrounds, and accessories, were bequeathed to the Boston Public Library upon her death in 1963.

Approximately 63 dolls, representing characters from Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland and Through the Looking Glass, as well as other well-known works of children's literature, are displayed in 10 elaborate sets located in the John F. and McKim buildings. Some of the well-known fairy tale characters included in the exhibit are Alice, the Mad Hatter, Beauty and the Beast, Hansel and Gretel, Tweedledum and Tweedledee, Humpty Dumpty.

Mayor Collins passed away at the age of 76. He had been the driving force behind "The New Boston," a redevelopment effort during the 1960s which served to revitalize the city's economy and restore its reputation as a major economic center.

Photographs in the exhibit — which is located in the newly created Lower Level of the McKim Building, are from the BPL's "Boston Herald Traveler Photo Morgue Collection." Political artifacts and some photos are drawn from the BPL's "John F. Collins Collection."

Both exhibits are free and open to the public during library hours: Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Friday and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Sunday, 1 to 5 p.m.

For additional information please call the Boston Public Library at 617/536-5400, Ext. 238.

Now, every week is "your week" to recycle.

EVERY WEEK RECYCLING PICK-UP

EXPANDED RECYCLING PROGRAM

The new recycling program lets you include MAGAZINES, CARDBOARD and BROWN PAPER BAGS. So, now you can put out almost twice as much.

IT'S JUST AS EASY AS EVER

Here's how: save your newspapers, brown bags, corrugated "waffled" cardboard (no cereal or tissue boxes) and magazines in a brown paper bag or tied up with twine. Then put it out, on garbage day, next to your trash, by 7:00am.

Exceptions: If your area has 2 trash pick-up days, you should recycle on the first day, if you have three garbage days, recycle on the middle pick-up day.

CITY OF BOSTON

Proceedings of City Council

Wednesday, July 12, 1995

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Christopher A. Iannella Council Chamber, City Hall, at 4 p.m., President KELLY in the chair and all the members present.

INVOCATION

In the absence of a member of the Clergy, at the request of President KELLY, Councillor SAUNDERS delivered the invocation, and the meeting was opened with the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

VISITORS TO CITY COUNCIL

President KELLY introduced Councillor O'NEIL, who, for all the Councillors, welcomed Michael Cornel from Jamaica Plain, accompanied by his daughter Jane and visitors from Galway, Ireland, Rita O'Toole and her sons, John and Neal. Mr. Cornel thanked the Council for their warm welcome.

President KELLY then introduced Councillor MODICA, who, for all the Councillors, welcomed the newly elected "Charlestown Rose," Nicole DeRoeve, and the 1995 Mayor of Charlestown, Thomas Donahue, who will soon be leaving for Charlestown, Ireland, to bring to those residents the greetings from Charlestown, Massachusetts.

MESSAGE TRANSMITTING CERTAIN INFORMATION RE UNSIGNED HOME RULE PETITIONS (DOCKET NO. 1030)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

July 5, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

This is to acknowledge a recent action by your Honorable Body which purports, among other things, to direct the taking of certain steps in connection with Home Rule Petitions that have not been approved by me.

Although the purported Order was not presented to me under the provisions of St. 1948, c. 452, § 17D, and therefore has no legal effect, I nevertheless wish to address the issued raised by the purported Order.

Mayoral approval of Home Rule Petitions is governed by St. 1982, c. 190, § 22. As § 22 contains an absolute requirement of affirmative Mayoral approval, the language regarding the filing of a statement may be read as directory rather than mandatory.

Nonetheless, I wish to advise you that I declined to affix my signature to each of the listed positions for good and sufficient reasons after due deliberation and consultation with senior City officials and, in some instances, law enforcement authorities and state legislators.

The petition regarding the City Auctioneer was duplicative and legally unnecessary in light of a City Ordinance previously passed by your Honorable Body and approved by me, which abolished the auctioneer's position in accordance with St. 1953, c. 473.

Similarly, the measure regarding a legislative primary and election in West Roxbury duplicated a bill previously filed in the Massachusetts House of Representatives; the measure for a school dress code posed serious civil liberties issues, and two measures regarding the residency of School Department employees duplicated legislation that I had already filed to require all City employees to be residents.

Three measures that would impact the Boston Police Department, one by providing hiring preference to an individual, another regarding communications equipment operators and the third regarding firearm identification cards and licenses, were deemed inadvisable by law enforcement authorities.

Finally, I determined that there is no need to expand the number of members on the Board of Directors of the Boston Water and Sewer Commission at this time, and that a youth employment registration measure posed an inappropriate level of liability exposure to the City.

Accordingly, I disapproved of both the form and content of each of the measures specified in the purported Order for the reasons set forth.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

Placed on file.

ORDER REAUTHORIZING BOSTON FIRE DEPARTMENT TO CONTINUE OPERATION OF REVOLVING FUND FOR COMMUNITY FIRE SAFETY EDUCATION PROGRAM (DOCKET NO. 1036)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

June 30, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councilors:

I am pleased to transmit herewith for your approval an order reauthorizing the Boston Fire Department to continue the operation of a revolving fund to accept and expend donations to the Department's Community Fire Safety Education Program for fiscal year 1996.

Your Honorable Body previously approved the establishment of this revolving fund in 1995 as authorized by Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 44, Section 53E½. Reauthorization is required for subsequent fiscal years. For fiscal year 1995, $2,100 was received for this fund and $2,000 was expended.

The Community Fire Education Program has been established to reduce the loss of life, injury and property damage from preventable incidents. This program educates the residents of our city in the area of fire safety, with a special emphasis upon children. This past year, students at Hyde Park High School were educated in life safety and then, in turn, assisted firefighters in training younger children.

I therefore urge your Honorable Body to pass this order as expeditiously as possible so that the Community Fire Education Program may continue to carry out its education efforts.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

Ordered, That the Boston Fire Department, acting by and through its Fire Commissioner, be, and hereby is reauthorized, in accordance with Section 53E½ of Chapter 44 of the Massachusetts General Laws, to continue the operation of a revolving fund for the acceptance and expenditure of donations to the Community Fire Education Program for fiscal year 1996. Donations to the revolving fund shall be expended exclusively for the programs and purposes of the Community Fire Education Program, an educational outreach program targeting children, the elderly, and other members of the Boston community to reduce loss of life, injury, and property from preventable incidents. Contributions of $15,000 or more shall be brought before the City Council for acceptance; contributions under $15,000 shall be reported to the City Council in an annual report. The Fire Commissioner shall be the designated officer authorized to expend from such revolving fund. Consistent with Section 53E½ of Chapter 44, the total amount which may be expended from such fund in fiscal year 1996 shall not exceed the donations received. For fiscal year 1995, $2,100 was received for this fund and $2,000 was expended.

On motion of Coun. CONLEY, the rules were suspended; the order was passed.

ORDINANCE REGARDING INDOOR AIR QUALITY (DOCKET NO. 1050)

Coun. HENNIGAN offered the following:
Whereas, Asthma incidence has increased significantly in recent years, affecting nearly 11.5% of Boston's children under 17 years of age; and

Whereas, Researchers believe that the increased incidence of asthma is due to a number of factors including poor air circulation, rat and cockroach infestations, and an increased amount of time spent indoors; and

Whereas, Children are more susceptible to the adverse effects of poor indoor air quality and it is essential that the school buildings in which they spend nearly a third of their time be safe and free of harmful pollutants; and

Whereas, A recent problem with poor indoor air quality at the Agassiz School in Jamaica Plain brought to light the need to monitor indoor air quality and make necessary capital improvements to ensure a safe environment; now therefore be it Ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Whereas, The management of the MBTA (Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority) has accepted Requests for Proposals to privatize certain bus routes within the City of Boston; and

Whereas, The MBTA management has failed to conduct public hearings to incorporate the opinion and/or concerns of the users of the public transportation system, or the taxpayers. Nor has there been any effort to provide details of service safeguards in the event of bankruptcy, labor disputes or other service disruptions, or offer documentation of anticipated cost savings; be it therefore

RESOLUTION REQUESTING MAYOR DIRECT CITY'S REPRESENTATIVE ON MBTA ADVISORY BOARD TO TAKE ALL ACTIONS NECESSARY TO STOP PRIVATIZATION POLICY UNTIL CERTAIN DETAILS ARE DISCUSSED IN PUBLIC FORUM (DOCKET NO. 1085)

Couns. KELLY, O'NEIL, IANNELLA, MODICA, DAVIS-MULLEN, FEENEY, YANCEY, McLAUGHLIN, HENNIGAN, SAUNDERS and NUCCI offered the following:

Whereas, The City of Boston's FY '96 assessment for the MBTA (Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority) is in excess of $55.7 million; and

Whereas, The city has an obligation to ensure that all citizens, regardless of income or place of residency, have access to the MBTA's public transportation system in order to get to and from their workplaces and other destinations; and

Whereas, The MBTA management has adopted a policy of "privatizing" aspects of its operation including bus routes within the city's boundaries, specifically: Routes 300, 301, 302, 304, 305, 52, 53, 54, 56, 58 and 59; and

Whereas, The past experiences of other communities who have seen public bus routes privatized including the bankruptcy of two private companies operating the Framingham to Newton Corner line and the total of service suffered by riders in those communities; the loss of service in the municipalities of Dedham, Lexington and Stoneham due to the mismanagement by a private company of MBTA routes and the fact that the MBTA was legally unable to stop the private company running those buses on the former MBTA Southeastern Massachusetts routes from raising fares as much as 58 percent and eliminating senior citizens' discounts; and

Whereas, Public transportation operated by the MBTA is the only means of transportation for many Boston senior citizens and physically handicapped residents; be it therefore

Resolved, That the Boston City Council strongly opposes privatizing the above-named bus routes; and be it further

Resolved, That the Boston City Council does hereby request Mayor Thomas M. Menino to direct the city's representative on the MBTA Advisory Board to take all actions necessary to stop the privatization policy until details in the event the private bus companies go bankrupt, future labor disputes and possible disruption of services are discussed at a public forum.

Couns. KEANE and IANNELLA offered the following:

Whereas, In recent months, many residents have noticed a disturbing increase in the amount of passenger cars with commercial license plates parking in their neighborhoods; and

Whereas, Boston Traffic Department regulations allow for passenger cars with commercial license plates to park in residential parking areas, commercial parking areas, and commercial loading zones provided that the commercial vehicle displays proper identification; and

Whereas, Passenger cars with commercial plates in residential parking spots are not displaying the required identification; and

Whereas, A lack of residential parking has a negative impact on the quality of life in the neighborhood; therefore be it

Ordered, That the Committee on Post Audit and Oversight conduct a public hearing to review existing regulations with regard to the parking of passenger cars with commercial license plates in residential neighborhoods and to make recommendations to the full Council.

Referred to the Committee on Post Audit and Oversight.

RESOLUTION URGING STATE SENATE TO PASS SEAPORT ACCESS BILL (DOCKET NO. 1089)

Couns. FEENEY, DAVIS-MULLEN, and KELLY offered the following:

Whereas, The Granite Rail Quarry in Quincy, long since deemed a historical site, has fallen victim to the heavy competition among local parks and open spaces fighting for increasingly scarce public dollars; and

Whereas, The Granite Rail Quarry has become a serious public safety hazard and a lost educational and recreational opportunity; and

Whereas, The quarry debate has resurfaced due to the disappearance of P. J. McDonagh, an Irish student, who is feared drowned in the Granite Rail Quarry; and

Whereas, The Granite Rail Quarry, historically significant as a quarry, and in its current form as a lake and popular diving hole and as recently as three weeks ago another young adult was seriously injured; and

Whereas, The draining of the quarry is justifiable in human terms as well as from an environmental perspective; and

Whereas, It is not an issue of one individual, many families have suffered tremendous hardships from mishaps at the neglected Granite Rail Quarry; and

Whereas, Its intended use and designation would add greatly to the Metropolitan District Commission's impressive inventory of recreational and educational public parkland; therefore be it

Resolved, The Massachusetts House of Representatives has already passed the Seaport Access Bill in which state bond money will become available to recover a rare historical resource to protect the public and the Boston City Council urges that Massachusetts Senate to do the same.

BOSTON POLICE RECRUIT CLASS 31-95 GRADUATES

Police Commissioner Paul F. Evans was proud to announce that Larry Moulter and the Fleet Center played host for the graduation ceremony of the Boston Police Recruit Class 31-95 on Sunday, January 28, 1996, at 1:00 p.m., at Boston's new Fleet Center.

Mayor Thomas Menino, City Council members, representatives from various law enforcement agencies and members of the neighborhood and business community joined this class for their graduation ceremony.

Class 31-95 was the first class to be given the oath of office and to act as Police Officers in the community before actually graduating from the Boston Police Academy. As Student Police Officers, they were utilized as walking beat officers in the neighborhood business districts as part of their curriculum in Neighborhood Policing Problem Solving.

This class of 91 Police Officers represents Boston's diverse neighborhoods and will contribute immensely to the Neighborhood Policing philosophy of the Boston Police Department. Class 31-95 consists of 47 white males, 2 white females, 16 black males, 7 black females, 12 Hispanic males, 5 Hispanic females, and 2 Asian males. The breakdown of the Officers' assignments are as follows: 9 to District A-1 (Downtown), 14 to District B-2 (Roxbury), 7 to District B-3 (Mattapan), 12 to District D-4 (Back Bay/South End), 8 to District E-5 (West Roxbury, Roslindale, Jamaica Plain), 5 to Dis-

BOSTON POLICE RECRUIT GRADUATION

*Remarks of Mayor Thomas M. Menino
January 28, 1996*

Last July, I addressed all of you while you were preparing to enter one of the most rigorous and distinguished police training programs in the country — the Boston Police Academy.

At that time, I said that you would face many challenges in the Academy — and you have. I said that you would face even greater challenges on the streets of Boston — and you will.

And I said that I would return in six months to congratulate you and wish you well — and I have.

This is a very special occasion — for you graduates, for your family and friends, for the Boston Police Department, and for the entire city. Today, I am pleased to welcome you — the 91 new officers of the Boston Police Department — to the law enforcement team that is making a difference in this city.

There is much disagreement in our nation about how we can prevent our young people from turning to crime. And I said in my State of the City address a few weeks ago, the best way to provide a safe future for our young people is by supporting education, jobs, and youth programs.

And when it comes to fighting crime, our philosophy here in Boston is simple. The only way to fight crime is to go out into our streets and create a clean, safe environment — the kind of place where criminals cannot and would not dare to come. You — the men and women of the Boston Police Department — are the key players in this effort.

Your job is to send a clear message to the criminals on our streets:

- Send the message that we do not — and will not — tolerate crime.
- Send the message that if they commit a crime, they will be caught — and prosecuted.
- Send the message that these are our streets, our neighborhoods, our city.

We know that policing can't stop all illegal acts in our city — but your presence in our neighborhoods reinforces the idea that someone is there for the residents of this city. Your presence reassures them that someone is on their side. That's exactly what you did during the holidays — when you helped patrol our neighborhood business districts during the Holiday Safety Campaign.

PLEASE NOTE: That the deadline of 5:00 p.m., Wednesday of each week is ten days in advance of publication.

And that's exactly what you will do now that you have earned your badge.

The spirit of cooperation — the spirit behind neighborhood policing — is transforming this city:

- Neighbors are learning how to keep an eye out for one another.
- Police officers are getting to know residents by name.
- And the people of Boston — our eyes and ears — are discovering the valuable role they can play in helping the city fight crime.

For me, these are the clearest signs that the Boston Police Department is doing its job — and doing it well!

Your role in this partnership is crucial — and one that I know you will take very seriously. As police officers, you are in a position not only to protect and serve, but also to be role models for the community.

- When you meet young people who are being tempted by violence, drugs, and gangs, you will show them an alternative.
- When you meet seniors who are living alone, you will assure them that they are protected.
- When you meet residents who feel helpless, you will tell them about the many ways they can help rid our streets of crime.

No one can fulfill these roles better than you — and I know that you will.

And before I end, I want to extend a word to the families that are with us today — the parents, the spouses, the children and the siblings. All of you have been down this long road with our graduates — with love, support, patience and coaching. This celebration today is as much yours as it is theirs.

So again, congratulations! And thank you for becoming part of the solution — by becoming a Boston police officer. I wish you all the best of luck.

UNITED WAY'S 1996 COURAGE AWARD WINNER TURNS CLEANING COMPANY INTO SWEEPING SUCCESS

By Tony Ferullo

On her first trip to America, Sheyla Martinez visited Disney World. Her life has been a roller coaster ride ever since.

"I've been through a lot," said United Way of Massachusetts Bay's 1996 Courage Award winner. "That's why I have to pinch myself when something good like this happens."

United Way's prestigious Courage Award, made possible by the generous support of the Houghton Mifflin Company and Stop & Shop, is granted annually to a person whose attitude and actions most embody the qualities of courage and who has used United Way-funded services to triumph over adversity. Martinez, chosen among nominees submitted by many United Way-supported agencies, received her award during United Way's 60th annual meeting on January 24, at the Park Plaza Hotel in Boston.

"I was shocked when told that I had won," said Martinez, 35, who lives in Dorchester with her husband, Jose, and their two children, Jessica, 11, and Clinton, 8. "It's an honor to receive this award from the United Way because they help so many people in our community."

Sheyla Martinez is a perfect example of what can be accomplished through hard work and determination. Born and raised in Honduras, Central America, Martinez was 13 when her mother passed away. She then assumed primary responsibility for running the household, and raising her four young sisters and brothers. Her stepfather's job kept him away from home most of the time, leaving Martinez in charge.

"Looking back, I grew up almost overnight," said Martinez. "But I feel I've become a stronger person because of it."

Her ability to help others comes naturally, like when she rescued her boss's five-year-old son from a fire. The law firm she worked at as a legal secretary rewarded her with a raise and a surprise gift.

"One day my boss's wife came by and saw me looking at an ad about Disney World in the newspaper," explained Martinez. "She asked me if

I would like to go there. I told her it was one of my dreams."

Well, that dream came true. While she was in the United States, Martinez visited an old boyfriend in Boston. Following a perfect Hollywood-like script, they fell in love and got married.

However, the honeymoon didn't last long as the couple soon incurred massive legal bills because of a bureaucratic mix-up in Sheyla's citizenship application. Martinez needed to earn money to pay the debt, but her employment options were limited because of her poor English.

She started cleaning houses. After her English and business skills improved, she formed her own company and built it into a flourishing cleaning service with four employees and more than 60 clients.

"My mother always taught me if you want something, go out and get it and be the best you can be," said Martinez. "Now I'm a perfectionist in everything that I do, including taking care of my family and running my business."

Martinez credits much of her success as a businesswoman to an intense program she participated in through Federated Dorchester Neighborhood Houses, a United Way of Massachusetts Bay-supported agency. This Neighborhood Means Business is a 20-week course offering practical training in business basics to merchants whose small businesses anchor their neighborhoods, and who need more expertise and networking to grow.

"I learned all of the right steps to follow," said Martinez. "The people at the agency were very helpful and upbeat. They made everything click for me."

Olga Merchan, coordinator of This Neighborhood Means Business, says Martinez was a special student. "We provided her with the tools to improve and grow, and she took it from there," said Merchan. "Sheyla is a confident person who is dedicated to her family, her business and her community. She is a real go-getter and a true role model for all Latino women."

Today, Martinez is active in her community. She is helping to start a merchant's association in the Four Corners area of Dorchester and is involved in the Bowdoin-Geneva Main Street program. She also mentors women who have just arrived to this country from Central America.

"Sheyla is what the Courage Award is all about," said Marian L. Heard, president and chief executive officer of the United Way of Massachusetts Bay. "We at the United Way applaud her perseverance. This caring and inspirational woman has had the courage to turn a challenging past into a promising future."

"Everything seems to be going my way," said Sheyla Martinez. "It looks like all the struggles and sacrifices I've had to deal with over the years are finally paying off."

AN ORDINANCE REGARDING INDOOR AIR QUALITY

Whereas, Asthma incidence has increased significantly in recent years, especially among children, affecting nearly 11.5 percent of Bostonians under seventeen years of age; and,

Whereas, Researchers believe the increased incidence of asthma is due to a number of factors including poor air circulation, rat and cockroach infestations, and an increased amount of time spent indoors; and,

Whereas, Recent problems in the Registry of Motor Vehicles headquarters and in the Agassiz School in Jamaica Plain are indicators of the costly effects of failing to take pro-active steps to avoid health-threatening indoor air conditions, therefore

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:-

The City of Boston Code, Ordinances, is hereby amended by inserting therein the following new sections and captions:

() INDOOR AIR QUALITY

There is hereby established within the Environmental Health Office of the Department of Health and Hospitals an Indoor Air Quality Unit which is charged with monitoring the quality of air a) in buildings to which the public has access which are not subject to monitoring by the U.S. Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) for air quality standards substantially as contemplated by its Proposed Indoor Air Quality Rule (59FR15968), b) in all public school buildings within the city, c) in all other buildings owned or leased by the city or any agency or instrumentality thereof (except foreclosed real estate), and, d) in any other structure in Boston where there is an apparent risk to health likely to be caused or aggravated by poor air quality.

The unit shall cooperate with city and school officials and employees to take appropriate action to cure the situation and minimize adverse effect on the public health. In the event subsequent inspection, or other facts known to the unit, indicates a failure to act with expedience toward correction of the situation, the unit shall give immediate report to the Board of Health and Hospitals and to the Mayor.

Each inspection shall include a) electronic environmental air quality monitoring, b) visual inspection, c) review of health complaint surveys, heating, ventilation and air conditioning evaluations, building inspection records, and, d) such other procedures as building history and inspection of similar structures suggest. Coun. HENNIGAN moved that the ordinance in the new draft be substituted with the following:

City of Boston In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Ninety-five AN ORDINANCE REGARDING INDOOR AIR QUALITY

Whereas, Asthma incidence has increased significantly in recent years, especially among children, affecting nearly 11.5 percent of Bostonians under seventeen years of age; and

Whereas, Researchers believe the increased incidence of asthma is due to a number of factors including poor air circulation, rat and cockroach infestations, and an increased amount of time spent indoors; and,

Whereas, Recent problems in the Registry of Motor Vehicles headquarters and in the Agassiz School in Jamaica Plain are indicators of the costly effects of failing to take pro-active steps to avoid health-threatening indoor air conditions, therefore

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

The City of Boston Code, Ordinances, is hereby amended by inserting therein the following new sections and captions:

() INDOOR AIR QUALITY

There is hereby established within the Environmental Health Office of the Department of Health and Hospitals an Indoor Air Quality Unit which is charged with monitoring the quality of air a) in all public school buildings within the city, b) in all other buildings owned or leased by the city or any agency or instrumentality thereof (except foreclosed real estate), and, c) in any other structure in Boston where there is an apparent risk to health likely to be caused or aggravated by poor air quality.

() AIR QUALITY IN SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Not less than twice each year the Indoor Air Quality Unit shall inspect each school building, and, using as guidelines the then-current recommendations and standards of OSHA and the Environmental Protection Agency shall ensure that the air quality in each such building is appropriate to the maintenance of good health, with special regard to airborne pollutants in concentrations harmful to children. Each inspection shall include a) environmental air quality monitoring, b) visual inspection, c) health complaint surveys, d) review of heating, ventilation and air conditioning evaluations and building and plan management inspection records, and, e) such other procedures as building history and inspection of similar structures suggest. In the event an inspection shall detect a situation likely to cause ill health, the unit shall forthwith make written record thereof and report the same to Board of Health and Hospitals pursuant to sec. 30 of chapter 111 of the General Laws, to the person in charge of the building, the Superintendent of Schools, and the School Committee. The unit shall cooperate with city and school officials and employees to take appropriate action to cure the situation and minimize adverse effect on the public health. In the event subsequent inspection, or other facts known to the unit, indicates a failure to act with expedience toward correction of the situation, the unit shall give immediate report to the Board of Health and Hospitals and to the Mayor.

() AIR QUALITY IN OTHER PUBLIC BUILDINGS

The unit shall from time to time and when requested by the officer having charge of a public building, inspect buildings owned or leased by the city, and, using as guidelines the then current recommendations and standards of OSHA and the Environmental Protection Agency shall ensure that the air quality in each such building is appropriate to the maintenance of good health. Each inspection shall include a) environmental air quality monitoring, b) visual inspection, c) health complaint surveys, d) review of heating, ventilation and air conditioning evaluations and building and plan management inspection records, and, e) such other procedures as building history and inspection of similar structures suggest. In the event an inspection shall detect a situation likely to cause ill health, the unit shall forthwith make written record thereof and report the same to Board of Health and Hospitals pursuant to sec. 30 of chapter 111 of the General Laws, to the person in charge of the building, and to the Mayor. The unit shall cooperate with city officials and employees to take appropriate action to cure the situation and minimize adverse effect on the public health. In the event subsequent inspection, or other facts known to the unit, indicates a failure to act with expedience toward correction of the situation, the unit shall give immediate report to the Board of Health and Hospitals and to the Mayor.

() ANNUAL REPORT

The unit shall make annual report of its doings, including a listing of inspections made and any recommendations it may have for legislative action, to the Board of Health and Hospitals, which shall maintain the same as a public record, and to the Mayor, who shall convey a copy to the City Council.

The motion was carried, the substitute ordinance was passed.

COMMITTEE ON CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD SERVICES TO HOLD HEARING TO DETERMINE WHAT STEPS CAN BE TAKEN TO DEAL WITH PROBLEM OF TREES DAMAGING SIDEWALKS (DOCKET NO. 1111)

Coun. CONLEY offered the following:

Whereas, The recent bond authorizations approved by the City Council for capital improvements will enable the city to make much needed repairs to many streets and sidewalks throughout the city; and

Whereas, While these repairs are welcome and will no doubt enhance the quality of life in our neighborhoods, the city still lacks a comprehensive plan to deal with the problem of tree roots causing sidewalks to crack and buckle; and

Whereas, Sidewalks damaged by tree roots are not just an inconvenience to many, but a true public safety hazard to others, particularly physically handicapped and visually impaired pedestrians; and

Whereas, There appears to be a lack of coordination between those departments responsible for maintaining trees and sidewalks, Parks and Recreation and Public Works, respectively; and

Whereas, The Menino Administration's cabinet structure of government was intended to foster and promote a sense of cooperation and innovation among departments and the problem of tree damaged sidewalks represents an opportunity to test the effectiveness of such a structure; now therefore be it

Ordered, That the City Council's Committee on City and Neighborhood Services hold a public hearing to determine what steps can be taken to deal with the problem of trees damaging sidewalks; and be it further Ordered, That the Chief of Basic City Services and the Commissioners of the Parks and Recreation and Public Works Departments be requested to attend and offer testimony.

Referred to the Committee on City and Neighborhood Services.

ORDER THAT COMMITTEE TO MEMORIALIZE VETERANS DESIGNATE CERTAIN INTERSECTION IN READVILLE AS "HERO SQUARE" IN MEMORY OF NAVY SEAMAN FIRST CLASS ALPHONSE MOSCARITOLO (DOCKET NO. 1113)

Couns. CONLEY and O'NEIL offered the following:

Whereas, More than a half century has passed since Alphonse V. Moscaritolo paid the supreme sacrifice serving in the U.S. Navy in the Western Pacific during World War II; and

Whereas, It is appropriate that Boston now honor his memory with a sign at the intersection of Como Road, Pine Avenue and Reynolds Road in Readville.

Whereas, Seaman First Class Moscaritolo on duty February 17, 1944, in the steering room of the U.S.S. Intrepid did when trapped below in the torpedoing of his ship off the island of Truk in the Gilbert Island chain.

Whereas, Alphonse Moscaritolo enlisted in the Navy in Boston September 17, 1942, and was aboard the Intrepid at its commissioning August 16, 1943;

Whereas, The President of the U.S.S. Intrepid Chapter on behalf of surviving crew members who served on the ship has asked that Seaman Moscaritolo be remembered for his valor by the city; therefore, be it:

Ordered, That the Committee to Memorialize Veterans designate the intersection of Como Road, Pine Avenue and Reynolds Road in Readville as a "Hero Square" honoring the memory of Navy Seaman First Class Alphonse V. Moscaritolo killed in action February 17, 1944, on the Pacific Theatre of World War II and that a suitable marker be dedicated in ceremonies at the site.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

URGING ADMINISTRATION SUPPORT EFFORTS AT STATE LEVEL TO CONDUCT EXTENSIVE STUDY OF AUTO INSURANCE RATES TO DETERMINE APPROPRIATE ACTION TO REDUCE COSTS THEREOF (DOCKET NO. 1114)

Couns. FEENEY, YANCEY, AND SAUNDERS offered the following:

Whereas, The State of Massachusetts has the fourth highest bodily injury auto insurance rates in the country; and

Whereas, Urban areas of this state, including Boston and Lawrence, are paying crippling auto insurance premiums, driving businesses and residents to relocate or use fraudulent addresses, depriving municipalities of needed excise taxes; and

Whereas, Excessive commercial insurance rates puts Massachusetts companies at a competitive disadvantage; and

Whereas, An overhaul of the auto insurance industry will coincide with attempts by the federal government to reform litigation related to auto accidents, citing the National Insurance Crime Bureau statistic that fraud adds $200 a year to auto premiums for the average household; and

Whereas, Introducing competition in the auto insurance industry will have the effect of reducing auto rates, by producing savings not available through current state-set rates; and

Whereas, The State of Massachusetts has not conducted an in depth analysis of auto insurance rates since 1953; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council urges the Administration to support efforts at the state level to conduct an extensive study of auto insurance rates to determine what action would be appropriate to reduce auto insurance costs for Boston residents and the entire Commonwealth.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

ORDER FOR PETITION FOR SPECIAL LAW RE CHARLES MILLER, JR. (DOCKET NO. 1115)

Coun. IANNELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That a petition to the General Court, accompanied by a bill for a special law relating to the City of Boston to be filed with an attested copy of this order be, and hereby is, approved under Clause (1) of Section eight of Article two, as amended, of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to the end that legislation be adopted providing precisely as follows except for clerical or editorial changes of form only:

Section 2. This act shall take effect upon passage.

Referred to the Committee on Government Operations.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

COMMITTEE ON ENVIRONMENT AND HISTORIC PRESERVATION TO HOLD HEARING TO REVIEW AND REVISE EXISTING REGULATIONS TO PREVENT SCAVENGING FOR NEWSPAPER RECYCLABLES (DOCKET NO. 1119)

Couns. KEANE and IANNELLA offered the following:

Whereas, The prices for newspaper recyclables rose from $30 per ton to about $160 per ton in 1994 and are still climbing;

Whereas, Scavengers are stealing newsprint from curbside recycling bins resulting in loss of revenue to the City. The recycling program depends on the collection and sale of newspaper as revenue for the continuance of its blue box program;

Whereas, Scavengers disturbing residents' trash have a negative impact on the quality of life by the littering of alleys and sidewalks; therefore be it

Ordered, That the Committee on Environment and Historic Preservation conduct a public hearing to review and revise existing regulations to prevent the scavenging for newspaper recyclables and to make recommendations to the full council.

Referred to the Committee on Environment and Historic Preservation.

COMMITTEE ON COMMERCE AND TRANSPORTATION TO HOLD HEARING TO COLLECT INFORMATION RE IN-LINE SKATING ON PUBLIC STREETS AND SIDEWALKS AND MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS TO FULL COUNCIL ON APPROPRIATE EDUCATION AND REGULATORY MEASURES (DOCKET NO. 1120)

Coun. KEANE offered the following:

Whereas, In recent months, many residents have noticed an increase in the amount of people using in-line skates on public sidewalks and streets;

Whereas, In-line skating is a relatively new form of outdoor, recreational exercise that competes with bicycling, walking, and jogging for public, open space;

Whereas, There is a need for public education on proper safety procedures and rules of the road in order to minimize accidents. Currently, there is no direction or assistance on where in-line skaters may ride or the safety equipment they are required to wear; therefore be it

Ordered, That the Committee on Commerce and Transportation conduct a public hearing to collect information with regard to in-line skating on public streets and sidewalks and to make recommendations to the full council as to appropriate education and regulatory measures.

Referred to the Committee on Commerce and Transportation.

COMMITTEE ON POST AUDIT AND OVERSIGHT TO HOLD HEARING TO REVIEW ENFORCEMENT OF EXISTING REGULATIONS ON NOTIFICATION OF RESIDENTS RE PUBLIC CITY EVENTS (DOCKET NO. 1121)

Coun. KEANE offered the following:

Whereas, The operation of road races and festivals on public streets and sidewalks is an important element of attracting tourism to the City;

Whereas, The residents of the area are inconvenienced by the operation of the event with regard to traffic and parking;

Whereas, The City of Boston should develop a process to better notify both neighborhood and city residents of upcoming events; therefore be it

Ordered, That the Committee on Post Audit and Oversight conduct a public hearing to review the enforcement of existing regulations with regards to the notification of residents of public events in the city and to make recommendations to the full council.

Referred to the Committee on Post Audit and Oversight.

COMMITTEE ON HOUSING TO HOLD HEARING TO DISCUSS ADOPTION OF POLICY TO RID NEIGHBORHOODS OF BLIGHTED, DILAPIDATED AND ABANDONED BUILDINGS (DOCKET NO. 1122)

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Whereas, The existence of blighted, dilapidated and abandoned buildings throughout the city are a public menace that jeopardizes the health and safety of the neighborhoods; and

Whereas, Such structures are eyesores that serve no beneficial purpose. To the contrary, some of those buildings were gutted by fire, and these conditions tend instability and fear to neighborhood living; and

Whereas, Quite often these properties are owned by absentee investors, banks or mortgage companies who, for various reasons, allow these properties to sit vacant and boarded up, in some instances for five years or longer; and

Whereas, Because of the economic and social interdependence of all neighborhoods to the vitality of the city, the existence of blighted, dilapidated and abandoned buildings in our neighborhoods is a matter of legitimate public concern; be it therefore

Ordered, That the Committee on Housing conduct a public hearing to discuss the adoption of a policy to rid the city's neighborhoods of such structures in a timely manner, and be it further Ordered, That representatives of the Mayor's Office, the Fire Department, Inspectional Services Department, the Assessing Department and the city's Law Department be invited to attend, and further, that each representative attending be prepared to explain (1) their respective department's statutory role in addressing the problem, and (2) the potential legal obstacles which may inhibit accomplishment of the public purpose described hereinabove.

Referred to the Committee on Housing.

RESOLUTION THAT CITY COUNCIL SUPPORT SENATE #1926 TO PROVIDE LONGER HOSPITAL STAYS AFTER MATERNITIES (DOCKET NO. 1123)

Couns. HENNIGAN, FEENEY, MODICA, and DAVIS-MULLEN offered the following:

Whereas, Strictures by some health care providers for rapid discharge of new mothers and babies from hospitals has wrought problems in this state;

Whereas, A bill to alleviate dangers particularly to new-born infants, Senate #1926, has won unanimous approval from the Committee on Insurance and will go on to the Senate's Committee on Ways and Means;

Whereas, Many mothers complying with the managed care goals for discharge only a day after delivery have found it a costly disservice;

Whereas, In one part of Worcester County, of 287 discharges a day after delivery, 83 cases needed re-hospitalization of the infants, the legislative committee heard during seven hours of testimony by health organizations;

Whereas, Early discharge of mother and child runs a danger of premature testing and false results that might not catch health defects — even mental conditions — that might be corrected in the child;

Whereas, Senate #1926 requires insurers to cover maternity stays at least 48 hours in hospitals after normal births and up to 96 hours following delivery by Caesarian section;

Whereas, An enlightened approach to protect new mothers and babies can be cost-saving in the end to society and merits support; therefore be it:

Resolved, The Boston City Council joins in support for the principles of Senate #1926 and urges passage in the current legislative session as soon as possible; and be it also:

Ordered, That the City Clerk cause a copy of this resolution to be transmitted to the President of the State Senate and Speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

Whereas, The family of Rene Starck has respectfully requested that the area across from 14 Edison Green in Dorchester be designated as a hero square for a man who was a dedicated veteran, serving his country with pride and honor, and

Whereas, Rene Starck, a Sergeant in the United States Army during World War II, died on December 22, 1990, from service-connected wounds and he is buried in the Bourne National Cemetery; and

RESOLUTION URGING GOVERNOR TO TAKE IMMEDIATE ACTION TO WAIVE ANY REQUIREMENT OF PERMITS FOR REMOVAL OF SEAGRASS FROM SAVIN HILL BEACH AND MALIBU BEACH AND INSTRUCT M.D.C. TO BEGIN NEEDED WORK IMMEDIATELY (DOCKET NO. 1159)

Couns. FEENEY and DAVIS-MULLEN offered the following:

Whereas, For centuries the citizens of Dorchester and all of Boston have found relief from Summer heat by enjoying bathing beaches known as "Malibu" and "Savin Hill Beach;" and

Whereas, After generations of good maintenance by the Town of Dorchester and later, the City of Boston, authority for protecting these beaches became the responsibility of the Metropolitan District Commission, a state agency, in 1955 in the case of Malibu and 1962 in the case of Savin Hill, and

Whereas, Owing to the M.D.C.'s failure to regularly maintain these bathing beaches, seagrass has been allowed to proliferate to the point that the beaches and adjacent sands are now unusable, and

Whereas, The recent, health-threatening, extremes in heat and humidity make even more vital the availability of these beaches for the use of the public, and

Whereas, Although seagrass has no positive value on a public bathing beach, and these areas have not been used as a wildlife habitat for some three hundred and sixty years, the state is interpreting environmental law as requiring that a permit be obtained before the grass is removed, a process which could delay the project for three years and add hundreds of thousands of tax dollars to the minimal cost of grass removal, therefore be it

Resolved, That His Excellency the Governor be, and hereby is, respectfully urged to take immediate action to waive any requirement of permitting for the removal of seagrass from the waters known as Savin Hill Beach and Malibu Beach, both in the Dorchester neighborhood of Boston and instruct the M.D.C. to begin the needed work immediately.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

MAYOR PLEDGES SUPPORT FOR SENIOR TENANTS

By Mark Swadling

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has stepped forward to protect Seniors in the City of Boston who face a potential housing crisis with the ending of rent control. Rent Control was ended throughout Massachusetts by a state-wide ballot question in November 1994, although only three communities had tenant protections in place — Brookline, Cambridge and Boston. The State Legislative subsequently passed laws phasing out rent protection through December 1996. As various tenant protections and rent control measures have expired many older Bostonians have come to fear losing their homes and being forced to leave their own neighborhoods by excessive rent increases.

On Friday, January 12th, Mayor Tom Menino went before a large crowd of Seniors, who braved the snowy weather, at the Nazaro Center in the North End to reveal his plans for legislation to protect Senior tenants. Accompanied by Commissioner Diane Lopes and Councillors Brian Honan and Mickey Roache, the Mayor told the audience of his "Just Cause Eviction" home rule petition to be introduced to the City Council and then sent to the State Legislature.

The Mayor was introduced by Josephine Zizza a stalwart of the Nazaro Center and North End Seniors for twenty years. Josephine spoke of the worries of elders who often face uncertainty in staying in their homes and know how difficult it can be for Seniors to stay in their own neighborhoods amongst their friends. Indicating the great lengths to which the Mayor is going to help and protect Seniors, Zizza said "The Just Cause law proposed by the Mayor will relieve the concerns of many Seniors who have feared losing their homes and being forced into the street, and shows the compassion and neighborly spirit that the City of Boston is known for."

The Mayor introduced his home rule petition to protect the elderly, disabled, and low income from unfair evictions. If approved by the City Council and the State Legislature the ordinance will permit evictions for non-payment of rent or for any other just cause but will however require the landlord to specify the reason for the eviction. The law provides a defense for the tenant if the tenant can't afford to pay more than thirty percent of his/her income for rent and if the eviction will render the tenant homeless. In those cases,

MAYOR CELEBRATES SUCCESS OF CONDO STABILIZATION PROGRAM

Mayor Thomas M. Menino, on February 5, celebrated the success of the pilot program designed to promote homeownership in Fenway and Allston/Brighton. After one year, the results show that in the trial area investment by homeowner-occupants have risen by 27 percent, while investments by speculators have fallen.

The Condo Stabilization Program encourages the stabilization of local condominium stock by increasing owner-occupancy rates in the Fenway and Allston/Brighton neighborhoods. Owner-occupancy is promoted by allowing individuals to use low down payment Fannie Mae mortgages to purchase units in condominium complex with low owner-occupancy rates.

Mayor Menino said, "This program has done exactly what we hoped it would — it enables low- and moderate income people to purchase homes while increasing the number of owner-occupied condominiums in the neighborhoods."

Through support from the City of Boston and Fannie Mae, the Allston/Brighton and Fenway CDCs are able to provide technical assistance to condominium associations, as well as homeowners education and counseling to prospective homebuyers.

In 1995, the program helped educate more than 400 prospective homebuyers in Fenway and Allston/Brighton. CDCs were also successful in obtaining approval for more than 2,900 condominium units to participate in the condominium stabilization program.

Ted Chandler, director of Fannie Mae's Boston Partnership Office, said "Fannie Mae is pleased to work with Mayor Menino, lenders and the community development corporations bringing homeownership to Bostonians living in the Fenway/Allston/Brighton neighborhoods."

In March 1994, Fannie Mae Chairman and Chief Executive Officer James A. Johnson announced the company's $1 trillion commitment to finance more than 10 million homes through the end of the decade for families and communities most in need.

City of Boston Public Facilities Department Director Charles T. Grigsby said, "This dramatic personal investment in condo property is not only significant, it is essential to neighborhood revitalization. The Menino Administration can, without question, count the results of this program as one of the successful steps toward its goal of neighborhood development."

MAYOR PLEDGES SUPPORT

the judge will have the discretion to deal with this situation, previously the judge had no choice but to evict. The Mayor said that this type of legislation is in effect in several other states, including New Hampshire.

The Just Cause Eviction Law is part of Mayor Menino's ongoing effort to help solve the problems of Seniors facing a housing crisis caused by the cessation of rent control.

On December 29th the Mayor visited the home of 89-year-old Marion Fitzgerald to sign an ordinance that will protect elderly, disabled and low income tenants in condominiums from unlawful evictions and drastic rent increases. Fitzgerald, a 35-year resident of Beacon Street, was to be evicted in March, 1996, due to the end of condominium tenant protection on January 1, 1996.

Mayor Menino said, "This is why we have government and why I became Mayor - to help people with problems they can't solve alone. With the signing of this ordinance, these tenants - our senior, disabled and disadvantaged - will continue to live in condominiums that they can afford."

The ordinance signed by Mayor Menino establishes a rent increase cap and reinforces tenant protections contained in a 1983 state bill for condominium tenants. The ordinance will protect elderly, disabled and low- and moderate-income condominium tenants from the state law passed last January which abolished rent control protections in Boston on January 1, 1996. The ordinance which was passed unanimously by the City Council includes several protections, sets a rent increase cap at the annual percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index, and restores removal permit and no cause eviction protections.

MAYOR MENINO ANNOUNCES CHINATOWN REVITALIZATION PROJECT

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has announced two projects for the revitalization of the Chinatown/ Combat Zone area. One project will open a 1,000-seat restaurant and a mini-shopping mall in the former Pussycat Theater at 686 Washington Street, the other project will restore the Liberty Tree Building. The two projects, along with the restoration of the Hayden Building, mark the largest effort in over ten years to revitalize the area.

Mayor Menino said, "Today, we are announcing a renewed commitment to the rebirth of this tremendous section of the city. As the Asian community continues to grow in numbers and in strength this neighborhood grows as well. These projects are a sign of the strong progress we are making and will continue to make in revitalizing this area."

The project at 686 Washington Street will build a shopping mall with space for 3 retail shops on the first floor and a 1,000-seat restaurant on the second floor. The property owner, Mr. David Wong, has worked with the Mayor on this project over the course of the past year. The mall/restaurant will cost $1.5 million and will be completed by September of 1996.

The other project involves the stabilization and restoration of the Liberty Tree Building which is a landmark structure. Mayor Menino has already received a $100,000 commitment from the building's owner, Kevin Fitzgerald, for work on the building. A long-term plan for the building will also be developed by Fitzgerald, the B.R.A. and the Landmarks Commission.

Mayor Menino will also support the projects with road resurfacing, new sidewalks and street lights along Washington Street from Kneeland Street to Beach Street. The work will be done this spring. All the work along Washington Street will compliment the Chinatown Main Streets program in the effort to improve the business climate and the quality of life in Chinatown.

BPL RECEIVES $665,000 IN SUPPORT OF CHILDREN'S PROGRAMS

The Boston Public Library has received $665,000 in charitable grants from the Boston Public Library Foundation in support of a number of innovative programs — some of which are already in operation and others that will be initiated with these new funds — to increase children's literacy and reading skills and to enhance their access and utilization of the Boston Public Library's vast resources.

The new initiatives address two critical areas facing libraries today — literacy and technology — as the Information Age expands into the 21st century. As it was in 1884, when the Boston Public Library was founded by a public citizenry who believed that they had a right to participate in self-education through reading books just as those who were more fortunate and could afford to purchase books, libraries today have the same responsibility to ensure that those households which cannot afford technology are not left at a learning disadvantage.

In keeping with this philosophy, most of the new funds will be channeled to the neighborhoods through programs at the BPL's 25 branch libraries throughout the city so that both the technological and human resources of the library are available to youngsters where they live as well as where they go to school. Some of this grant money will also be used to provide literacy resources to preschool and school-age children who are in need of additional support. A description of the grants and their intended purpose is as follows:

- $100,000 anonymous gift to purchase computer workstations and accompanying software for the Adams Street, Codman Square, Fields Corner, Lower Mills, and Uphams Corner Branch Libraries in Dorchester. Free and open access to technology particularly for young people, is a critical new role for libraries throughout the world. This grant extends the Library's innovative "Gateway Project" partnership with the Boston Public Schools that was begun last year in that the branch libraries will be able to offer the identical on-line services to Boston's schoolchildren in their home neighborhood and not just at their school locations.

SEATBELTS

- $100,000 anonymous gift with a matching $100,000 gift from Ray and Maria Siata of Dedham to endow the "William M. Bulger Children's Literature Fund," a named endowment to support the acquisition of children's and young adult's literature and computer software programs at the Boston Public Library and its 25 neighborhood branch libraries. The gift was made in the name of William Bulger, a Boston Public Library Trustee and longtime advocate of the public library system. Mr. Bulger recently retired as president of the Massachusetts State Senate to accept the presidency of the University of Massachusetts. During his career on Beacon Hill he sponsored a number of significant bills, including legislation in 1987 — "An Act Improving Public Libraries" — which provided $35 million for library construction and renovation throughout the Commonwealth and funded a $7 million grant for the restoration of the BPL's historic McKim Building in Copley Square.

- $50,000 from the Sidney and Esther Rabb Charitable Foundation to endow the "Carol Goldberg and Helene Kaplan Literacy Fund" in support of the library's "Reading Readiness" literacy program. This program involves developmentally appropriate activities designed to establish a readiness to read upon entering school for children 4-6 years of age. The program will be developed primarily around existing library holdings and will involve the time and skill of the Youth Services staff. The program will also be coordinated with the existing City-Wide Friends' Literacy Tutorial Program at the library to attack illiteracy on a "household" basis.

- $65,000 from the Boston Foundation to implement a pilot program targeting out-of-school children ages 11 to 16. These programs will be held in four neighborhood branch locations — Codman Square, Dudley, East Boston, and Grove Hall — and are geared to meet development needs of young associates. Goals of the program include the development of leadership skills, self-care, self-reliance, and a sense of empowerment as well as literacy enhancement that will include reading, writing, and graphic and performing arts.

- $250,000 from Theresa Heinz of the Heinz Family Foundation to endow the Boston Public Library/Boston Public, Parochial, and Private School Collaboration that was begun in 1993. Funds will be used to continue the three-tiered program that involves creative writing and design programs with elementary, middle, and high school students. This year, K-12 students will read, discuss, research, illustrate, and describe the multiple backgrounds, experiences, symbols, and events involved in the migration to America — either of their own families, or in a more general sense as part of the 1996 series, "Boston — Our People . . . Coming to America."

REDEVELOPMENT ANNOUNCEMENT 686 WASHINGTON ST. CHINATOWN

*Remarks of
Mayor Thomas M. Menino
February 3, 1996*

I am proud to be here today to mark another vital step in the revitalization of one of Boston's greatest neighborhoods — Chinatown.

Today, we are announcing the rebirth of this building into a mini-shopping mall and restaurant. But we are also announcing a renewed commitment to the rebirth of this tremendous section of the city. As the Asian community continues to grow in numbers and in strength, this neighborhood grows as well.

With this announcement, David Wong joins his neighbors and the City in our effort to clean up Washington Street and all of Chinatown. Slowly but surely we are ridding this area of crime, drugs, and prostitution — and replacing them with restaurants and shops that reflect the culture and traditions of the fine people who live and work here. The plans that we are revealing today are a positive sign that the comeback of Chinatown is well under way.

Earlier this week, I was honored to take part in a dinner to celebrate the Chinese New Year and the success of Chinatown's Main Streets initiative. The New Year and Main Streets have something important in common: They are both about new beginnings, new life, new hope.

That is the spirit behind today's announcement — the spirit of breathing new life into this neighborhood, not only for this year but for the twenty-first century and beyond!

I want to thank David Wong and everyone who is investing in this new venture. I learned on Wednesday night that 1996 is "The Year of the Rat" — and that the rat is a symbol of success and prosperity. I'm sure that tradition will prove itself here at this restaurant and mini-mall!

So, as you can see, the pieces are falling into place here in lower Washington Street. This block will undergo a major transformation. Across the street from here, the Hayden Building has been renovated. And today, I am proud to announce that the owners of the Liberty tree building have agreed to invest $100,000 to restore and stabilize that historic landmark — an investment that will enable them to attract a new class of tenants. Clearly, this is the beginning of a new era for Chinatown!

I want to thank all of you — the people of Chinatown — for helping to make the revitalization of this neighborhood a reality. Together, we are reclaiming these streets and these buildings — transforming them into showcases for the diversity and talents of this historic neighborhood.

So, keep up the good work. And on behalf of residents and visitors alike, I thank you.

VALENTINE'S DAY CELEBRATION HELD AT HOLIDAY INN

The Commission on Affairs of the Elderly in conjunction with MASSPORT and the Holiday Inn sponsored a Valentine's Day Celebration for East Boston seniors on Wednesday, February 14, 1996, at the Holiday Inn located at 225 McClellan Highway, East Boston.

This event enabled some 200 East Boston seniors an afternoon of socialization, music, dancing and a great sit-down meal in the lovely surroundings of the newly renovated Holiday Inn to celebrate community, togetherness and life. It also allowed Massport the opportunity to demonstrate its continued commitment and interest in Boston seniors.

This celebration began 15 years ago as a small event for the seniors of Jeffries Point as part of Massport's efforts to establish a rapport with East Boston residents affected by the noise and traffic of Logan Airport. Eleven years ago, Massport wanted to open the program to all East Boston seniors and solicited the participation of the Elderly Commission and the Ramada Hotel. This event, usually held as a Valentine's Day celebration was last year held as a Mother's Day function due to the structural renovation of the Ramada Hotel, now under the ownership of the Holiday Inn.

Though the ownership of the Hotel has changed, the commitment to community has remained as the new Holiday Inn will continue to assist Massport in underwriting the cost of this afternoon celebration.

Welcoming remarks were given by Diane Lopes, Commissioner of Elderly Affairs and Mayor Thomas M. Menino, also in attendance was District Councillor Diane Modica. Entertainment was provided by Johnny Trammatuzzi, Accordion Player.

LEN CABRAL WITH "STORIES OF COLOR FROM AROUND THE WORLD" IN BLACK HISTORY MONTH PROGRAM AT BPL

Storyteller Len Cabral will entertain youngsters with his captivating tales during a special Black History Month performance at 1:15 p.m. on Wednesday afternoon, February 21, in the Rabb Lecture Hall of the Boston Public Library in Copley Square.

Born in Cranston, R.I., but a Cape Verdean by heritage, Cabral has been traveling around the United States telling stories in schools and libraries to people of all ages for more than 12 years.

Len gathers his stories from everywhere. Many were told to him by his grandparents, others he writes himself or finds in the library. He weaves them into a magical performance using poetry, song, movement and humor to encourage imaginations to soar.

Cabral discovered storytelling during the 1970s while working in Rhode Island day-care center where children would not sit still long enough for him to read a story. So he put the book down and said, "use your imagination."

The program is intended for children 6 years of age and older and their families and is free and open to the public. Seating is limited and we regret that day-care groups cannot be accommodated. The Central Library is wheelchair accessible and assistive listening devices are available for hard-of-hearing patrons. To request sign language interpreter or for other special needs, call 536-5400, Ext. 295 (V); 536-7055 (TTY). For program information, please contact the Children's Room of the Boston Public Library at 536-5400, Ext. 328.

The program is sponsored by the Bromfield Street Educational Foundation, publishers of the Gay Community News, and will include readings by a number of gay and lesbian authors.

The public is cordially invited to attend. The Central Library is wheelchair accessible and assistive listening devices are available for hard-of-hearing patrons. IV. HIGH COMMENDATION

On July 21, 1995, at 0825 hours, Box 5158 was struck for 7 Woodstock Avenue, Brighton. Heavy smoke was reported by Ladder Company 14 upon arrival and neighbors were reporting people trapped in the one-and-a-half-story dwelling. Ladder Company 14 initiated a primary search which was conducted without benefit of a charged line, as the first due engine company was at another incident.

Acting Fire Lieutenant David A. Sylvester, Ladder Company 23 (detailed to Ladder Company 14), advanced past the fire to the rear bedrooms locating two unconscious victims and removed them to safety with the assistance of other members of Ladder Company 14.

Because these actions were performed at great personal risk, under heavy smoke and fire conditions before charged lines and ventilation were performed, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to highly commend Acting Fire Lieutenant David A. Sylvester and has referred his case to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

V. COMMENDATIONS

1) The Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend Fire Fighter John L. Howard, Aide to District 11, who, on July 21, 1995, at Box 5158, assisted in locating and removing to safety fire victims at 7 Woodstock Avenue and makes this commendation a part of his personnel folder.

2) The Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend Fire Fighter Mariano Hernandez, Ladder Company 14, who, on July 21, 1995, at Box 5158, assisted in locating and removing to safety fire victims at 7 Woodstock Avenue and makes this commendation a part of his personnel folder.

3) The Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend Fire Fighter Bernard Taylor, Ladder Company 10, who, while off duty on January 6, 1996, at Box 344, assisted companies in running lines and raising ground ladders and makes this commendation a part of his personnel folder.

COMMITTEE ON COMMERCE AND TRANSPORTATION TO HOLD HEARING ON PROCESS OF MONITORING PLACEMENT OF HANDICAPPED PARKING SIGNS (DOCKET NO. 1205)

Coun. MODICA offered the following:

Whereas, The number of handicap parking signs in the North End, East Boston and other areas within the City of Boston are raising concerns to the residents; and

Whereas, Most city neighborhoods have a limited availability of resident parking; and

Whereas, This situation has been exacerbated by a number of special considerations for handicap parking extended to those residents or individuals who meet specific criteria under Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 90, Section 2; and

Whereas, The law regarding handicap parking accommodations serves a useful public purpose but this privilege is subject to abuse when the situation is not properly monitored and enforced; and

Whereas, In order to ensure that this accommodation is being extended fairly, residents who qualify for handicap street parking signs should be required to periodically provide the proper authorities with substantiation of their continued need; and

Whereas, It appears that the number of parking spaces with handicap signs continue to increase despite the fact that handicap residents may no longer require that privilege due to either death or relocation; therefore be it

Ordered, That the Boston Transportation Department, the Massachusetts Registry of Motor Vehicles and the City of Boston Commission for Persons with Disabilities by invited to attend a hearing to address the criteria and procedure for extending handicap parking accommodations to the public.

Referred to the Committee on Commerce and Transportation.

ORDER THAT CORPORATION COUNSEL BE REQUESTED AND DIRECTED TO PREPARE AND SUBMIT TO CITY COUNCIL OPINION RE TENANT SELECTION OF OLD WEST END HOUSING CORPORATION (DOCKET NO. 1206)

Couns. IANNELLA, KELLY, O'NEIL, and MODICA offered the following:

Whereas, The final major parcel in the West End Urban Renewal Project at Lowell Square has been designated for construction of housing by the Old West End Housing Corporation; and

Whereas, In its request for designation as developer of the parcel, which was recommended by the Boston Redevelopment Authority Director and staff, and, approved by vote of the Boston Redevelopment Authority, Old West End Housing Corporation proposed construction of housing units for low- and moderate-income West Enders displaced by public action by the redevelopment plan; and

Whereas, A major factor in selection of Old West End Housing Corporation was, in fact, a desire to do justice — albeit delayed — to Bostonians who were displaced by now discredited policy decisions of the 1950s; and

Whereas, Federal law requires that which Old West End Housing Corporation has proposed, to wit, in selection of tenants, absolute preference be given those who were displaced by urban renewal; and

Whereas, Some years ago the City of Boston and the Boston Housing Authority entered into a consent decree providing that they develop a housing strategy that would satisfy the plaintiff's assertion that tenant selection policies had resulted in racially-isolated housing projects; and

Whereas, The strategy since implemented requires a set-aside for minority applicants in all covered developments; and

Whereas, The Boston Redevelopment Authority has asserted that the Lowell Square development is bound to this set-aside notwithstanding the preference for displaced West Enders; and

Whereas, Although the West End was among the most culturally-diverse of Boston neighborhoods, and although Old West End Housing Corporation has received many applications from minority persons who are West Enders, implementation of the housing strategy would require the developers to violate the law providing preference to displaced Bostonians, and would violate the corporate purpose of the organization and the raison d'être of their selection as developer; and

Whereas, Cases concerning the conflict of housing applicant preference are not dispositive of the questions, and, there is serious question whether the consent decree applies to the West End Urban Renewal Project or to its selected developers, therefore be it

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be, and hereby is, requested and directed to prepare and submit to the City Council an opinion regarding the foregoing situation generally, and, specifically, addressing the following questions:

1. Under what theory or argument does the consent decree above-referenced bind the developer of the West End/Lowell Square parcel?
2. In the event the developer is thought to be bound by that decree, how is the absolute preference for displaced persons to be resolved?
3. Does the city have the ability to modify the housing strategy to account for the obviously overlooked preference for displaced West Enders?
4. In the event resolution of these competing requirements is impossible and the city cannot amend the housing strategy itself, what parties have standing to modify the strategy by mutual agreement or to modify the decree by mutual agreement?
5. In the event resolution of these competing requirements is impossible and the city cannot amend the housing strategy by itself or by agreement of the parties, and, the parties are unable or unwilling to modify the decree by mutual agreement, what parties have standing to seek to modify the decree by application to the court?
6. By what procedure can the Old West End Housing Corporation become a party to the legal action in order to seek modification of the decree, if need be?

Passed under suspension of the rules.

REQUESTING MAYOR FILL VACANCY OF HISPANIC LIAISON (DOCKET NO. 1208)

Whereas, The Hispanic community is an extremely active and vital part of the fabric of the City of Boston; and

URGING GOVERNOR WELD ENACT H5397 INTO LAW SO STATE MAY ACQUIRE HANCOCK WOODS AND PRESERVE IT AS OPEN SPACE FOREVER (DOCKET NO. 1209)

Whereas, Hancock Woods is a 46-acre urban wild in West Roxbury being threatened by development; and

Whereas, The community over several months and during many meetings has spoken loudly and clearly that they want the land preserved as open space, not only for themselves but for future generations; and

Whereas, A State Bill, H5397, authorizes and directs the Metropolitan District Commission to acquire Hancock Woods for full and fair market value; and

Whereas, That Governor Weld has until August 24, 1995, to allow H5397 to become law; now therefore be it

MAYOR RECEIVES REPORT ON HOUSING

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has received a report from the "Advisory Panel on Housing" which makes three major recommendations:

- to streamline the Public Facilities Department,
- to have city officials investigate whether any additional revenues are available as a result of the expiration of rent control which can be used to fund affordable housing developments, and,
- to ask universities and colleges to set up more affordable housing units for students on their campuses.

In March 1995, Mayor Menino appointed the Advisory Panel on Housing to develop recommendations in response to the end of rent control and dramatic shifts in federal housing policy. For the last ten months the Advisory Panel has held meetings with a wide range of city housing staff, tenants, developers, and other private interests in order to develop a set of policy goals that would lead the Menino Administration during this time of change.

In an interview with reporters recently, the Advisory Panel summarized its conclusions about the status of the Public Facilities Department:

- PFD has too many overlapping programs,
- PFD should reduce its overhead costs.
- PFD should eliminate duplicate processes and consolidate programs.
- PFD should become more "user friendly" for developers and individuals applying for housing programs and information.

Mayor Menino will be meeting with city officials in the next few months to discuss the recommendations made by the Advisory Panel and whether the city is in a position to implement some or all of them.

GRAND OPENING OF WOMEN'S COOPERATIVE BUSINESS INCUBATOR PROJECT

Statement of Thomas M. Menino, February 6, 1996.

Last Month in my State of the City Address, I said that there are things the Mayor of Boston can do to foster economic security in Boston. "Job creation is my steady priority." Today, we see the rewards that have come from a wonderful partnership that is helping to create new jobs and bring women into the business arena. And I am very proud that the City could be a part of making this momentous occasion possible.

I want to commend all of you for your hard work and dedication in helping our residents to find jobs, create jobs, and establish a sense of economic security for themselves and their families. The theme of my State of the City address was education equals economic security. How true is that? Just look at the success you've already had with the women you've helped.

And that is why we are here today — to celebrate your success with the grand opening of the Women's Cooperative Incubator Project. This project is helping women across the city

BOSTON EXPANDS RECYCLING!

Mayor Thomas M. Menino joined environmentalists to announce the expansion of the Boston Recycling Program. Curbside pickups will be expanded to include all plastic containers numbered 1 through 7, milk and juice cartons, drink boxes, computer paper, junk mail, old paperback books, and cereal boxes.

Mayor Menino said, "One of the most important things to the future is taking care of our environment. That's why today is so exciting. We are taking another several steps forward today in making it easier for people to recycle trash and conserve our very important natural resources. The expansion of our recycling program means a cleaner greener future for our children."

Boston residents are asked to place their paper and cardboard boxes with newspapers and phone books in a brown paper bag. The following items should be placed in residents' blue boxes: plastic containers numbered 1 through 7, milk and juice cartons, drink boxes, empty aerosol cans, aluminum trays and foil, bottles, and aluminum and tin cans. Brown bags and blue boxes are to be placed curbside by residents on trash day by 7 a.m.

MASSPIRG praised the expansion of recycling in Boston. The group's Solid Waste Program Director Amy Perry said, "Boston is well on its way to having a first class recycling program. The key to success in urban recycling is the existence of a multimaterial program that is easily begin a new life as community leaders and entrepreneurs. Thanks to the great work of the Elizabeth Stone House with support from the Jamaica Plain Neighborhood Development Corporation and the City's Public Facilities Department — many low-income women and women who were once homeless are now business owners.

That is fantastic news! What you are doing for women in our city is a great help to us as we strive to bring jobs back to Boston and opportunities to our residents. In fact, 29 women have already graduated since the program began a year and a half ago — and 11 businesses have been created by these determined women.

There are many success stories here at this program. I am reminded of one story that really touched me. A woman came into the Elizabeth Stone House as a battered woman. She was homeless, battered, and unemployed. She was seeking assistance, and the Elizabeth Stone House was there for her. She went through the battered woman's program, and then she went through the transitional housing program where she first heard about the Women's Business Opportunity Program.

She completed the Women's Cooperative Incubator Project, where she completed her feasibility study, her business plan, and obtained start-up money for her new endeavor. Now she has the business she always wanted to have. Today, Joan Jones makes and sells crafts, including the centerpiece on the table over there. Joan Jones is the owner of "Brides and Brooms."

It is moving stories like this that speak to the great work that you do. Your educational economic development program is giving women economic security by teaching them about self-employment and the business world. Thanks to your program, today, these women have a brand new opportunity ahead of them that makes them feel good about themselves and their futures. Together, we have not only provided these women with jobs, but we have also provided them with hope and the chance at a better life.

When we reflect upon the celebration of Black History Month in February and Women's History Month in March, we are reminded that we live in a rapidly changing political and economic climate. Now, in today's times, we must work together more than ever before to ensure that our residents have the resources available to them to sustain themselves and their families. We must rely on our own creative and innovative ideas to meet the needs of our families. And I am pleased to say that the Women's Cooperative Business Incubator Project is doing just that!

Finally, I want to congratulate all of the women who have participated in this program. All of you have come a long way, and you should be extremely proud of what you have accomplished. Good luck with your new businesses and future endeavors. Once again, I want to commend the Elizabeth Stone House and the Neighborhood Development Corporation for all that you have done to make this project possible. Believe me, your commitment is a testament to all that is right about Boston! I wish you continued success!

URBAN LAND ACQUISITION CONFERENCE

*Remarks of Mayor Thomas M.
Menino, February 1, 1996.*

Good morning. On behalf of the City of Boston and the Trust for Public Land, I'm honored to welcome all of you to the Boston Public Library for this truly historic occasion — the City's first Urban Land Acquisition Conference.

Three months ago, I was pleased to address many of you at the first ever "Sustainable Boston" conference. Those of you who attended know what a success that event was — a unique opportunity for environmentalists, business and civic leaders, academics, and concerned residents of Greater Boston to talk about the future of our city. That day many exciting new ideas were born — ideas that left us all with a renewed sense of direction.

Today, we have come to harness that energy in the first follow-up forum to "Sustainable Boston." This is a chance for all of us to focus on a particular issue — urban land acquisition. It is a chance for us to examine the present and future of open space here in Boston. It is a chance to take stock of our resources so that we can proceed with confidence and purpose.

I believe the future of Boston's open spaces hinges on three crucial pieces of the puzzle:

1. a firm commitment to open space,
2. the funding to acquire and maintain open space,
3. and a concrete strategy for acquisition and maintenance.

The FIRST and most important piece of the puzzle is a serious commitment to open space. Everyone in this room knows what a vital role open space plays in urban life. Our open spaces make the city a more livable place. Each of the parks, gardens and greenways scattered throughout Boston is an urban oasis — a patch of natural beauty in the heart of this major city.

What would Boston be without the splendor of Boston Common and the Public Garden? Without Post Office Square? Without the Emerald Necklace? These landmarks offer us more than just a place to have a picnic, to read, or to play ball. They offer us peace of mind. Judging from the number and quality of participants here today, I can see that you share my commitment to open space — and that together, we have the will to succeed.

The SECOND piece of the puzzle is the funding. Last April, we released the City's first Environmental Blueprint and Action Agenda, which included a $250,000 capital allocation for open space acquisition. In the grand scheme of things, $250,000 may not sound like a lot of money for acquiring new open space. But I see that allocation as a springboard — a start-up fund that we can put to use in creative ways. I'm very eager to hear your ideas about how best to spend this money to acquire and maintain open space here in Boston.

Which leads me to the THIRD piece of the puzzle — a strategy. That is why we have come here today — to ask questions and exchange ideas about where we go from here. Your discussions today will move us closer to a concrete plan that addresses several important questions:

- What are our priorities for acquiring new open space?
- Which open spaces can we identify for possible acquisition?
- What are the best leveraging opportunities available for the City's money?
- How can we make maintenance of these open spaces a priority?
- How can we make these spaces accessible and inviting to residents and visitors alike?

With so many different groups represented at this forum, there will be disagreement among you. Each of you may have your own agenda, but we share a common goal. As long as we keep the lines of communication open — as we are doing here today — we can make all of our plans a reality.

So, this morning, I challenge you to be creative. I challenge you to be bold. But most of all, I challenge you to work together. If you do, I have no doubt that we can develop an innovative, do-able strategy for acquiring and maintaining open space here in Boston. I look forward to receiving your recommendations — and to working with you to implement them in the years ahead.

I want to thank everyone from the Boston Public Library, the Trust for Public Land, and my Environmental Services Cabinet who have worked so hard to make this forum possible — especially Brad Swing, Nancy Kafka, Cathy Douglas Stone, and Peter Forbes. I also want to thank all of you — the participants — for contributing to the future of our city in this unique way.

Good luck!

MAYOR MENINO REWARDS "GOOD KIDS", LAUNCHES NEW PROGRAM

Mayor Thomas M. Menino presented 31 Boston youth with a "Mayor's Youth Service Award" at the John Fitzgerald Kennedy Library. In addition, the Mayor officially launched a new teen program, the Boston Youth Connection, which places additional youth workers in city community centers and employs 80 teens.

"What better place to recognize the young people in Boston than here at the Kennedy Library, named after a man who made young people a political priority throughout his political career," said Mayor Thomas Menino. "Here in Boston I believe in making young people a priority too. That's why we are honoring young people here tonight who are making a real difference in their communities."

The 31 youth were selected through a nomination process involving Boston Community Centers' 34 centers, BCC's Streetworker Program, Boston Youth Connection staff and members of the Mayor's Youth Council. Boston Community Centers has sponsored two other Mayor's Youth Service Awards to celebrate the good things that Boston's young people are involved in. Some of the reasons the young people were selected to receive an award include serving as a role model for other youth at their local community center, helping staff, overcoming a variety of personal difficulties, being an outstanding student and volunteering at the center or in other neighborhood agencies. The 1996 Mayor's Youth Service Awards recipients are:

Monique Matarazzo, Charlestown.
Dulcinea Gonçalves, Orchard Park.

John Cintron, South End.
Natasha Adams, Mattapan.
Jonathan Marsh, Mission Hill.
Louis Gaeta, East Boston.
Jeremy Callahan, Dorchester.
Helen Yong Ming Wong, Chinatown.

Elizabeth Lee, Dorchester.
Bill Perry, East Boston.
Andre Steward, Roxbury.
Lester Robinson, Roxbury.
Anthony Peccia, West Roxbury.
Akeya Bennett, Mattapan.
Brian Donovan, South Boston.
Timothy Bedard, Hyde Park.
Charles Crump, Safiya Sanyika, Latoya Sanford, nominated by the streetworkers.

Elena Hankerson, Roslindale.
Martine Prentis, South Boston.
Kelly Ann Roberts, West Roxbury.
Diane Taylor, Dorchester.
Shiona Richardson, Dorchester.
Marlo Imbergamo, North End.

Mayor Menino also officially launched the City's newest youth program, the Boston Youth Connection. This program, run by Boston Community Centers, places City youth workers in every community for the first time in three decades. It also employs 80 peer leaders who work with the youth workers to offer their peers community service opportunities, job training, life skills workshops and more.

In launching the new program Mayor Menino said, "As Mayor, I want to create more opportunities for young people to get involved in their neighborhoods. I have no doubt that this program will make a visible difference in Boston's neighborhoods. The Boston Youth Connection is a crucial part of our comprehensive plan to promote learning, safety and self-esteem both in and out of school."

Evelyn Riesenber, Executive Director of Boston Community Centers, said, "This is a great event for Boston Community Centers. We are recognizing young people from every neighborhood who, without expectation of reward, give to others and to their community. I am also pleased to help the Mayor launch our newest program, the Boston Youth Connection. This program will make it possible for us to reach thousands more of our young people and offer safe, healthy and fun activities in all our centers."

Poet's Corner "TWO PATHS"

Two paths
Going two different ways
Two paths
Only one pays.

One traveled so often
No life does grow
Of the two paths
The wrong way to go.

One traveled so little
It's covered with weeds
So dense, so rough
Don't know where it leads.

When you have a choice
Of which path to explore
Make your own path
It will give you much more.

MUSIC GARDEN PROPOSAL

Submitted by Julie Moir Messervy and Yo-Yo Ma, February 7, 1996

Introduction:

We propose the construction of a Music Garden for downtown Boston. Boston has always been a city rich with culture. As Boston looks to the future with design plans for one of the cities most active centers, we feel a music garden will significantly contribute to Boston's cultural heritage. Working collaboratively with the City, the Federal Building, Boston's business community, and surrounding neighborhoods, cellist Yo-Yo Ma and garden designer Julie Moir Messervy strive to create a totally new kind of garden, inspired by the music of Bach's Cello Suite No. 1 for Solo Cello, and set in this energetic, accessible urban context.

A place where people can stroll and sit immersed in beautiful sounds and surroundings, the garden will encourage contemplation or small gatherings. It will also provide an inviting space in which musicians can play, either formally in concerts or informally. Yo-Yo Ma is committed to maintaining an ongoing relationship with this garden by performing in it during various future occasions; other musicians will be invited to play here as well. In addition, niches will harbor street performers as professionals, families, and tourists enliven the garden paths from morning to night.

The collaborative process of designing and building, as well as a final performance in the garden, will be filmed by Rhombus Media, a Toronto-based production company, and will be shown on PBS and internationally on BBC, NHK, and TVOntario. This film will be part of a six-part film series featuring Yo-Yo Ma in collaboration with artists from other media on various projects, all of which are based on the Bach Cello Suites.

MUSIC GARDEN DESIGN

The Site: The suggested site for the garden comprises two jurisdictions: the plaza in front of the J.F.K. Federal Building and the fountain area at City Hall Plaza. The space in total covers approximately 1.6 acres, with approximately two-fifths of the garden located on the plaza, and three-fifths located around the Federal Building.

The Music: The design ideas for garden are taken from Bach's First Cello Suite, a piece is composed of six movements. Each movement is based on a dance and has a different tempo, key signature, and emotional effect. These six movements, titled Prelude, Allemande, Courante, Sarabande, Minuet, and Gigue, provide the inspiration for the garden design in terms of structure, form and feeling.

The Design: Julie and Yo-Yo began their collaboration several months ago, exploring Bach's First Suite through conversations, playing the music, studying the score, creating drawings and sketches, and visiting the site to come up with the key ideas for a garden. As the Suite is in six dance movements, the garden is signed as six distinct yet connected Garden Rooms that flow through the space as follows:

SEATBELTS

Prelude: (Moderato) Visitors enter the garden through the Prelude which begins with a large scale oval-shaped sundial on the garden's north edge and leads to a set of long, delightful strolling paths that mark the main routes into the Federal Building. Visitors can move along serpentine sitting walls that create niches to harbor street performers. A wrought iron "musical bench" backs up waving beds of perennials. The Prelude acts as a rhythmic stroll journey, and sets the mood for the movements to come.

Allemande: (Moderato) From the Prelude's main path a visitor can see a needle leaf forest which is the Allemande. Using the existing conical concrete air intake chamber as its focal point, the Allemande has a mossy floor and becomes a mountain path form covered in swirling tendrils of different varieties of ivy. Visitors skirt the mountain at its edge, curving around to a parapet from which they can view the garden, City Hall, and its Plaza.

Courante: (Allegro Maestoso) The Courante section is designed as a large iconic flower which will house exhibitions of colorful flowers that will change and bloom with the seasons.

Sarabande: (Largo) The Sarabande path swirls into a graceful scroll complemented by topiary trees. This spiral funnels water to the earth to create a kind of sacred spring.

Minuet: (Con Spirito) The minuet allows the visitor to enter into the centerpiece of the garden, a beautiful butterfly shaped indoor/outdoor garden, placed over a portion of the former Plaza Fountain. The indoor section is a greenhouse-conservatory in which the visitor is immersed in sound, surrounded by plants, and welcomed into an inviting cafe area. Here, visitors can relax quietly or engage imaginatively in a "virtual" garden space containing holographs.

Outdoors, the butterfly wings become filled pools, reflective in summer, frozen in winter and surrounded by sitting walls, offering sun and views onto the rest of the garden. The heart of the garden, this space is sheltered from wind and noise, and forms a retreat for reflection or enjoyment of a musical event, performed on small stages.

Gigue: (Allegro) The Gigue is a boisterous dance that is suggested by the form of the walls, plantings, and ramps that guide the visitor into and out of the Minuet part of the garden. A view to City Hall would be framed by robust deciduous trees that mark the end of the City Hall Plaza and tie the informality and softness of the garden space to the more formal, hard urban space of the Plaza. Stone steps in a rhythmic pattern provide more direct access between garden and Plaza.

Goals:

1. To explore the connections between the arts — specifically music and design, by building a garden which brings to life the ideas, colors, feelings, and structures found in the Bach's First Cello Suite.

2. To place this garden in an urban space (i.e. City Hall Plaza & the JFK Federal site), creating a beautiful intimate yet public music garden in an accessible, well used part of Boston.

3. To create a garden that can be used year round, through all of the seasons.

4. To work with the Federal Building, Mayor's office, and Boston's business community to create a place that is mutually beneficial, contributes to the community, and draws people, families, and children into the city.

5. To film a documentary about the discussion, design, construction, and performance phases of this project with the participation of Yo-Yo Ma, Julie Messervy, the business community, and government officials. The film will capture both the practical and artistic processes of creating this garden in the cultural and historical City of Boston.

PRACTICAL CONSIDERATIONS

Budget: Budgetary needs for this project are as follows: 1. Construction budget for Music Garden. As we are only at the preliminary design stages for this project and are aware that the designs may need to be modified to accommodate future construction plans on the City Hall Plaza, we are able at this point only to estimate cost. The entire amount would need to be raised. The cost estimate is based on comparable gardens at Post Office Square and the Museum of Fine Arts and totals $3-$4.5 million.

Julie Messervy is prepared to move to the next stage of design planning with the Halverson Company as soon as the garden has formal approval. 2. Film budget. The film is already entirely funded and is the sole responsibility of Rhombus Media. It will cover the following: Commission fee for Julie Messervy; Yo-Yo Ma film performance fee; All film costs, preproduction, shooting, editing, etc.

Maintenance: A garden requires a high level of maintenance, especially in so public a setting. The maintenance costs would fall outside construction budget, and we will need to explore the idea of having the adjacent hotel, offices, and commercial establishments join forces with the Federal and City funding to cover ongoing maintenance and needed security.

Safety: We are all well aware of the security risks posed to any government building. The use of trees and low walls would help to create a barrier between the street and the Federal Building, as well as a buffer to wind and noise. In addition, the design takes into account concerns for the personal safety of garden visitors through the use of low hedges, open, high-visibility spaces, many entrances and exits, lights, etc.

Time Line: The film delivery date is August, 1997. Therefore, the design and construction process of the Music Garden will have to be fast track. Many of the other proposed City Hall Plaza projects will take years to complete. Finishing the garden first should be of the highest priority.

Proposed Time Line: October, 1995 — Small meeting with Officials for concept approval; Nov.-Dec. 1995 — Modification of design & concept as needed; Meeting with GSA & trust for City Hall Plaza for approval; Dec.-March 1996 — Initial Fundraising efforts; Begin Filming; Design Development. April-July 1996 — Working Drawings & Fundraising; July-Nov. 1996 — Demolition & Construction of Garden Structures; March 15-May 15, 1997 — Installation of Plantings; May 1997 — Opening Ceremonies; May-July 1997 — Editing and Completion of film; August 1997 — Delivery of film.

BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION

Julie Moir Messervy designs gardens and consults throughout the Boston area. Her work can be seen at the Museum of Fine Arts where she collaborated with the eminent Japanese garden master, Kinsuku Nakane, on the installation of Tenshin-en, as well as at the Arnold Arboretum, Fidelity Investments, the Gardner Museum, and the Mount Auburn Cemetery, where she works as a consultant. She has taught in programs at MIT, Harvard, and Radcliffe. Ms. Messervy is also the author of two books, Contemplative Gardens (chosen by the New York Times as one of the best gardening books of 1990), and The Inward Garden, about which she has lectured extensively across the country. She has appeared as a guest on PBS's The Victory Garden.

Niv Fichman founded Rhombus Media in 1979. Rhombus is known for its exceptional collaborations with musicians and artists, and Mr.

Fichman's work has been seen throughout the world. He has produced and directed over 50 films for television and screen, including Canadian Brass, 1991, The Sorceress: Kiri Te Kanawa, 1993, Thirty-Two Short Films about Glenn Gould, 1993, and September Songs: The Music of Kurt Weill, 1994. He is the producer of a 6 film series with Yo-Yo Ma based on the Bach Cello Suites. He was the recipient of a Genie Award for Best Picture in 1993 and has received three International Emmys.

Yo-Yo Ma, cellist, tours internationally playing with major orchestras, as well as in chamber and solo concerts. An exclusive Sony Classical recording artist, Mr. Ma is an eight-time Grammy winner. In addition to his more traditional recordings, Mr. Ma has recorded with Bobby McFerrin, Stephane Grappelli, and most recently with fiddler Mark O'Connor and bassist Edgar Meyer in unusual crossover albums. This month, he will be featured in a program on PBS entitled Marsalis on Music with renowned jazz musician Wynton Marsalis. Mr. Ma has also appeared on Sesame Street and Mr. Rogers' Neighborhood. He lives in Boston, where he performs regularly with Seiji Ozawa and the Boston Symphony Orchestra. He is the creative force behind a 6-film series with Rhombus Media based on the Bach Cello Suites.

Background on Yo-Yo Ma Series:

Rhombus, a Toronto-based production company, is producing 6 films with Yo-Yo Ma. Each film is a collaboration between Yo-Yo and an artist from another medium; the inspiration for each collaboration is a Bach Cello Suite. The films will be released and shown internationally on BBC, NHK, and TVOntario on television in 1997-8. In the States, they will be shown on PBS as a series and be available on home video. Three films are already completed or close to completion (Suites 2, 3, 5). Each film is part documentary, following the process of collaboration and discovery between artists, and part performance, showing the final project. The director is different for each film, and the structure, filming technique, and content of the films varies widely.

Suite 1 will be filmed in Boston as Yo-Yo works with garden designer Julie Messervy to create a 'Music Garden' in the City of Boston. The director will be Kevin MacMahon.

Suite 2 was filmed in Rome. This unusual film by director Francois Girard (Director of 32 Short Films about Glenn Gould) involved Yo-Yo's collaboration with the architecture of the 18th century Italian architect, Piranesi, with Yo-Yo playing inside of spaces generated by high-tech computers.

Suite 3 features America's brilliant choreographer, Mark Morris and is performed by his company. This film had its World Premier at the Edinburgh Film Festival in August of 1995.

Suite 4 will be a dramatic film, scripted and directed by film maker Atom Egoyan (Exotica, Speaking Parts). He will use the music to create a dramatic story. Yo-Yo will have a cameo appearance in this film.

Suite 5 was filmed in Tokyo with Kabuki dancer and choreographer Tamasaburo Bando.

Suite 6 will feature ice dancers Torvill and Dean (Olympic Gold Medalists) in a collaborative ice dance.

A new recording of Yo-Yo playing the Bach Suites will be released by Sony Classical in conjunction with the film series release.

Bach Suite No. 1 — The Music Garden: Producer Niv Fichman and Director Kevin MacMahon of Toronto want to create a documentary/performance film about Yo-Yo Ma, Julie Messervy, and the City of Boston as they collaborate on the creation of a Music Garden. This kind of collaboration has never been done before and will be seen by viewers worldwide.

The documentary portion of the film will include interviews, coverage of official meetings, the creative/collaborative sessions between Yo-Yo and Julie Messervy, and the construction period for the garden. The film will aim to show how this kind of project is put together and will feature the city of Boston and the JFK and City Hall Plaza sites prominently. The building of a Music Garden in an official urban space should create unusual problems and solutions, explanations, and an exciting building period. It is this process the film hopes to capture.

The performance section of the film will seek to make connections between the music, the garden, and the urban setting of which it is a part. The central ideas, themes and feelings in the music and in the documentary will come together here as Yo-Yo Ma performs each movement of the piece in the site during a different stage of the building process, culminating in a performance of the final movement (the Gigue) in the newly completed garden in the Spring of 1997.

CITY OF BOSTON

Proceedings of City Council

Wednesday, August 23, 1995

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Christopher A. Iannella Council Chamber, City Hall, at 4 p.m., President KELLY in the chair and all the members present.

INVOCATION

Sister Lilia Mary Munoz, Our Lady of the Way Convent, Jamaica Plain, delivered the invocation, and the meeting was opened with the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

DISAPPROVING ORDER FOR PETITION FOR SPECIAL LAW PROVIDING FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF OPEN SPACE ACQUISITION FUND IN CITY (DOCKET NO. 0491)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

August 21, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councilors:

I return herewith, without my signature and disapproved, a Home Rule Petition passed by your Honorable Body on August 2, 1995, Docket No. 0491, which purports to establish an open space acquisition fund in the City of Boston.

The proposed acquisition fund would duplicate an annual $250,000 land acquisition allocation that is already contained in the City's capital budget as part of my Administration's Environmental Blueprint and Action Agenda for Boston.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

(Annexed hereto is the order referred to.)

Placed on file.

DISAPPROVING ORDINANCE REQUIRING CERTAIN REPORTING BY CONSERVATION COMMISSION (DOCKET NO. 0492)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

August 21, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councilors:

I return herewith, without my signature and disapproved, an Ordinance passed by your Honorable Body on August 2, 1995, Docket No. 0492, which purports to require certain reporting by the Conservation Commission.

This veto is necessary because of both legal and practical concerns. Legally, the Commission's reporting requirements are set out in G.L. c. 40, § 8C. To the extent that the proposed ordinance conflicts with the statute, it would violate the Home Rule Amendment, Article 89 of the Amendment to the Massachusetts Constitution.

On the practical side, there is not presently any workable mechanism through which the Commission can monitor the availability of real estate for acquisition as neither private landowners nor government agencies are under any obligation to advise the Commission of their intentions with regard to the sale or other disposition of their property.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

(Annexed hereto is the ordinance referred to.)

Assigned for further action.

DISAPPROVING ORDINANCE TO ESTABLISH A WEST ROXBURY QUARRY MONITORING COMMITTEE (DOCKET NO. 0648)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

August 21, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councilors:

I return herewith, without my signature and disapproved, an Ordinance passed by your Honorable Body on August 2, 1995, Docket No. 0648, which purports to establish a West Roxbury Quarry Monitoring Committee.

This veto is necessary because the proposed monitoring committee would be redundant and could jeopardize enforcement efforts under way in connection with the operations of the West Roxbury Quarry.

While the concern that sparked the proposal is commendable, I believe that such a monitoring committee would result in unnecessary duplication of existing environmental safeguards which are presently administered under the umbrella supervision of the Boston Environmental Strike Team (BEST).

Indeed, at my direction, the Special Prosecution Unit of the Law Department is currently negotiating a Memorandum of Agreement on behalf of BEST with the operators of the quarry that will voluntarily provide for immediate resolution of a number of issues associated with the quarry operation, for regular inspection of the quarry and for ongoing dialogue between quarry operators, neighbors and appropriate City agencies.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

(Annexed hereto is the ordinance referred to.)

Assigned for further action.

DISAPPROVING ORDINANCE REGARDING INDOOR AIR QUALITY (DOCKET NO. 1050)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

August 21, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councilors:

I return herewith, without my signature and disapproved, an Ordinance passed by your Honorable Body on August 2, 1995, Docket No. 1050, regarding indoor air quality.

While the concern that sparked the proposal is commendable, the proposal itself lags behind the efforts my Administration has already taken to assure a safe and healthy environment in all of the City's schools, buildings and homes.

Indeed, the expertise of the existing Environmental Health Office of the Department of Health and Hospitals is frequently sought by both City and State agencies as well as other cities.

Further, I believe that the proposal would significantly increase personnel and administrative costs associated with indoor air quality monitoring without any appreciable concomitant increase in environmental health.

Finally, the proposed ordinance is unnecessary in light of the Department of Health and Hospitals' demonstrated commitment to work with all City agencies, including the School Department, to address the issues raised by the proposal.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

(Annexed hereto is the ordinance referred to.)

Assigned for further action.

REPORT ON RESOLUTION RE SECTION 108 LOAN GUARANTEES AT CROSSTOWN INDUSTRIAL PARK (DOCKET NO. 0645)

Coun. IANNELLA, on behalf of the Committee on Planning and Development, submitted the following:

Report on Docket No. 0645, resolution re Section 108 loan guarantee at Crosstown Industrial Park (referred April 12) — recommending that the resolution be adopted in the following new draft:

Whereas, The City of Boston desires to revitalize the economic and social life of its neighborhoods, including by encouraging private companies to create and expand job opportunities, especially those which are available to low- and moderate-income Boston residents; and

Whereas, The City has prepared an Empowerment Zone Strategic Plan that lays out a course of action for the revitalization of the South Boston, Roxbury, South End, Charlestown and Mattapan neighborhoods — known as the Empowerment Zone — and submitted that Plan to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD); and

Whereas, In response to that Plan, HUD has designated the City an Enhanced Enterprise Community and made available to it a number of incentives to encourage economic development, including $22 million in Section 108 loan guarantee funds and $22 million in Economic Development initiative grant funds; and

Whereas, The Harry Miller Company, a manufacturer of fabric products that has been doing business at various locations in the City of Boston for over 80 years, is seeking to expand its operations by building a new, larger and more efficient manufacturing facility in the Crosstown Industrial Park in the Roxbury section of the Empowerment Zone; and

Whereas, Construction of this facility will not only allow the Harry Miller Company to provide employment to an additional 59 primarily low- and moderate-income Boston residents, but it will also allow the Inner City Corporation — a subsidiary of Polaroid — to move into the Harry Miller Company's existing space, thereby providing jobs for another 100 low- and moderate-income people; and

Whereas, Because of the special problems and higher costs involved in construction and manufacturing in the Empowerment Zone, this project would not be feasible without the economic incentives provided through the Enhanced Enterprise Community program; and

Whereas, The Harry Miller Company has requested $1,496,500 in Section 108 loan guarantee funds and $1,496,500 in Economic Development Initiative grant funds to support the development of its new facility, therefore be it

Resolved, The Mayor and his designee are hereby authorized to submit to HUD an application for $1,496,500 in Section 108 loan guarantee funds for the Harry Miller Company and to act in connection with the application to provide such additional information as may be required by HUD; and therefore be it further

Resolved, The Mayor and his designees are further authorized to submit to HUD an application for $1,496,500 in Economic Development Initiative grant funds; and therefore be it further

Resolved, The Mayor and his designees are further authorized to expend whatever Section 108 loan guarantee funds and Economic Development Initiative grant funds are approved by HUD in accord with the approval documents and applicable laws and regulations; and therefore be it further Resolved, The Committee on Planning and Economic Development convene a hearing on this matter.

The report was accepted; the resolution in the new draft was adopted.

CROSSTOWN INDUSTRIAL PARK (DOCKET
NO. 0646)

Coun. IANNELLA, on behalf of the Committee on Planning and Development, submitted the following:

Report on Docket No. 0646, resolution regarding Crosstown Industrial Park (referred April 12) — recommending that the resolution be adopted in the following new draft:

Whereas, The Economic Development and Industrial Corporation of Boston ("EDIC"), at its meeting on March 30, 1995, voted to amend the Economic Development Plan for the Crosstown Industrial Park ("CTIP") to designate the Harry Miller Company as the developer of Parcel 2B; and

Whereas, It is now necessary that EDIC further amend the Economic Development Plan for CTIP to reflect a change in the designation from Parcel 2B to Parcel 1B; and

Whereas, Parcel 1B is bordered by Albany Street, Hampden Street and Melnea Cass Boulevard; and

Whereas, This change is necessitated by soil conditions on Parcel 2B and is consistent with the intent expressed by the EDIC at its meeting on March 30, 1995; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, concurs with the proposed amendment to the Economic Development Plan, subject to the terms and conditions voted upon by the EDIC Board and further subject to a confirmatory vote of the EDIC Board.

The report was accepted; the resolution in the new draft was adopted.

TRANSPORTATION DEPARTMENT OF CITY TO TAKE IMMEDIATE STEPS TO INSURE POSTING OF SIGNS AT EVERY SCHOOL AND PLAYGROUND IN BOSTON LOWERING
SPEED LIMIT TO 20 MILES AN HOUR
(DOCKET NO. 1232)

Coun. YANCEY, for all the Councillors, offered the following:

Whereas, The City of Boston has suffered a number of tragedies involving children being injured or killed around schools and playgrounds; and

Whereas, The speed limit around most of these schools and playgrounds is 30 MPH, unless otherwise posted; and

Whereas, A lower speed limit around schools and playgrounds is likely to reduce the incidence of fatalities involving children in the City of Boston; and

Whereas, A recent fatality near the Quincy School in the Chinatown section of Boston and another fatality near a playground in the Mission Hill area of Boston prompted many community residents and the Transportation Commissioner of the City of Boston to consider reducing the speed limit near such sites to 20 MPH, be it therefore Ordained, That the Transportation Commission of the City of Boston shall take immediate steps to insure that signs are posted at every school and playground in the City of Boston lowering the speed limit to 20 Miles Per Hour.

Referred to the Committee on Commerce and Transportation.

ORDER THAT MUNICIPAL POLICE OFFICERS
NOT BE DEPLOYED FROM PUBLIC HOUSING
ASSIGNMENTS TO FILL IN ON SITE
GUARD DUTY PATROLS GUARDING CITY
BUILDINGS (DOCKET NO. 1233)

Couns. CONLEY, KELLY, MODICA, HENNIGAN, YANCEY, O'NEIL, SAUNDERS, FEENEY, and KEANE offered the following:

Whereas, At a public hearing on Monday, August 21, 1995, the Committee on Public Safety heard testimony that Municipal Police Officers may be, and on occasion have been, shifted away from patrolling public housing developments in order to guard city buildings, such as School Department Headquarters; and

Whereas, The explanation given was that the Real Property Department has entered into Memoranda of Agreement with other city agencies to provide a watchman or security person at designated hours in certain buildings; and

Whereas, Committee members determined this to be poor public policy; and

Whereas, Public housing developments in Boston continue to need more, not less, public safety protection; and

Whereas, It would appear that other alternatives could be found to provide security desk duties when the need arises; therefore be it

Ordered, By the City Council that His Honor, the Mayor, instruct the proper officials of his administration that guarding of empty buildings is of lesser priority than providing public safety and policing services to residents of Boston's public housing developments; and be it further Ordered, That academy-trained Municipal Police Officers assigned to public housing patrol work not be shifted temporarily to other "on-site" duties, such as guarding empty buildings.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

MAYOR UNVEILS PEDESTRIAN SAFETY INITIATIVE

Mayor Thomas M. Menino recently unveiled a comprehensive pedestrian safety initiative to crack down on pedestrian fatalities and injuries from motor vehicle accidents. Highlights of the initiative include: legislation allowing Boston to use video cameras to enforce traffic violations, stepped up enforcement at the city's ten most dangerous intersections, the use of radar guns in school zones, and engineering improvements. Mayor Menino was joined by Police Commissioner Paul F. Evans and Transportation Commissioner Frank Tramontozzi at the intersection of Babcock Street and Commonwealth Avenue in Allston, where a monitoring video camera was set up last December as part of a pilot program.

Mayor Menino said, "Boston is known around the world as 'America's Walking City.' This initiative will maintain and enhance that reputation. But it will only be successful with the cooperation of everyone in Boston — drivers and pedestrians alike."

Legislation allowing the city to use video cameras to enforce traffic violations is the primary component of the initiative. The "Red Light Camera Legislation" was filed with the state last week and is currently in the House's Public Safety Committee.

The city's pilot program at the Babcock intersection recorded 158 violations within 24 hours. Each video camera costs approximately $10,000. Once the legislation is passed, the city anticipates installing approximately 100 cameras.

Police statistics from 1995 indicate that 38 people were killed due to motor vehicle accidents in Boston. Of those fatalities — more than 60 percent — were pedestrian. In 1995, 99 pedestrians were reported struck by motor vehicles.

The pedestrian safety plan also includes initiatives in the areas of enforcement, engineering and education. Highlights include:

Enforcement

Increased enforcement at the ten highest pedestrian accident locations in neighborhoods across the city;

- use of radar guns in new school zones;
- citing jay walkers; and
- additional School Traffic Supervisors.

Engineering

- increased signage around schools, elderly developments and hospitals;
- repainting crosswalks and lane markings; and
- redesigned traffic signals that allow pedestrians more time to cross.

Education

- safety information targeted toward the elderly, elementary school and college students and tourists; and
- locating safety information at crosswalk signals.

Commissioner Evans explained, "If I were to tell you that 8 children, school age and under, were victims of homicide by hand guns on the streets of this city last year, most people would be outraged and demand action. I am telling you that just as many children, school age and under, were killed on the streets of this city last year in automobile accidents, and we are doing something about it! Motorists and pedestrians must change their driving and walking behaviors. But our enforcement efforts and this legislation will enhance traffic safety for everyone."

Commissioner Tramontozzi added, "We're finding innovative ways to use technology to improve the safety of Boston's residents. The legislation that's been filed and our engineering improvements will bring our enforcement measures into the twenty-first century."

REMARKS OF MAYOR
THOMAS M. MENINO
PEDESTRIAN SAFETY
EVENT FEBRUARY 12, 1996

In Boston last year, 38 people were killed by motor vehicles. Of those fatalities, 24 of them — 60 percent — were pedestrians. Some of those killed were young, only in their teens. While others were some of our most cherished senior citizens.

Today, we are announcing the top ten intersections in the city where the majority of pedestrian accidents have occurred. People tend to think that this is a problem isolated to our busy downtown intersections — but the statistics show that it is not. It is a common problem in our neighborhoods. It is a problem that needs to be addressed.

We have come to Allston today to announce that technology will be the key to our efforts to compel drivers to slow down. We're here with the local State Representative, Kevin Honan, who is also the sponsor of the bill — House 5925 — that will allow us to use video cameras to monitor certain intersections around Boston.

Since last December, when this camera was installed here, we have recorded an incredible number of violations. Just take a look at the pictures. During the first twenty-four hours alone, it recorded 158 violations. And on the second day, the film ran out! The legislation that we are sponsoring, if passed, will allow us to issue civil violations to those offenders recorded on camera. In other cities around the country where these cameras have been used, statistics show that they work!

But it takes at least two parts to make an accident, and running a red light is only one-half of the problem. We have to make sure that our pedestrians act responsibly too. In light of last year's record, we examined our safety efforts of the past. We looked at what worked, and what didn't work. We examined what other cities have done and saw what worked there. And we came up with new initiatives of our own.

Throughout this process, two important points stood out:

- Education, and
- Engineering.

We will educate citizens, especially our students and our seniors, to give them the information they need to be safe. Signs on our buses and trains will raise awareness of the potential hazards on our streets. We will make sure our visitors and tourists, who bring so much to Boston, will get the safety information they need through our hotels and the Convention and Visitors Bureau. Increased information at our intersections and crosswalks — about traffic lights and "walk" signals, like this sign here — will provide that last-second reminder for drivers and walkers alike.

The Transportation Department of the City of Boston will review our current engineering issues and upgrade them as they see fit. In addition to those signs I just mentioned, we will make sure that our crosswalks and lane markings are upgraded and visible. We'll make sure those areas around our schools and community centers are especially protected.

All of these efforts will accomplish a great deal. But they will only be successful with the cooperation of everyone in Boston — drivers and pedestrians. There is only so much that we can do — we need the support of everyone. Keep safety in mind while you're driving and walking. Be courteous and be cautious.

Boston is known around the world as "America's Walking City." Our storied streets and sidewalks are lined with some of the great places of this nation's history. I not only want to maintain that reputation as "America's Walking City" in the years ahead, I want to enhance it. These efforts we are announcing today will help us to do just that.

REMARKS OF MAYOR
THOMAS M. MENINO
SOUTH BOSTON MAIN STREETS OPEN HOUSE
FEBRUARY 12, 1996

It was over ten years ago, as District City Councillor from Hyatt Park, that I approached the National Trust for Historic Preservation about revitalizing Roslindale Village — which saw businesses leaving, buildings falling into disrepair and neighbors wondering what to do about it.

It's been a long journey since that time and, as many of you know, the Main Street program brought Roslindale Village back! And when I became Mayor, I challenged the National Trust to spread that same success around Boston's other neighborhoods. That's why, last year, we were able to launch the first in a nation citywide Main Streets program in eleven of our local communities.

Today, we are celebrating the wonderful progress of the program in South Boston. Since Marsha Weinman was hired a few months ago, your group has done some great hings. From the opening of this office and the organization of residents, to the "Buy it in Boston" campaign and a new Board of Directors — South Boston is making Main Street a reality.

But the work has just begun! With an aggressive workplan for building and facade improvements, a recruitment plan for new businesses and a marketing plan to bring customers to East and West Broadway, it's only a matter of time before the South Boston Main Street is a bustling center of thriving small businesses.

I am pleased that the City of Boston is supporting the South Boston Main Street with $213,000, which I consider a great investment in the future of this neighborhood and the entire city. I also want to recognize South Boston's "good neighbor" — Massport — for their contribution of $15,000 to this program.

Neighborhood pride has never been an issue in South Boston. Here at the Main Streets office and along Broadway, you have the visible evidence of what pride in your neighborhood can accomplish. I look forward to coming back here to see not only this wonderful new office again, but the new shops and businesses that are bringing people together from all over South Boston.

Thank you.

REMARKS OF MAYOR THOMAS M. MENINO ANNOUNCEMENT OF 1995 PART ONE CRIME STATISTICS FEBRUARY 19, 1996

Today, on this Presidents' Day, we have even more cause for celebration here in Boston. In addition to paying tribute to Washington, Lincoln, and other great leaders of this nation, we also pay tribute today to the crime-fighting effort that is working here in Boston!

I am pleased to join Commissioner Evans and the entire Boston Police Department in releasing the statistics for Part One crimes during 1995. As you will see, the news is exceptionally good. The numbers tell us that community policing is making a real, tangible difference on our streets and in our neighborhoods. Thanks to police officers, prosecutors, and residents who are doing their share, Boston has become a safer place to live and work.

Compared to 1994, this past year saw a significant decrease in major crime.

In particular:

- The overall Part One crime figure decreased for the sixth straight year — and is now the lowest it's been in twenty years.
- That means the number of victims of serious crime dropped by more than 800 people compared to the year before.
- And violent crime — homicide, rape, robbery, and assault — also saw a significant decrease of ten percent from 1994.

These numbers are proof that Boston is a city with a bright future. While other major cities around the country are experiencing a rise in crime, we are turning back the clocks and reclaiming our streets from criminals.

As Mayor, I am most proud of the fact that this has been a collaborative effort from every corner of the city. Here in Boston, we know that fighting crime is not the job of the police force alone. Everyone — parents, young people, educators, clergy, business people, and seniors — must play a role for this effort to succeed. These statistics tell us that everyone is doing their share — and we are making tremendous progress.

To everyone in Boston I say, let's keep up the good work. Continue to make community policing work in your neighborhood. If we all get involved and stay involved, I have no doubt that these numbers will continue to drop next year and for many years to come.

Thank you.

MAYOR MENINO TAPS SANDRA HENRIQUEZ TO HEAD HOUSING AUTHORITY

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has appointed Sandra Brooks Henriquez as administrator of the Boston Housing Authority. Henriquez succeeds David Cortiella, who resigned as BHA administrator in November, 1994.

Mayor Menino said, "Sandi's appointment to the BHA is backed by her broad range of skills and successes in public housing — from managing developments to financing and implementing capital improvements, from strengthening tenants' groups to regulating tenant selection and transfers. The residents of Boston's public housing developments are the real winners today. They are getting a strong advocate in Sandi."

Henriquez added, "What I want to bring to the BHA is a new way of thinking about how we do business. The business of public housing is a customer service business, in which the tenants are the consumers. We have to be mindful of that in everything we do. Truly you effect the greatest change when officials and tenants work together."

Henriquez has worked since 1986 at Maloney Properties, Inc., a private housing management company that was selected to manage one of the BHA's elderly housing developments. While at Maloney Properties, Henriquez managed the affordable housing portfolio and most recently served as the vice-president of marketing and business development. Her duties entailed overseeing the management of urban elderly, handicapped and family housing facilities, including the financing of capital improvements and contractual management services.

Previously, Henriquez served for three years as director of housing management and tenant services for the state's Executive Office of Communities and Development. She monitored the regulatory compliance of approximately 250 public housing authorities and oversaw $60 million in operating budgets. Henriquez also worked with statewide tenants' organizations to strengthen their involvement with the state. In addition to troubleshooting issues for local housing authorities, Henriquez helped author state regulations for tenant selection and tenant transfer.

Prior to her tenure with the state, Henriquez served for three years as assistant director of field management for the BHA, where she monitored private management of 1,000 public housing units, reviewed new construction and substantial rehab plans for developments, and helped implement development-specific budgeting and capital planning procedures.

Henriquez, a graduate of Boston University who lives in Dorchester, also serves as board director for the Association for Resident Control of Housing (ARCH) and is a member of the New England Black Property Managers Forum. She will begin at the BHA in mid-March with an annual salary of $90,000.

REMARKS OF MAYOR THOMAS M. MENINO "RESISTING ARREST" ANNOUNCEMENT FEBRUARY 20, 1996

Today, we have come to Boston Police Headquarters to mark another step in our efforts to fight crime in Massachusetts. The legislation that goes into effect today will have a great impact on public safety throughout the state — from the Back Bay to the Berkshires — and for that, I am very proud.

You know, it's one thing to talk about improving public safety. It's easy to say that we're committed to getting crime off our streets. But it's not always so easy to take steps that actually help fight crime. Well here in Boston, and throughout the Commonwealth, we back up our words with action. We are determined to initiate programs and pass laws that make a real difference in the fight against crime.

The legislation that we put into effect here today is a fine example of that commitment. Many different groups — with many different interests — have rallied around this issue to make the "resisting arrest" law a reality. No police department can succeed without laws that protect and respect the men and women who are the key players in this effort — our police officers. This new law sends a clear message to criminals that resisting arrest cannot and will not be tolerated.

I want to thank all of the state and local officials who have worked together to enact this law. I especially want to thank Commissioner Evans and all of the police officer associations throughout Massachusetts who have devoted so much time and energy to this effort over the past two years. All of you have made a tremendous contribution to our fight against crime. The effect of this legislation will be felt here in Boston — and across the state — for many years to come.

Thank you.

Proceedings of City Council

Wednesday, September 13, 1995

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Christopher A. Iannella Council Chamber, City Hall, at 4 p.m., President KELLY in the chair and all the members present.

DISAPPROVING ORDER APPROVING DEPLOYMENT OF CERTAIN MUNICIPAL POLICE OFFICERS (DOCKET NO. 1233)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

September 11, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I return herewith, unsigned and disapproved, an Order passed by your Honorable Body on August 23, 1995, Docket No. 1233, which purports to provide for the deployment of certain Municipal Police Officers.

This veto is required by the City Charter's prohibition against the City Council becoming involved in the executive or administrative business of the City, St. 1948, c.452, sec. 17G.

Despite this veto, I share the City Council's concern that highly trained Municipal Police Officers have been assigned in some instances to security duties that could be performed by other individuals. It has always been the policy of my Administration to maximize the efficiency of all public safety operations, including security, law enforcement and policing efforts.

I have asked Police Commissioner Paul Evans to consult with Basic Services Chief Michael Galvin to develop and implement a security plan that will provide maximum utilization of all of the City's public safety personnel in the most appropriate manner possible.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

(Annexed hereto is the order referred to.)

DOCKET NO. 1206. TENANT SELECTION OF OLD WEST END HOUSING LAW COR-PORATION (DOCKET 1256)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Law Department

September 12, 1995

The Honorable James M. Kelly

President, Boston City Council.

Re City Council Docket No. 1206

Dear Mr. President:

I write in response to a Resolution passed by the City Council on August 16, 1995, Docket No. 1206, which purports to request and direct me to prepare and submit to the City Council a legal opinion regarding the West End Urban Renewal Project, generally, and specifically addressing the following questions:

1. Under what theory or argument does the consent decree above-referenced bind the developer of the West End/Lowell Square parcel.
2. In the event the developer is thought to be bound by that decree, how is the absolute preference for displaced persons to be resolved?
3. Does the City have the ability to modify the housing strategy to account for the obviously overlooked preference for displaced West Enders?
4. In the event resolution of these competing requirements is impossible and the City cannot amend the housing strategy itself, what parties have standing to modify the strategy by mutual agreement or to modify the decree by mutual agreement?
5. In the event resolution of these competing requirements is impossible and the City cannot amend the housing strategy by itself or by agreement of the parties, and the parties are unable or unwilling to modify the decree by mutual agreement, what parties have standing to seek to modify the decree by application to the court?
6. By what procedure can the Old West End Housing Corporation become a party to the legal action in order to seek modification of the decree, if need be?

With regard to the Council's specific requests relative to the terms of a development designation by the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) of a third party as developer of an urban renewal parcel, it would not be appropriate for me to render a formal legal opinion as the BRA is a separate body corporate and politic as a matter of state law. G.L. c.121B s.1 et seq., St. 1960, c.652. The same considerations would apply with respect to the Boston Housing Authority (BHA). Id.

Further, it would be inappropriate for the Corporation Counsel to render a formal opinion regarding the legal rights and remedies of a private entity such as the Old West End Housing Corporation. Such an entity must rely upon the advice provided by its own legal counsel.

Although I must respectfully decline, based upon the foregoing, to discuss the specific issues posed by the Council in a formal opinion, I note that preferences to be given in the selection of tenants for low-rent housing are defined entirely by statute. Specifically, G.L. c.121B, s.44 provides for preferences in the following order:

(First to families with four or more minor dependents, then to families displaced by public action, then to elderly persons of low income or families of low income of which one or more persons is handicapped; provided, however, that in the case of any project financially assisted by the federal government, preference shall be given in the selection of tenants in whatever manner is

(Emphasis supplied.)

Parsing the foregoing provision indicates that there is no absolute preference under state law to be given to those displaced by urban renewal. The Council's request, however, suggests that displaced former tenants are given absolute preference under federal law. The Resolution further suggests that a subsequent consent decree entered in federal court may be in conflict with a preference given to those displaced by urban renewal.

I note that a consent decree entered in a federal court is a judgment of the court. F.R.C.P., Rule 54. As such, a consent decree is a binding statement of the law. It is one of the oldest and most enduring axioms of law in America that "(i)t is, emphatically, the province and duty of the judicial department, to say what the law is. Those who apply the rule to particular cases, must of necessity expound and interpret that rule. If two laws conflict with each other, the courts must decide on the operation of each." Marbury v. Madison, U.S. Supreme Court, February Term, 1803.

Finally, consent decrees applicable to the BRA, the BHA and/or the City of Boston are statements of the law that must be followed by those agencies in all areas that are covered by the terms of the decrees, including the agencies' dealings with third parties.

Sincerely,

Merita A. Hopkins,
Corporation Counsel.

Referred to the Committee on Planning and Development.

Because the City Council is a separate branch of City government many of the rules and regulations that apply to other departments do not apply to the City Council. In addition, because of the unique nature of the City Council's mission — to serve as the legislative branch of city government — there are a number of procedures which are unique to the Council and this manual attempts to set policy and standardize those procedures in order to ensure that the Council operates in both an efficient and cost effective manner. This manual is conceived to be an evolving document, able to accommodate changes and amendments as the Council directs.
